Today

Grant's Birthday
H. and H. Good Team
Pity Poor Peansy
Why Are Unions?

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1921.

Springfield, Illinois, celebrated yesterday the ninety-ninth anniversary of General Grant's birth. Although a West Point man, he was rejected three times before he finally managed to get into the army and the fight which, next to Lincoln, he did most to win.

We know the few great men that, in spite of official stupidity and indifference, have achieved success. Only the recording angel knows the army of great men that stupidity overcame and kept back.

When Mr. Hughes went to work for the country he gave up a professional income of more than two hundred thousand a year. How many thousands of millions will his services be worth to the world if he succeeds, as representative of the President, in solving Europe's indemnity problem?

There can be no real resumption of business in the world until the war is settled and all attention concentrated on production and reconstruction. With President Harding and Secretary Hughes this country now deals with Europe through minds that know what they want and understand the problem. It is a fortunate thing for the world.

For the first time in twenty-two years the Pennsylvania railroad cuts dividends. It had laid off thousands of men. Its freight and passenger rates are by far the highest in twenty-two years. High rates do not always pay. The public also must be considered.

This cutting of the Pennsylvania dividend is all the more important because that railroad has been one of the best managed in America.

Governor Allen of Kansas again attacks the closed shop, by which he means the labor union. It has introduced the un-American principle of putting as little as possible into life, and taking as much as possible out of life, says he.

Governor Allen never worked hard in a shop, and doesn't know much about unions. The union was established to enable workmen to get a little something out of life besides the hard work that makes a bare living for workers and profit for others.

It is difficult to argue soundly on the tariff. Many object to a tariff on tooth-brushes. "It would cut the tooth-brush out of the reach of many poor children." There is something to that. On the other hand, if you have free competition of labor, which is free trade, and throw all American markets open to the cheapest bidder, you may put jobs and food beyond the reach of many poor men.

Not to have a tooth-brush for your teeth is sad, but not to have food for those teeth is sadder. The dentist may repair early lack of a tooth-brush, but not early lack of food.

Publishers and editors, gathered most solemnly in New York, say that "the period of depression has passed." Good news and important if true. But Mooney, of Memphis, tells the story about the colored brother, "hunting rabbits on shares with a borrowed dog," and says that represents business conditions caused by the slump in cotton. As long as we can't sell to foreign countries, because they can't afford to buy from us, the depression will not have passed.

The British Government offers, out of the public pocket, thirty-million dollars a year to keep up miners' wages and prevent strikes that ruin industry. Many Americans with more money than common sense will be shocked at this "subsidizing of labor." Is subsidizing labor, and GETTING SOMETHING for your subsidy, worse than subsidizing shipping, railroads, etc., with excessive rates that the public must pay?

A man in America is cooking beans and other food, nicely, so he says, in a patent stove, using only heat of the sun. That will come in a practical way, when we are ready and fit for it. It is silly to light little fires to do our cooking when a great central fire is burning all day long overhaul.

France, as a government enterprise, has undertaken to harness the tide power of the Atlantic ocean. That also is coming. To burn coal, heat water, create steam into electricity to get power is preposterous, when the moon, our servant, traveling with us, lifts up and lets down the ocean every day, creating enough power to supply a hundred planets such as this. The French expect to get, by one tide-harnessing operation, a continuous steam to produce forty-thousand horsepower.

That's the way to solve the coal mining problem. Let tides and water-falls now, the great sun later, do your work.

GERMANY'S OFFER REJECTED BY ALLIES

U. S. WEATHER FORECAST, NOON
Fair; not much change in temperature tonight and Friday; moderate east winds.
Sun rises 5:45 a. m.; sets 7:39 p. m.
Moon rises 1:01 a. m.
High tide, 4:15 a. m.; 3 p. m.
Light all vehicles at 8:10 p. m.
Temperatures at 10 a. m.: Maximum, 57 at 10 a. m.; minimum, 32 at 2 a. m.; average, 54.5. Temperature at 11 a. m., 56.

BOSTON AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

10 P.M. EDITION

VOL. 18—No. 34 BOSTON, THURSDAY, APRIL 28, 1921 PRICE THREE CENTS

Copyright, 1921, by the International News Service.
Copyright, 1921, by the International Newspaper Pub. Co.
Registered U. S. Patent Office

LABOR MEN PROBE GOMPERS' 'NON-UNION' HONEYMOON

ADAMS AND DOW CALLED

BRIGHTWELL GUILTY; WIFE IS FREED

ANSWERED BY LLOYD GEORGE

Allies Unanimously Declare German Offer Inadequate, Says British Premier

By International News Service.

London, April 28.—The German indemnity proposals are unanimously considered inadequate by the allies, Premier Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Ambassador Summoned From Berlin to London

Berlin, April 28.—Lord d'Abernon, the British Ambassador to Germany, has been recalled to London in connection with the new German indemnity proposals.

He conferred today with Dr. Walter Simons, the German Foreign Minister, to secure a detailed explanation of the German offer.

Lord Kilmarnock of the British mission received orders from London to confer with Ellis Loring Dresel, the United States commissioner, who forwarded the German note to Washington.

$10,000 FOUND ON WOUNDED BANDIT

Erie, Pa., Apr. 28.—Charles Cherle, with many aliases, an alleged bank robber, is in Hamot Hospital shot through the body following a gun battle with police here, in the battle Detective-Sergeant Cacakowski was wounded. At the hospital a money belt containing $10,000 was found on Cherle.

$50 Reward Offered For Draft Dodgers

Washington, April 28.—Fifty dollars will be paid any civil officer or other citizen for the apprehension and delivery to military control of any draft evader, the War Department announced in making public for the first time a copy of the draft-evader form upon which names of those who evaded the selective service are about to be published.

The list will be given out from the headquarters of the various corps areas.

Secretary of War Weeks has announced that the opinion of Attorney General Daugherty is favorable to the publication of the list and that they will be given to the press shortly.

PONZI PRODUCED BY SHERIFF

Blake's Action Ends Wrangle; Swindler's Case Put Off Week to Settle Disputed Point

The controversy between Sheriff Earl P. Blake of Plymouth County Jail and the local civil authorities was ended today when Charles Ponzi, get-rich-quick promoter, was produced in the Superior Court.

Ponzi appeared in response to a writ of habeas corpus after Sheriff Blake had been adjudged in contempt of court by Judge Fessenden for refusing to produce the prisoner.

Today's proceedings were brief. Judge Fessenden ordered an entry that Ponzi was present, then continuing the case for one week.

This action was taken in order to permit Ponzi's counsel to raise the question of jurisdiction. Ponzi, who is now serving a Federal sentence, was returned to Plymouth Jail.

It is expected that on Tuesday, unless a stay of proceedings is secured by counsel, Ponzi will be arraigned on several of twenty-two indictments now pending, charging larceny in several hundred counts. As the alleged larcenies were from small depositors the aggregate amount is only $50,000.

UNIONISTS AROUSED

Federation Officials Say Gompers and Bride Stopped at Non-Union Hotel

Detroit, Mich., April 28.—The Detroit Federation of Labor has appointed a committee to investigate Samuel Gompers' honeymoon, it was learned today.

This action was taken after it had been charged that Gompers and his bride registered at a non-union hotel that his food was prepared by non-union cooks and that he was served by non-union waiters.

If the committee finds Mr. Gompers "guilty" he will be asked for an explanation.

CAR II ON LAST LEG OF SPEED TEST TO NEW YORK

Norfolk, Va., April 28.—Despite unfavorable weather conditions, Gar Wood, piloting his speed boat Gar II, Jr., left Hampton Roads at 6 o'clock this morning on the last leg of his voyage to New York. He hopes to complete it in ten hours. He still has twelve hours in which to reach New York in faster actual running time than the Atlantic coast line train which left Miami at the same time he did. Wood has covered 902 miles in thirty-four hours.

ACQUIT 3 IN DETROIT EXCHANGE TRIAL

Brightwell, R. M. Meyers Convicted; Mrs. Brightwell, C. F. Myers, Bouchie, Not Guilty

The jury in the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company investigation today returned a verdict of guilty of conspiracy and larceny against Charles M. Brightwell, president of the company, and Raymond M. Meyers, secretary.

Mrs. Katherine W. Brightwell, wife of the president; Charles Fred Meyers, sales agent, and William H. Bouchie, editor, were found not guilty.

The verdict was reached after twenty hours' deliberation.

Brightwell was found guilty on six counts of larceny and Raymond Meyers on nine counts, in addition to a conspiracy charges.

The jury agreed at 3 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Brightwell fainted after the verdict was read.

Brightwell and Raymond Meyers were each found not guilty of being accessories before the fact of larceny. They were eight such counts against Brightwell and five against Meyers.

Assistant Attorney-General Barton moved for an increase of bail for both defendants. That of Brightwell was increased from $10,000 to $17,500 and Meyers' from $5,000 to $6,000.

Young Threatened to Drop "L" Control Bill

Benjamin Loring Young, speaker of the House, testified today before the Elevated investigation committee that in 1918 he had warned Robert Winsor, the banker, that unless amendments were made to the Public Control Bill in accordance with public interest he would no longer support the measure.

Young was then chairman of the sub-committee in charge of the bill. He detailed more than thirty decisive roads in the meaning of the suggestion of former Governor McCall, H. U. Attwill, then Attorney-General; Public Service Commissioner Joseph B. Eastman and the late Henry B. Endicott, at the time executive manager of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety.

The inside story of how former Governor Samuel W. McCall, standing firm as Gibraltar, fought off the claims of the Elevated interests to bargain with the State and how the

Continued on Page 6, Column 1.

Wedding Plans Upset by Quarantine Ban

Miss Maria Tirelli, Italian girl who came to wed Medford man, detained by port regulations.

Dan Cupid, just as his well-laid plans seemed on the point of working out nicely, has run into a maze of red tape and quarantine regulations.

Miss Maria Tirelli, who came all the way from Milano, Italy, to become the bride of George H. Smith of Medford, is the immediate victim of the new quarantine rule which provided for individual examination of all second class and steerage passengers.

That rule played havoc with the Tirelli-Smith wedding plans and incidentally it ruined the chances of the White Star liner Cretic to establish a new record from Naples and Genoa to this port.

Smith went to the dock to meet his fiancee, only to find Cupid, as stated before, struggling vainly with the meshes of red tape. So the wedding will have to wait until the doctors finish.

TO TESTIFY AT LOUD PROBE

Father and Husband of Woman Mentioned in Case Appear Before Grand Jury

Ex-Mayor Charles H. Adams of Melrose and Carl P. Dow, his son-in-law, appeared at East Cambridge today when the Grand Jury began taking evidence in the case of the State against Clarence W. Loud, charged with the murder of Patrolman James A. Preston.

Adams and Dow were among the first to arrive at the Courthouse.

It was reported both had been called to testify.

They were met by Attorney Arthur Whalen, who is associated with ex-Senator Claude L. Allen of Melrose.

Ex-Senator Allen acted as counsel for Mrs. Dow, when she was questioned by District Attorney Nathan A. Yotte.

Dow and Mr. Adams, father of Mrs. Dow, had a brief conference with Attorney Whalen. Following that conference, Dow took up a position in the corridor, close to the Grand Jury room.

Hundreds of persons, attracted by curiosity, lined the corridors and the nearby streets as the Grand Jury began its deliberations.

Judge Callahan, presiding at a divorce session, briefly charged the jurors. Yotte in person began presentation of the State's case.

LOUD GUEST TESTIFIES

Douglass Vaughan, one of those at the card party at the home of Mrs. Carl Dow the night Patrolman Preston was shot, was the first witness.

Medical Examiner Horace D. Dodge of the Wakefield-Melrose district and Dr. Malvin McLeod of Melrose were the next witnesses.

A witness not previously mentioned was next, he the boson of William M. Robinson, president of the Hill-

Continued on Page 9, Column 2.

MAN HURLED FROM CAR BREAKS OFF GAS PUMP

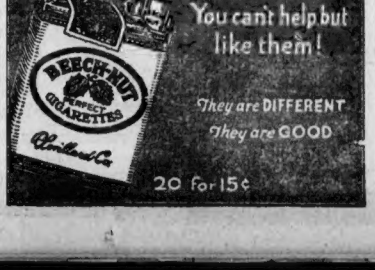
Hurled from his machine against a gasoline pump with such force that he broke it off, George Pinto, of North Reading, is at a Wilmington hospital suffering from serious cuts and a possible fracture of the skull, as the result of a collision on Main street, North Reading, in which Pinto's car was lifted from the roadway by a heavy machine driven by Lorenzo Giovanni, of Lawrence. Giovanni, whom the police say did not have an automobile license, was held for district court in Woburn.

SCHWAB LAUGHED AT $250,000,000 BRIBE OFFERS

New York, April 28.—Germany offered Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, a $100,000,000 bribe if he would break his war contracts with Lord Kitchener, England learned of this and countered with an offer of $150,000,000. Mr. Schwab laughed and said Germany and England together had not enough money to make him break with Kitchener" This episode of the World War was related today by Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York at a testimonial "integrity" reception tendered Schwab.

BATTING ORDER

RED SOX.	ATHLETICS.
Vitt, 3b.	Dykes, 2b.
Menosky, l.f.	Witt, r.f.
Hendryx, r.f.	Dugan, 3b.
Pratt, 2b.	Brazill, 1b.
Collins, c.f.	C. Walker, l.f.
McInnis, 1b	Perkins, c.
Scott, s.s.	Welsh, c.f.
Ruel, c.	Galloway, s.s.
Bush p.	Perry p.



Title Test Parcels

Must be in the mail not later than 12 o'clock midnight, Friday night, April 29th.

Must be fully prepaid at letter (first class) postage rates.

Parcels which come to us "Postage Due" will not be considered in the making of awards.

GEN. CROZIER AND BRIDE PICK SMUTS TO SETTLE IRISH PROBLEM

PLEAD WITH PARLIAMENT TO FORWARD THEIR PROJECT

By International News Service.

London, April 28.—An immediate movement for the settlement of the Irish trouble through mediation by Premier Jan Christian Smuts of South Africa is the aim of a campaign launched today by Brigadier-General F. P. Crozier, organized of the Black and Tan police, who resigned from the force after refusing to reinstate members who had been dismissed for looting.

General Crozier was married here yesterday to Miss Grace Roberts, a beautiful Irish girl. They started their honeymoon by interviewing members of Parliament to have the mediation proposal forwarded during this afternoon's debate upon Irish estimates.

"The moderate Sinn Feiners are being ignored by the government," said Crozier. "This is a mistake. The moderate Sinn Feiners are in a receptive mood for a settlement. There should be a speedy truce. Give Ireland dominion home rule. Then strategic protection of the British Isles can be arranged. Let Ulster province do as she likes. It is only a matter of time till she comes in. Above all we must not have any Englishman, Scotchman or Welshman give the government terms. They are not trusted. They are hated.

"Let them select one of the dominion premiers at the forthcoming imperial conference, preferably General Smuts. Failing to get General Smuts, let them select Mr. Hughes, Prime Minister of Australia. I believe that Eamonn de Valera would accept a dominion form of government."

EDWARD PACKARD DIES IN BROOKLYN

Edward Packard, who was born in Roxbury in 1840, of an old New England family, and began his business career in Boston, is dead at his home, No. 241 Henry street, Brooklyn, N. Y. His death was due to an attack of influenza. Packard was the first president of the Franklin Trust Company, New York, and for many years a member of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. He left the firm of J. M. Beebe, Boston, in 1865 to become purchasing agent for A. T. Stewart & Co. in New York. He leaves a widow and three daughters.

Smuggle Show Girl Thief Out of Court

Clara Carroll, stage beauty, who confessed to theft of $5,000 diamond studded platinum bracelet from a fellow member of the same company, and Somerset street entrance to the City Prison, showing auto with shades drawn in which she was spirited away from newspaper men and court photographers, through the aid of court officials and police officers.

There will be no more "special favors" for Clara Carroll, pretty show girl, when she comes before Judge Dowd in the Municipal Court April 30, on a charge of stealing a $5,000 diamond studded platinum bracelet from a fellow actress in the "Two Little Girls in Blue" company.

The Judge himself has made that very plain following the smuggling out of the court and the city prison, by court officials and police officers, of the pretty girl, who has confessed the theft.

SEEK TO PROTECT GIRL.

Efforts to "protect" Miss Carroll from the newspaper reporters and photographers began even before she was arraigned in Judge Dowd's court. With her attorney, Edward C. Creed, and Special Officer John A. Sullivan and Miss Patricia Clark, the owner of the stolen bracelet, Miss Carroll was taken to the probation room for a "conference."

While secreted in that room efforts were made to reach some sort of a settlement on a basis of restitution of approximately $2000, which Miss Clark declared she had been forced to pay detectives and others to aid in the hunt for the bracelet.

Miss Carroll was unable to pay the full amount demanded, but agreed to give $50 at once and the rest when possible. After this was settled she was taken to the court room and pleaded guilty to the charge, after an attempt was made to have the hearing turned into a "star chamber session".

BAILED IN $2000

Instead of placing her on probation, as her attorney requested, Judge Dowd set Saturday for hearing the case.

On leaving the court room with her attorney and Michael R. Nazzaro, who furnished her $5,000 bail, she became alarmed at the sight of newspaper reporters and photographers waiting at the end of the court hallway.

The trio, aided by a court official dodged the waiting newspaper men and cameras by turning down a side passageway, passed through a heavy iron door opening upon a covered passageway which leads to the City Prison.

From a window in the prison they again spied the newspaper men to whom Nazzaro called out:

"It won't do you any good, boys—just you wait."

RIDES IN CURTAINED AUTO.

A few moments later the heavy main entrance gates of the prison swung open and Nazzaro's limousine the heavy curtains closely drawn, drove into the prison yard. The doors swung shut. Another period of waiting and they opened again to allow the prison van to drive out.

Hardly had they cleared the way when the limousine bearing Miss Carroll and Nazzaro, the curtains still drawn, dashed out into Somerset street at a high speed and disappeared around the corner.

This is the second time within a few days that court officials and police have united to "protect" confessed thieves from questioning by newspaper men, or snapshotting by newspaper photographers.

The first time was when Thomas J. O'Daly, confessed embezzler of $40,000 of the city's funds, was rushed through a passageway to a waiting automobile and whisked away before a camera could click.

HARDING HOPES FOR PEACE

Middlesex Club Diners, Celebrating Grant's Birthday, Receive Message From Him

The following hope for world peace sent to the Middlesex Club by President Harding was read by Louis A. Coolidge at the club's dinner, held at the Hotel Somerset on the occasion of the club's celebration of General Grant's birthday.

"The world has had nominal peace for a considerable period now, without many of the advantages and benefits of peace. It never needed the substance of truth and peace more than it does today.

"I have no more earnest hope than that in the not very distant future our government may be able to effect real accomplishments in this direction. Meanwhile, please extend the assurances of my great regard to the members of the Middlesex Club and say to them that their co-operation in every effort that will bring to us the fact, the assurance and the permanence of peace will be highly appreciated."

The dinner, which celebrated the ninety-ninth anniversary of the birth of General Grant, was largely attended, and among the guests were men prominent in the military and political life of the country. The speakers included former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, Rear Admiral Samuel S. Robison, commandant of the Charlestown Navy Yard; Brigadier General Albert Wolgel and Mark L. Horsey, Major Frank Knox of Manchester, the Rev. Charles Wadsworth, Jr., of Philadelphia, Judge Michael J. Murray and Colonel W. J. Keville.

VETERANS IN MILLS TO GET STAFF OF COLORS

Lawrence, April 28. — Ex-service men in the four Lawrence mills of the American Woolen Company will be presented with a staff of colors, Saturday afternoon, May 7, by William M. Wood, president of the company, at his home, "Arden," in Andover. The men have formed a club in which there are several hundred members.

LOCAL BREVITIES

A public protest meeting requesting "L" officials to institute a five-cent car fare system in Park square, Boston, will be held at the Lowell School Hall, Jamaica Plain, tonight.

* * *

The Castilian Club had a reception and luncheon at the Hotel Bankmeier in observance of the 100th anniversary of the discontinuance of the Spanish Inquisition. Invited were Mrs. Rebecca N. Jones, Mrs. Mary W. Savage, Lieutenant Mason B. Mitchell, Miss Katherine Lee Bates, Professor Charles F. Fay, Mrs. Mary F. Mutter, Mrs. Herbert W. Drew and Mrs. Bradbee Barton.

* * *

The House of Representatives refused to order to a third reading the bill relieving street railway companies from the payment of the excise and compensation tax. Representatives Lemasney and Hare led the fight against the bill.

* * *

Dr. Willard A. Faul of Weston, speaking at a meeting of the Twentieth Century Club in the Parish of Unitarians declared that it would not be realized in this country would still be a English colony.

* * *

The annual Spring fete of the members of the Legion of Valor was held at the Copley Plaza Hotel was attended by more than 1,000 persons.

* * *

Dedication exercises at the laying of the corner stone of the new Children's Hospital in the Fenway are being held today.

* * *

Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore" will be presented in the auditorium of the Mt. Vernon Congregational Church tomorrow evening.

* * *

Two big Scout clean-up parades will be held Saturday afternoon, one in the South section and one in Roxbury and Dorchester.

* * *

Rev. Abraham M. Rihbany, ten years pastor of the Church of the Disciples, was presented with a clock by his parishioners at the annual meeting.

* * *

No action was taken by the Brookline School Committee on the question of building a new high school.

* * *

Wellington Wells, chairman of the Committee on Banks and Banking of the Senate, addressed a dinner and conference of the Associated Savings Trust Companies of Massachusetts at the Boston City Club.

* * *

The 47th postponement of the public hearing on the discharge of Dr. David D. Scully from the health department is announced by Health Commissioner Woodward. The hearing is now set for next Thursday.

FIGHT TO AVERT R. R. WAGE CUT

Jewell for Employes Denies Employers' Claim of Reduced Cost of Living

Chicago, April 28.—Challenging the claim of the employers that declining costs of living justify wage reductions, the railway employes today contended before the United States Railway Labor Board that there was no sound basis for cuts in pay.

B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor outlined the contentions labor will advance to retain the present wage scale.

"No justification can be found in ethics, in economic reason or in the cold concrete facts of present-day industrial life and activity," Jewell told the board, "to support the board in making any change in the existing rates of pay to railroad employes."

Two considerations to be dealt with in determining rates were cited by Jewell. The first, he said, is prevailing wages rates in similar industries, and the second changes in the cost of living.

Coal mining and the steel industries, Jewell asserted, are the only industries comparable to the railroads, in neither of these, he declared, have there been any wage reductions.

MOVE TO EXEMPT U. S. SHIPS FROM DRY BAN

Washington, April 28.—Another fight for the exemption of American passenger ships from the provisions of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act to enable them to compete with liners under foreign registry has been started in the House by Representative Edmunds of Pennsylvania.

Coolidge Luckiest Man, Says Lawyer

"Calvin Coolidge is the luckiest man that ever lived," declared William H. Brooks of Holyoke, a prominent lawyer, in attacking the former governor at a hearing before the legislative committee on roads and bridges on the bill reapportioning the cost of a bridge over the Connecticut at Springfield.

A similar bill passed both branches of the Legislature in the special session last December, but was vetoed by Governor Coolidge in the last hour of the session.

"The opponents of this bill," said Brooks, "have praised Calvin Coolidge, a good man, but I do not think the greatest man who has ever lived. But he is a great politician; he has worked that field to the limit and is now reaping his reward."

BOY MAIL BANDIT GETS 25 YEARS

Fatally Shot Clerk and Robbed Train of $50,000 in Currency

Minneapolis, Minn., April 28.—Delbert Smith, nineteen-year-old train bandit of St. Paul, who held up and robbed a mail car of the Northern Pacific's North Coast Limited of $50,000 in currency near St. Cloud, Minn., on the night of February 18, when he shot and fatally wounded a mail clerk, was sentenced to serve twenty-five years in the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth by Judge Paige Morris in Federal Court here.

ACTRESS WAS TO WED MAN WHO WILLED HER RICHES

Pittsburgh, April 28.—Miss Carroll McComas, of New oYrk, star of "Miss Lulu Bett," named as sole beneficiary under the will of Howard J. Flannery, wealthy young clubman of Pittsburgh, who died in New York December 24 last year, was to have become the wife of the Pittsburgher some time this year. This was revealed today by Mrs. James A. Flannery, mother of the deceased. Young Flannery's estate is believed to run into the millions.

Filene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT

just bought!

entire stock of The Fashion Store Troy, N.Y. ready Friday at 9

Clothes for women from a Troy, New York, specialty shop—and because many are out of season (such as fur trimmed suits for $10) you get them at prices made so LOW by our hard and fast automatic rule that they'll sell quickly before markdowns of ¼ after 12 selling days, ⅓ after 18 selling days, ½ after 24 selling days. Goods given away after 30 selling days. Come EARLY to get coats—dresses—suits

even coats for $3, dresses for $2.95, etc., and just as extraordinary bargains in sweaters, furs, suits, skirts not from above lots but just as unusual

"480 2nds" of good J.C.C. corsets $1

Plain, few brocaded materials, back or front lace corsets—pink or white—average, slender or stout figure models—high, medium or low bust styles—some with elastic inserts or tops and all sizes 20 to 30, few larger, in lot for a dollar bill!

not from the above but just as unusual

twelve-button long white chamoisuede gloves for women one dollar

Soft and velvety to the touch just like suede—and much more economical because you can keep them clean yourself. 12-button length that meets short sleeves, with neat embroidered black backs. Savings to go with with summery frocks.

women's silk plush scarfs $4.95

automatic plan
Forces first low prices or they drop—
¼ after 12 selling days
⅓ after 18 selling days
½ after 24 selling days
Goods given away after 30 selling days.

girls' fine roll milan hats at $2.95

HUNDREDS OF OTHER BARGAIN LOTS—NO MAIL ORDERS

Chandler & Co.

151 Tremont Street—Near West—Boston 11

Great May Sale of

Silk and Muslin Underwear

Nightgowns Chemises Camisoles Bloomers

Over Five Thousand Pieces

3.00

Silk Chemises
of fine crepe de chine; V neck or bodice tailored or lavishly embroidered and trimmed with real filet, georgette and Lady Fair ribbons 3.00

Silk Bloomers
Of fine quality crepe de chine or wash satin in step-in or regulation styles; trimmed with Calis and val laces or hemstitched 3.00

Philippine Chemises
In envelope style, made of finest selected materials, and exquisitely embroidered in solid or cellado work 3.00

Philippine Gowns
Entirely hand made, many embroidered to match chemises 3.00

5.75

Silk Nightgowns
Empire or sleeveless effect, Calis lace trimmed, ribbon bows and shirring; bodice style, real filet and Lady Fair ribbons; in tailored models, kimono sleeves, in Wash Satin, tailored styles, bodice tops 5.75

Silk Petticoats
Wash Satin Models, double shadow proof style, plainly tailored; double panel skirt, scallops and embroidery, or in lace trimmed style 5.75

1.95

Silk Camisoles
Of radium silk, crepe de chine or wash satin, in plain tailored styles, or elaborately adorned with fancy ribbons and georgette 1.95

Chemises
Of fine crepe de chine or nainsook, in envelope styles, tailored or lace trimmed, and finished with dainty cluster and block tucks 1.95

Nightgowns
Of nainsook or batiste, kimono, set-in sleeves or bodice effect; trimmed with dainty laces, embroideries and ribbons 1.95

Petticoats
Of fine sateen, with double panels, or of cambric, elaborately trimmed with laces or embroideries in blind and eyelet work 1.95

1.00

Nightgowns
Kimono or sleeveless, with embroideries, laces and casing tops; fine nainsook 1.00

Chemises—Camisoles
Regulation and bodice styles, embroidered or lace trimmed; fine nainsook 1.00

Petticoats
In double panel style, with deep flounces or scallops; fine nainsook 1.00

Bloomers
Winsor crepe; cut full and reinforced 1.00

MRS. STOKES CRAVED 'SOME REAL GOOD LOVING' FROM HUSBAND

LOVED HIM TILL TIME OF TRIAL

Last Shred of Affection Fled When Wife Saw Case "Framed Up," She Testifies

New York, April 28.—Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes did not feel the last, forlorn shreds of affection for her husband slipping from her heart until five weeks ago, upon the day she entered the courtroom where his suit for divorce now is being tried.

Eyes flashing and chic little figure drawn up with indignation, the lovely youthful wife of the firm old man watching with a look of extreme distaste, hurled this declaration at Herbert Smyth, attorney for Stokes.

It was under cross-examination when Smyth, seeking to disprove her charges of inhuman treatment at the fevered hands of her husband, introduced letters written by her throughout the first few years of their married life. The missives indicated rather more than usual wifely affection despite what she charges was his behavior at that time.

Mr. Smyth asked:

"Could you love him in 1912?"

LOVE GREW COLDER.

"Not so much as in 1911. My love was growing colder and colder. Now I haven't any at all. When I came into this court room and saw the 'frame-up' against me, I lost every bit of it."

One of the letters written in May, 1912, when Mrs. Stokes was visiting in Denver, stated:

"This is just a line to let you know I love you more and more all the time. I did not want the day to go by without writing to my sweetheart.

"Do not forget me, dear, and do not find an understudy. I am hungry for you now. All my love, and a million kisses.

Another letter explained that she is keeping track of all letters and kisses "so if Tom takes it into his head not to give you one, I will give it."

"Tom" is the brother of Mr. Stokes with whom Mrs. Stoke has testified she was upon unfriendly terms.

Smyth inquired:

"Wasn't you afraid of what Tom might say because you knew he had investigated and found out some things about you before your marriage?"

Anger burned in her cheeks, rivaling the color of her hair.

"Absolutely false!"

The reading of the letters went on.

WANTED HIS REAL LOVING.

"Sweetie Dearest: I received two letters from you today. When yesterday went by and no letter from my husband I felt very blue. Mother laughs at me and says I am getting to be as much of a fool over you as I was over children. I am getting anxious to get home and have some real good loving. Feel as if I could spend some now. Are you saving it for me? You had better save it. I want you all to myself, and I can take love all I want to, when I get home. Have written you ever day."

In which trivial fashion Mrs. Stokes the courtroom lighted the weary face of Judge Finch.

Another Boston Common Victory Won by Boys

Photo ©by Eastern Aircraft Corporation

Where the two new baseball diamonds for the "kids," in addition to the two for the older boys, will be on Boston Common playground following the appeal of the little fellows to the Mayor. Aerial photo shown through the courtesy of Eastern Aircraft Corporation.

Boston Common boys have won another great victory.

It was fought on the principle of self-determination for little fellows.

They wanted to determine whether they were to graduate from sand lot stairs into the big league and they had to have a diamond of their own to do it.

The Park Commissioners got busy with plans and two small diamonds for the little fellows inside two larger diamonds are shortly to be the result. The work now under way on the Common will be completed within two weeks.

The youngster, remembering what the small boys of the Revolution did in the way of a petition to General Gage when their cousin were spoiled, took their petition to the Mayor when their prospects of Summer sport were spoiled.

The Park Department is going ahead with two diamonds just the right size for the kids in addition to two regulation size diamonds. A birdman of the Eastern Aircraft Corporation looked down upon the scene and the picture shows what he saw.

FLAGLER BRIDE A DIVORCEE

First Husband Once Worked for Millionaire in New York

Cleveland, April 28.—Official proof that Mrs. John H. Flagler, bride of the New York millionaire, was married before was revealed today by examination of the divorce records here.

The records show that Beatrice Frances Divische, Jr., filed an application for divorce in the Court of Common Pleas, Cuyahoga County, on June 3, 1920. She charged her husband, James, with gross neglect of duty.

The divorce was granted. Mrs. Divische was permitted to resume the use of her maiden name, Frances Wenneker.

New York, April 28.—When the news of the wedding of John H. Flagler and Frances Wenneker was reported at Copake Falls, N. Y., the bride stated in the license application that she had never been married before. Mr. Flagler, in New York, denied that he was the bridegroom and asserted that he had never met the young woman mentioned. Later he admitted he had been joking.

Divische's father, located in the Domestic Relations Court in Brooklyn, said his son had formerly worked for Flagler, and intimated the millionaire's romance dated back to that period. Divische, Jr., who works for the telephone company, refused to comment on the matter.

A. SHUMAN WORKERS TO DANCE FRIDAY

The A. Shuman & Company Mutual Benefit Association will give a dance Friday evening at Whitney Hall, Columbia road.

Cassie Robertson, (Refreshment Committee).

The committee in charge include: E. J. Reynolds, J. F. Thomson, W. F. Maher, Miss Mae LaRocque, Miss Mary A. McIntosh, Miss Margaret Knives, and Thomas Walsh, president, of the association.

Miss Mary E. Hegarty is chairman of the reception committee, she will be assisted by Robert H. Greaney, Jere F. Cooper, James J. Sullivan, John Driscoll, Michael A. Morgan, and the Misses Mary Gallagher, Elizabeth Allen, Catherine Mahoney, Marjorie Dacey, Elizabeth Kerry and Mrs. Charles Middleton.

POLICE SEEK MISSING 15-YEAR-OLD SALEM GIRL

The police of all leading cities of the country will be asked to help find Emmeline Dupleissis, aged fifteen, of No. 19 Lemon street, Salem, missing since February 18. She weighs 115 pounds, height five feet three inches; dark complexioned; dark eyes. Her hair has been clipped before she left home. The girl was the chief support of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Dupleissis, and three other smaller children.

Emmeline Dupleissis.

WOMEN'S CIVIC CLUB URGES DISARMAMENT

The Boston Women's Civic Club, at its annual meeting in the Hotel Brunswick, adopted a resolution to be forwarded to the members of Congress declaring the club to be in favor of the reduction of armament by international agreement. Mrs. Ernest H. Pierce led the forum discussion of the sales tax.

These officers for the ensuing year were elected:

President, Mrs. Wilfred A. French; first vice-president, Mrs. Wilfred E. Mitchell; second vice-president, Mrs. Samuel W. McCall; recording secretary, Mrs. George M. Hodges; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lodgard W. Barton, Mrs. William E. Birdsall and Mrs. Charles E. Marshall.

EXTRADITE PARENTS WHO DESERT CHILDREN

Washington, April 28.—Parents who desert their children in the United States can now be extradited from Canada, and vice versa. The Senate ratified the Anglo-American treaty to that effect.

Jealous Mother-in-Law and Silent Husband

A combination that is calculated to drive any wife to distraction. Her diary covering that experience for three years in next Sunday's Advertiser.

LEAP FROG PARTY AIRED AT TRIAL

Husband Charges All-Night Orgies in Reply to Suit Brought by Wife

White Plains, N. Y., April 28.—Allegations of all night dinner parties, after which the guests played leap frog on the lawn at 5 in the morning, were made when counsel for Mrs. Evelyn Howell, a society woman of New Rochelle, N. Y., made a motion in the Supreme Court for $200 weekly alimony for his client, who is suing her wealthy husband, Frank S. Howell, a United States government official, for a separation.

Mrs. Howell, through her counsel, set forth pending the trial of her suit. The allegations concerning the all night dinner parties were made by counsel for Mr. Howell. He contended further that Mrs. Howell ejected her husband from his home and later accused him of stealing his own automobile. He added she had a fondness for roadhouse parties.

Mrs. Powell, through her counsel, said her husband spent $25,000 a year on the upkeep of their home but treated her badly.

In her complaint the wife alleged her husband was jealous, that he struck her with his fists and often told her he wanted to get rid of her.

In the spring of 1920, Mrs. Howell said, she and a woman friend visited the Hunter Island Inn where she found her husband in company with a woman who she since learned is a "notorious character."

'RED' CIRCULARS SEIZED IN LYNN

Police Seek Three Men as Distributors of Communist Paper Preaching Revolution

Five hundred copies of an inflammatory circular signed by "The Communist Party of America," and calling on the workers of the nation to arm and overthrow the "capitalist government," were seized at the entrance to the Casino at Lynn Beach Thursday by some 1,500 persons attending the charity bazaar.

The discovery and seizure was made by Special Officer Elmer W. Sears. He took the literature to headquarters where he delivered it to Inspector Voorhis Remson and Sergeant John Muckian.

Captain Burckes, later communicated with, called on each patrolman and gave them a description of three men whom Sears had seen talking near the Casino as he left the building. The foreign quarters of the city were combed to round up these suspects.

Sears had heard them mention his name as he passed and fearing something was wrong, returned to the Casino. On seeing him the men fled. Whereupon Sears found the circulars piled near the box office.

101ST FIELD ARTILLERY TO HOLD BALL MAY 6

The 101st Massachusetts Field Artillery Regiment, National Guard, will hold a military ball at the South Armory, Irvington street, on the evening of May 6. Governor Cox, Mayor Peters and numerous military and naval officers are expected to attend. Mrs. Clarence R. Edwards and Mrs. Herbert L. Burns are two of the many patronesses who are connected with the affairs of the regiment.

SAW RICH THROW BUNDLE AWAY

Mrs. Richardson, in Dean Slander Suit, Watched Judge From Window

Keene, N. H., April 28.—Testimony that Judge Charles L. Rich, in company with his wife, drove up to a dump in East Jaffrey a few nights after Dr. Dean was killed and threw something into it, was given today at the Rich-Boynton slander trial by Mrs. Elizabeth Richardson.

Mrs. Richardson declared she was awakened about 1 o'clock in the morning and going to the window saw Mr. and Mrs. Rich in their car. "Judge Rich reached into the back of the machine," she testified, "and picking something up threw it onto the dump and drove away."

Corroborative of the time that Dr. Dean drove through the village to his home on the night of the murder was given by Mrs. Emma Chouinard, a resident of the Peterboro road. She stated that Dr. Dean passed her home, headed toward his farm, at

SAYS RICH WAS NERVOUS.

Testimony that Judge Rich had on several occasions intervened that the wife of Dr. Dean was responsible for her husband's death and had also put forth a theory that the said girl committed suicide, was given by witnesses.

Judge Rich's alleged assertions as to this phase were repeated by Martin P. Garfield, one of Dr. Dean's neighbors and the first person to be called to the farm when Mrs. Dean became alarmed at her husband's absence.

This witness declared that Judge Rich was extremely nervous while searchers were looking for the body. "After it was pulled from the cistern," he testified, "Mr. Rich suggested to me that Dr. Dean must have committed suicide."

"Incredible," said that is ridiculous. Then I asked him how he thought any one could tie himself up as Dr. Dean was tied, how could he make the wounds on his head and then fasten a bag and weight around his body and then throw himself in the well."

HINTED AT MRS. DEAN.

Mrs. Margaret C. Robinson of Cambridge, Mrs. Agnes Sumner Blake of East Jaffrey, testified that Judge Rich hinted to her, two days after the murder of Dr. Dean, that he was the murderer of her husband.

Several witnesses were introduced to show that the alleged Judge Rich described the manner in which he received the black eye which he said he was seen the morning after the crime. Except in one essential they did not greatly differ.

Other witnesses have said that Rich's explanation was that he was carrying a basket he was carrying when his horse kicked him. Illustrating how the horse struck Mr. Rich the succeeding day, declared on the stand that Rich had told him the basket with which he was struck.

Ralph J. Baldwin testified he saw marks on Rich's neck when he and Rich were looking for the body before Dr. Dean's body was discovered.

He stated that he asked Judge Rich for an explanation of the injuries and was told that the plaintiff was carrying a basket struck by a basket when his horse kicked him. Baldwin described the marks as being reddish in appearance and about two or three inches long on each side of Judge Rich's throat.

MAN FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGE ABSOLVES WIFE

New Bedford, April 28.—"She didn't have nothing to do with it, your honor," said Joseph Garrido of No. 101 Acushnet avenue, shouldering the blame for keeping liquor in his home and absolving his wife. Garrido was arrested from the Fall River boat "with the goods" on and paid a fine of $100.

WAGE CUTS FOR NEW BEDFORD CITY EMPLOYES

New Bedford, April 28.—School teachers, policemen, firemen, city laborers and office employes of the city will get the wage cuts, it is understood, like the heads of departments, whose salaries have already been lowered from 10 to 28 per cent.

Boy Attends Wedding of Grandparents

Cupid was responsible for a strange tangle of family relationship when Rear Admiral Benton C. Decker, U. S. N., was wedded to Mrs. Alice K. Crossman, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James M. W. Hall, Newton Centre.

The admiral's daughter, who is the wife of the bride's son, Alfred Hall Crossman, was maid of honor to her mother-in-law-to-be-step-mother. The grandson of the bridal pair, Alfred Crossman, Jr., was there to see his grandfather marry his grandmother.

4 SINN FEINERS EXECUTED

Convicted in Cork of Complicity in Attacks Upon British Forces

Cork, Ireland, April 28.—Four Sinn Feiners were executed at the military barracks today. They were convicted of complicity in attacks on British police and soldiers.

The men were sent to their doom in pairs. The first two were executed at 8 o'clock and the second two at 9:15.

The dead men are: Patrick O'Sullivan, Thomas Mullcahy, Maurice Moore and Patrick Hoynane.

Relatives and friends of the condemned men prayed outside the barracks during the executions.

The municipal Corporation Council and the Cork Harbor Board adopted resolutions of protest against the executions and announced that copies had been sent to President Harding at Washington and Tyee Benedict XV. at Rome.

The protest was based upon the contention that the condemned men were not ordinary criminals, but prisoners of war.

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD "CLEAN-UP" PARADES

Edward F. Roche, Scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America for the Boston district, states that plans are completed for the two Boy Scouts' "clean-up parades," which will be held Saturday afternoon, when the boys will appear in uniform.

The downtown parade will start at 2:30 p. m., forming in front of the English High School on Montgomery street.

The other parade will be held by the Boy Scouts in Roxbury and Dorchester and will start at 2:15 at the Dudley School, Roxbury.

$25,000 LEFT TO OYSTER WIDOW

Death-Bed Codicil Provided for Cash Payment in Lieu of Any Dower

Washington, April 28. — By the "death-bed codicil," George M. Oyster, Jr., the aged millionaire dairyman, who died last Sunday at Atlantic City, attempted to cut off his pretty twenty-year-old wife with $25,000.

This was learned here when the will was filed for probate in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

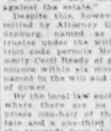
The codicil, which was made all the insistence of the seventy-two-year-old bridegroom, when advised that his end was near, provides that the sum to be paid his widow in cash is "in lieu of any dower or claims against the estate."

Despite this, however, it was admitted by Attorney Edwin C. Brandenburg, named as executor and trustee under the will, that the district code permits Mrs. Oyster, forty-seven Cent Reads at anytime, to renounce within six months the legacy named in the will and claim her right of dower.

By the local law such right in cases where there are no children becomes absolute one-half of the personal estate and a one-third life interest in the proceeds from the realty.

Mr. Oyster's estate is said to be worth approximately $2,000,000. He left the bulk of his property to his only part goes to the testator's brother, James F. Oyster, commissioner of the District of Columbia.

SOUTH BOSTON SCHOOL CENTRE TO ENTERTAIN



Miss O'Donnell.

Indications point to a snappy production Friday evening when the "Mask and Mantle" Front by the South Boston High School Centre will be given in the auditorium of the "Gene" Dargis is the director and the coaching assisted by Miss O'Donnell. Dancing and entertainment will be additional features.

SON IS BORN TO MRS. ARNSTEIN

New York, April 28.—William J. Arnstein is the father of the son born to Fannie Brice Sunday. "Nicky" Arnstein, husband of the actress, being tried in Washington on charges of conspiracy to get stolen Wall street securities into the District of Columbia.

ATHLETES AT SIMMONS WINDING UP SEASON

Athletics are the order of the day at Simmons College, with track, tennis and baseball as the main items of interest. A prize cup will be awarded to the class having the greatest number of points in all contests throughout the year.

BY WHITE.
Edna Boyd.

BY WHITE.
Mary Malloy.

Miss Ruth Foss is in charge of the baseball candidates and Miss Mary Malloy is manager of the track team.

SAYS HE WAS "VAMPED" AND ROBBED OF $69

New Bedford, April 28.—"She vamped me and it cost me $69," Perdinand Lazaro of Acushnet avenue told the police after he had accompanied a strange young woman to a dark alley where he was held up by two of her confreres.

The Boston American

Published daily (except Sunday) at 8 Hunt Mower St., Boston 21, Mass. NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Entered as second class matter June 6, 1907, at the postoffice at Boston, Mass. Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice Department, Canada.

TERMS AND SUBSCRIPTION RATES—Postpaid. DOMESTIC—One month, $0.75 (within 300 miles); three months, $2.10 (outside 300 miles), $2.50 (within 300 miles); six months, $4.20 (outside 300 miles), $5.00 (within 300 miles); one year, $8.00 (outside 300 miles), $10.00 (within 300 miles). Foreign—One month, $1.25; three months, $3.50; six months, $7.00; one year, $14.00; extra per copy in the Boston Postal District. Domestic rates include postage in the United States (excepting the Boston Postal District), Porto Rico, Philippines, Cuba, Hawaii, Alaska, Mexico, Canal Zone; also include postage for Canada, provided subscription is made for Boston Sunday American also, and if not foreign rate applies.

SUBSCRIPTIONS PAYABLE STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

Be Cave Man and Be 20 Years Younger

Turn Caveman and lop twenty years off your age.

Be punctiliously polite and retain your present and regain much of your former youth.

If you are like most tired business men with rounded tummies, bald spots showing and a touch of liver now and then you want to get young once more.

Above then are two separate bits of advice on how to go about doing it.

The first, or "caveman theory," is sponsored by O. E. Friedburg, physical director for the Evanston, Ind., Y. M. C. A.

Dr. A. H. Garland of the Boston branch of the "Y" holds exactly opposite views.

Between them the layman can take his choice, according to his temperament.

Chew your mouth full of food. It aids mastication.

"Be a cave man when you eat. Jam your mouth full of food; that will aid mastication," advises Director Friedburg.

"Don't use knives and forks. Grab your steak, tear off huge hunks and crunch them with your teeth. If you miss a car, don't wait for another. Run after the first until you catch it and then, don't sit down but stand. Hanging onto a strap is fine for stretching your muscles."

Not like this is the gospel of rejuvenation as preached by the Boston health expert. Says Dr. Garland:

"Divorce yourself from that automobile and walk to work. For every ride you take in the car play two rounds of golf."

And as to table manners, as advocated by the Evanston expert—well, the Back Bay gentleman just can't see things that way at all.

"Masticate your food most carefully," he says. "Take an hour for each meal and chew, chew, chew with care every last mouthful."

Keep a pair of dumb-bells in your office and skip about with them every once in a while, ignoring the dark looks of the boss and the jeers of your conventional office mates. That's more of Dr. Garland's advice.

"Sit as little as possible and stand as much as possible and always as though you had swallowed a poker or the proverbial ramrod," adds the Boston medico.

"Walk on the balls of your feet, but above all be polite. A little chivalry never hurt any man or woman yet, and never will."

That last is the final bit from the local man.

You are at perfect liberty to take the advice you prefer.

Who Reads the Want Ads?

WEST SPRINGFIELD ST., — — New management. Neat light housekeeping rooms, sink room; Summer rates.

The Stranger in the city!

Almost universally, before he transacts any other business, the first thing a stranger within the city limits does is to turn to the Want Ad pages of the daily newspaper either for transient or permanent location.

He knows that under the classification head of "Furnished Rooms" he will find just what he wants, and quickly, too.

You can do no better than to use the Boston American's Furnished Room columns to keep your rooms filled with desirable tenants.

The Boston American's service is prompt, efficient and economical.

Read for profit—BOSTON AMERICAN—Use for results
PHONE MAIN 5180

A New Store With New Ideas

Lampells

A Millinery Shop

where clever style goes hand in hand with low price

WILL OPEN Saturday, April 30th

The Lampell Idea

will be to duplicate the most costly hats in less expensive materials—thus providing the smartest, most exclusive styles created by famous fashion designers—at prices that are only a small part of the original cost.

The Lampell Policy

will be to give satisfactory service at all times. Styles that are never old because of the constantly changing character of our stocks—quality that is constantly maintained because we refund your money instantly if you're not pleased.

LOOK FOR OUR Announcement Tomorrow

Lampells

519 Washington Street

YOUNG WARNED WINSOR

Speaker Said He Would Drop "L" Control Bill Unless Changes Were Made

Continued From First Page.

public control bill was finally welded into a form "which, in my opinion, is a credit to the Commonwealth," was told the Elevated committee by former Attorney-General Henry C. Attwill.

Attwill, who as attorney-general was the Governor's official legal adviser at that time, testified for three hours every detail of the conferences and negotiations which led up to the passage of the bills, and that Governor McCall, himself, told the probers the reasons why he signed the control bill.

Grenville MacFarland of the Boston American drew section 12. He said to me, "The public will build up the road and the public ought to get the advantage of it." He was afraid that after the public built it up, the Elevated might get it back. I made no objection to the bill, but later did me the honor to incorporate in an editorial.

I said to him, 'You're afraid that the people will buy a poor cow and later turn it back as a milch cow.' He said, 'That is just it.'

"He was afraid that after the people made a splendid road out of it the Elevated would get the benefit of it. Accordingly, he drew section 12, which provides that the road will not go back to the Elevated unless the Commonwealth wants to let it go back.

10,000 GIRLS TO AID IRISH DRIVE

Will Swarm Over Boston on Saturday Collecting for Relief of Suffering

Ten thousand pretty girls will claim your aid for the poor of Ireland, when the wind-up of the campaign for the relief of suffering Erin opens Saturday, Button Day.

Every one of the ten thousand will be wearing green sashes adorned with buttons of red, white and blue. They will be armed with collection boxes and will take their posts at points of vantage throughout the city.

AT ALL STREET CORNERS.

Every theatre, moving picture house, hotel and railway station will be "covered" by one or more of the 10,000, and groups will be stationed at all important street corners.

Many local organizations are cooperating with the Boston American Committee for the Relief of Ireland, which is headed by Mrs. W. F. Fitzgerald and Miss Ellen F. Ring.

Several entertainments will be held this week in aid of the fund to be collected. A mass meeting for the success of the John Hancock Council, K. of C., and L. B., will be held in Mechanics building Columbia road, Upham's Corner, Dorchester, Friday evening.

A grand entertainment and dance in aid of the fund, under the auspices of the Charlestown committee, will be held in the Training Field Bunker hill street, Charlestown, on Thursday evening, May 5, at 8 o'clock.

Boxing for the Relief in Ireland will hold an entertainment on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the theatre on Washington street, Roxbury. The speakers will be ex-Mayor of Mr. Charles Chandler James H. Watson, Judge Kennedy, Judge Connelly, John T. Hughes and Alexander Sullivan. Many pictures of Ireland will be shown.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS.

The headquarters at No. 180 Devonshire street report the receipt of a check for $5,244.42 from Rev. T. A. Curtin, pastor of the Sacred Heart parish, Newton Centre; the $1,196.64 from the parish of Rev. Nicholas Murphy, Belmont, and the $507.50 from Rev. M. J. Lee, pastor of St. Joseph's, Medway.

Among the other contributions were the following:

$999.16—Richard Montgomery Council, A. A. and L. B., Watertown. $150—Hugh Dunn, Watertown. $100—Robert Lowell, A. Treasy. $100—Thomas Cleary, Lodge of Good Shepherd, Brookline. $100—Joseph Lowell, A. A. F., East Weburn.

$100—Rev. Mark J. Sullivan, All saints, Roxbury. H. S. Moody, 394 Washington street, Boston. $50—Mrs. M. Cunningham's wake party. $51.35—Wake party given by St. Augustine's Branch, Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H. $50—J. O'Brien, 70 Hawthorne street, Roxbury. $50—Mrs. Mary Sullivan and family, 67 Beacon street. $25—From Reading friends.

$25 each—Somerville Aerie, F. O. E., 304-306 William Donahue and family, East Boston; Jesse D. O'Connor, Dover street, Boston; Mrs. Elizabeth J. Cahill, 15 Fenwood road, Roxbury; John J. Cahill, 15 Fenwood road, Roxbury; Geraldine Maloney, Roxbury. Commercial of Sacred Heart, 372 Commonwealth avenue. $17—Employes of Thomas & Kelly Co., Boston. $11.10—Among x friend, Plainfield, N. H. $10—John F. Moriarty, 1059 Beacon street. $11.20—Mount Walsh Council, Norwood. $10 each—R. D. Smith, 26 Summer street, Boston; R. D. Smith, South Boston; Mrs. E. H. James, 25 Charles River roads, Boston; James Hanlon, Skowhegan, Me.; Charles Wagner, 173 Prince street, Boston; Mrs. Electric company, Boston; Mrs. Electric company, Boston; Electric company, Boston; Dorchester; Mrs. Lucy Sullivan, Fenway court, Boston; Rev. William J. Dragon, Reading.

$5 each—Joseph O'Malley, Mrs. Kelley, Patrick Dinneen, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Burns, Misses J. L. and Margaret Carney, Dr. and J. Peter, Miss Frances Wright, all of Roxbury.

$7—J. Donovan, Roxbury.

$5 each—A. Piatti Company, Boston; Bernard Ferguson, Dorchester; Lord, John & Co. Plumbers and Steamfitters, William M. H. Gavvis, Brighton; Patrick H. Lacey, Millbury; Fred H. Rhines, Everett; Rev. Mark Hurley, Somerville; Rev. Thomas Hillhouse, Somerville; Michael Crowe, Hopkinton; Henry M. Blackwell, Jamaica Plain; Mrs. Rosa, Jamaica Plain; Joseph Vaughan, Framingham; Mrs. Mary Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Keane, Lowell, No. 428 Boat and Shoe Workers, Boston; Miss Eleanor G. May, 857 Beacon street; Catherine Slattery, Jamaica Plain; Nellie Walsh, Jamaica Plain; Margaret A. Donnellan, Lowell; Eva W. White, 340 Charles street, Boston; William B. Adams, Dorchester.

$3 each—All of Roxbury: Mrs. Ellen McConnellogue, Mrs. Bridget McConnellogue, John Gerrett, Mrs. B. Connors, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Mary Nelson, Miss Mary Smith, Mrs. Margaret John F. Burke, James J. Fay, Timothy J. Kenny, P. O'Connor, John J. Doyle, Rose Joseph, William McGrath, Mrs. Sarah and Mrs. James J. Doyle.

$2 each—Patrick Mitchell, Somerville, $2—Mrs. W. C. Houston, Beacon street, Brookline; John O'Neil, Woburn; Nora Phelan, Hopkinton; Mrs. J. Donovan, W. Haney, Mrs. Catherine Keany, Mr. Albert Murphy, all of Roxbury.

Patrick Callaghan, Watertown, $2—Mrs. H. B. Pellissey, Boston; A. H. Cashin, Boston; Samuel C. Dobell, Boston; Edward Friend, Dorchester. $1—Bingham branch Hopkinton.

$1 each—Mary M. Wedge, Somerville; Raymond Kenny, Lowell; Mrs. D. Gannon, Boat; Mr. Joseph Wernere, Roxbury; Mrs. Miss Marie LaPleur, Roxbury; Gerlad Le Fevre, Roxbury.

Joseph Wernere, Roxbury; Mrs. Kate Leahy.

Declares Whipping Fails to Effect a Cure

Whipping children is useless and barbarous. At least, so several of the letters in the "rod and child" controversy in the Boston American today would indicate. But that is only one side of the debate. What do you think? The columns of this newspaper are open for discussion of the subject. Address your letter to "Training Editor, Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston, Mass."

Training Editor, Boston American:

As a young girl of seventeen, and now one who has been published abroad, I wish to give my opinion on the whipping controversy. Last summer I went to visit my aunt in the country. I knew practically nothing about the many pitfalls for young girls. One evening my cousin, who is two years older than I, invited me to go motoring with her and a boy friend. I accepted. My aunt was away when we left the house. I could not understand why my cousin wanted to keep our going from her. After we got home she asked me my cousin why she wanted to keep it from her mother. I never found out. My aunt met us in the hall as she struck her daughter. She struggled to get her across her knee and proceeded to spank her with a hairbrush. I ran upstairs, pushed her daughter aside and came over to me. She said I had been exactly as bad as she and should have to be spanked. I will never forget that horrible afternoon. She pulled me over and told my mother. She explained to her own loving way why I should not get on the train for Manila. I did not know well. This did me more good than anything else in the world. She followed her advice. But my cousin writes me she has been spanked also and that she intends to run away. Will spanking cure? No! SEVENTEEN. Boston.

CHILDREN ARE HUMAN.

Training Editor, Boston American:

I am seventy-two years old. I have been a student of human nature all my life. Out of that experience I draw my opinions on the advisability of whipping children. When a boy I was not quick to learn, and often I needed correction. I well remember my good old mother's words, "Never whip a child while you are angry." Let me say that when she spanked me and set me in a chair to get over it it was no good. I realized I had been bad. Now comes the other phase. My sister had a child who needed severe punishment. After a severe whipping the child turned upon her, saying: "Have you whipped me enough?" I'm not built that I never struck that child again. It did no good. Children are human and need individual treatment.

B. VERNON.

Springfield.

SHOULD BE ABOLISHED.

Training Editor, Boston American:

Whipping children is wrong. It is another old custom that should be abolished. It is actually harmful to children of very sensitive natures and if practiced too persistently, will ruin the instinct of fear, the worst enemy of us all. I have four children. I have never spanked them. Neighbors speak well of their behavior. It is all due to understanding. To me it always has seemed contemptible for an adult to use physical force on a smaller and weaker creature. It creates in the child's mind a feeling of injury. Parents should be courteous toward their children.

LYNN. MRS. J. G. GALE.

DRUGS FOR DEER ISLAND SEIZED

O'Brien, Arrested on Harbor Boat, Sentenced to Two Years' Imprisonment

Alarming increase in drug traffic with prisoners at Deer Island was revealed by Penal Institutions Commissioner Thomas C. O'Brien in the East Boston Court today during the trial of John G. O'Brien of No. 17 Vine street, Roxbury.

The defendant, who is twenty-six years old, was captured on the Deer Island boat with a quantity of morphine, which the officers claim he intended to sell to prisoners.

Judge Sisk sentenced him to two years in the House of Correction, after he had pleaded guilty to having drugs in his possession. He appealed.

Commissioner O'Brien testified he had received information that a pool of money had been raised by prisoners with which to purchase drugs. This money was sent to Boston, it was learned.

HEARING ON BUILDING STRIKE IS POSTPONED

The public hearing before the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration on the building strike, scheduled for today, was postponed until next Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. Owing to the pressure of business on the board, which is attempting to reach settlements in the Bay State carmen's case and the printers' and other strikes, it was found impossible to take up the building troubles today.

POLICEMEN KILLED IN RIOT NEAR BOMBAY

London, April 28.—A number of policemen were killed and a magistrate and a sub-police inspector was wounded in serious rioting at Malegaon, near Nasik, 100 miles northeast of Bombay, India, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Bombay today. Troops were rushed to the scene.

Wires leading to the scene were cut, preventing the sending out of details.

WOOD IN TOKIO PEACE PLEA

Expresses Desire for Continued Good Relations Between U. S. and Allies

Tokio, April 28.—Major General Leonard Wood here, en route to the Philippines on a mission for President Harding, addressed members of the American Association of Tokio and Yokohama at the Oriental Palace.

"Agriculture and commerce form the basis of American prosperity," he said. "As a matter of course, the United States enters into the competition for world commerce. Prior to the war Great Britain and Germany placed trained men in their embassies and legations, men who studied trade conditions. America is now awakening and the spirit of the government is to foster trade and industry."

In closing General Wood declared that it was the wish of America to maintain the spirit of cordiality engendered by her associations with her Allies in the late war.

General Wood was met on his arrival at Yokohama on the Wenatshee by Major Nishihara, secretary to the Minister of War, and American Charge D'Affaires Bell.

General Wood's party sailed from Nagasaki today on a United States transport for the Philippines.

Don't Suffer From Piles

No Matter If You Have Been a Long-time Sufferer There's Relief With Pyramid Pile Suppositories

Try Pyramid no matter what else you have used. It should give quick relief and has saved many from an operation. Get a 60 cent box of Pyramid Pile Suppositories at any drug store. If it is the right thing it will relieve itching, bleeding or protruding piles promptly. Pyramid Pile Suppositories are also unsurpassed for relief of chafing, scratching and such rectal troubles. Take no substitute. Use coupon for free trial.

FREE SAMPLE COUPON

PYRAMID DRUG COMPANY,
90 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Kindly send me a Free sample of Pyramid Pile Suppositories in plain wrapper.

Name.....

Street.....

City..... State.....

12-Year-Old Boy to Run Naval Plane

Washington, April 28.—George Moffett, twelve-year-old son of Captain William A. Moffett, director of naval aviation, was to fly from Washington to meet the Atlantic fleet at Hampton Roads today.

Young Moffett will be accompanied by several naval officers. As he is well versed in the science of aircraft, he is looking forward to a chance at the steering wheel part of the way.

After viewing the fleet, the aeroplane Moffett is in will fly to New York city. Captain Moffett said that he is letting the boy fly as a testimonial of his confidence in aviation and his belief in its safety.

18 NOW DEAD IN MISSISSIPPI CYCLONE

Jackson, Miss., Apr. 28.—Eighteen people are dead and more than half a hundred injured at Braxton, about twenty-five miles south of here on the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad, after a cyclone which swept the town late Tuesday afternoon and left two buildings standing in the residential section.

DRIVER HELD IN DEATH CRASH

One Killed, Another Dying in Collision of Autos at Lawrence

Lawrence, April 28.—Daniel Haberlan, of Chandler road, West Andover, was held by the police here today, following the death of Joseph Burke, 34 years old, of Lowell street, in a crash between the machine driven by Haberlan and a car operated by John Clark, 56 years old, of Bailey street, Amesb. Barbesonian, 20 years old, of West Andover, who was in Haberlan's auto, is at the Lawrence Hospital in a dying condition.

The machines came together at the corner of Weir street and South Broadway.

Mary Cain, 35 years old, of Walnut street and Mae Burns, 24 years old, of Juniper street, who were in the car with Clark, escaped injury.

BACK FROM FLORIDA; FIND HOME ROBBED

When William H. Wilde, a retired shoe manufacturer, and his family returned from Florida to their home at No. 299 Bridge street, North Weymouth, they found that the home had been broken into and ransacked from top to bottom. Property valued at $2,000 was stolen.

ENDS FOOT MISERY

Cal-o-cide positively gives quick relief and lasting results. It penetrates the pores and removes the cause. (Plasters is each package for Stubborn Corns)

6 Million Calocide Packages Sold — All Druggists 50c

Cal-o-cide FOOT REMEDY

"Gets-It" The Corn and Callus Peeler

This Corn Remover is Guaranteed.

Relief from corn suffering follows the application of "Gets-It" almost as quickly as pain follows the thrust of a pin or knife into the flesh. Not only do corns or soft corns but every kind of corn or callus surrenders to "Gets-It" and feels relief at once. It takes just a few seconds to stop the pain with two or three drops. Go to your druggist today and get a bottle of "Gets-It"—costs but a trifle everywhere. Your money back if not satisfied. Mfd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of too presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the poisonous gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will offset the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, prevent the stomach acid, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia in powder or tablet form—not liquid or milk of magnesia—is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia to use for stomach purposes. Thousands of people now use it under their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advertisement.

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Will Vanish

(Bloudoir Secrets)

The judicious use of a delatone paste insures any woman a clear, hairless skin. To prepare the paste, mix a little of the powder delatone with some water, then apply to the objectionable hairs for two or three minutes. When the paste is removed, and the skin washed, every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain attends the use of the delatone and it will not injure the most sensitive skin, but to insure results, see that you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

IF YOU suffer with RHEUMATISM TAKE PRESCRIPTION A-255!

A constitutional treatment for rheumatism and gout. It dissolves the coherence deposits which cause the painful swelling at the joints and drives the uric acid from the system. In use since 1804. Sold by leading druggists or sent postpaid for $1.00.

Ehner & Amend, 3d Av. and 18th St., New York

800 WASHINGTON STREET

GRAHAMS
(800 WASHINGTON ST.)
OPPOSITE HOLLIS ST.

Easiest Credit Terms No Interest Charges No Red Tape

Free Auto Delivery Goods Held Until Wanted

Open Mon., Wed. and Sat. Evenings

A Year to Pay Accounts Opened From $5-$5000 Lowest Prices

3-Room "Economy Outfit" $97 $1.30 Weekly

THE NEWLYWEDS HOME OUTFIT STORE
WHERE YOU MAKE YOUR OWN TERMS
A Few Steps From the High Rent District Saves 25%

4-Room "Luxury Outfit" $197 $3 Weekly

This 4-Pc. Queen Anne Chamber Suite $149

This Queen Anne Dining Suite $179

Living Room Suite $195

Chamber Suite, $2 Weekly

Dining Suite, $2 Weekly

$1 Weekly Delivers Refrigerator

All the popular styles and sizes to choose from. Our values save you at least 25%.

$1 Weekly Delivers This!

Mahogany Living Room Suite Now at $49

Massively constructed frame, upholstered in excellent quality moleskin, spring seat and back, beautifully finished in mahogany. Regular price is $100. Don't miss it!

$1 Weekly Delivers Choice of Carriages or Strollers!

A large assortment to choose from, all styles and finishes. We are offering some exceptional carriages as low as $22.50

FREE FOR THIS WEEK—A beautiful Chinese Hand-Decorated 17-Piece Tea Set with every new account opened from $50 and over!
It's Easy to Pay the Graham Way.

Top Icer, $16.95

Standard make, extra well constructed, large enough for average family. Reg. $22 value. $1 Weekly.

William and Mary Period Dining Suite $169

Here is the dining Suite that has made for us hundreds of friends. Consists of handsomely designed Buffet, Extension Table and genuine leather slipseat Chairs. The construction is of the best and finish in suites that you have to pay twice for elsewhere. Reduced from $326. $2 Weekly.

Queen Anne Period Chamber Suite, Now $149

Here is a value that demonstrates the really sensational values that we are now offering in this great sale. Description cannot do sufficient justice to the features of this beautiful suite.

The suite consists of full-size Bed, large swell front Dresser, Chiffrobe, or extra large size triplicate mirror Toilet Table. Excellent construction, beautiful walnut finish.

Reduced from $250. $1.50 Weekly

800 WASHINGTON STREET

JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO.

WE SELL CLOTHES OF QUALITY

At the Lowest Possible Prices, Consistent With Quality

There's no disappointment. THE CORRECT STYLES—THE FINE FABRICS—and the THOROUGH TAILORING are clearly apparent. WE SOLICIT THE PEOPLE'S PATRONAGE only on a basis of business merit and our ability to serve them better than any other house in our line of trade in New England. Our volume of business is increasing at a tremendous rate from month to month and year to year. THERE'S NO EFFECT WITHOUT A CAUSE—WE MUST BE SERVING THE PEOPLE BETTER—WE MUST BE GIVING BETTER VALUES—BETTER STYLES—BETTER QUALITIES—BETTER SERVICE. WE DON'T DECRY OTHERS. WE SIMPLY LEAD.

We Will Open an Account With Any Honest Person

Simply select the Clothing you need and arrange to pay in easy partial Payments, THAT'S ALL

LADIES' SUITS

Suits for Ladies, Misses and Juniors, in men's wear serge, tricotine, poiret twill and velour. Beautifully designed in ripple, pleated, blouse and tailored models. Fancy silk lined and trimmed with chenille, soutache and silk embroidery. Colors—Navy, rookie, tan, reindeer and black. ALTERATIONS FREE.

19.98, 24.50, 32.50 up to 55.00

A Charge Account here will enable you to have the clothing you want when you want it.

LADIES' DRESSES

Beautifully designed and draped by expert makers. A fetching array in taffeta, Canton crepe, satin, charmeuse and crepe de chine. All styles in the popular shades—Navy, brown, grey and black. ALTERATIONS FREE.

16.98, 19.98, 27.50 up to 48.00

COATS AND WRAPS

The season's most attractive styles in velour, serge, tricotine, bolivia and polo coats—silk lined and many richly embroidered. All colors. An excellent assortment of wraps, now so favored—values positively unequalled. ALTERATIONS FREE.

12.98, 16.98, 24.50 up to 49.75

GIRLS' COATS

An attractive display of coats for girls of all ages from three to fourteen, beautifully designed and made of durable materials in the most popular Spring styles and colors—Oak-weave, velour checks and polo coats at new low prices.

2.98, 3.98, 6.50 up to 17.50

A Charge Account here will enable you to have the clothing you want when you want it.

MEN'S SPRING SUITS

Surprising values in excellent suits of this season's make, purchased from leading manufacturers at great reductions. Styles the latest, workmanship the best. It is not necessary to pay a fancy price for a good suit. We have a model for every figure, a pattern for every taste and a price for every purse.

22.50, 27.50, 35.00 up to 49.50

YOUNG MEN'S SUITS

The last word in high-grade tailoring in the latest and most popular materials, patterns and styles—yoke back models, belted and pleated—patch and slash pockets—also single and double breasted models for the more conservative dresser; serge, cassimeres, flannels, worsteds and fancy mixtures.

16.98, 19.98, 27.50 up to 49.50

Men's Topcoats and Raincoats

Excellent offerings in the desired Men's and Young Men's Spring models, in black, oxford and mixtures, gabardines, stockinette, knit goods, etc.

16.98, 19.98, 26.50 up to 45.00

BOYS' SUITS

We show a splendid assortment of Boys' Suits, made in the best models from sturdy fabrics. Tailored to stand the hard usage the boy is sure to give them.

5.98, 8.50, 12.50 up to 18.00

OPEN EVENINGS—WE ARE COMPLETE OUTFITTERS FOR MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD—OPEN EVENINGS

Joyce Bros. & Co.

HAVE YOUR PURCHASES CHARGED

782-784 WASHINGTON STREET Opposite Hollis Street BOSTON

130 Pleasant St., Malden, Mass. 8 Park Pl., Pawtucket, R. I.
15 Granite St., Quincy, Mass. 436 Westminster St., Providence, R. I
24 Market St., Lynn, Mass. (191 Elm St., Manchester, N. H.

JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

WASHINGTON.—The Interstate Commerce Commission refused to order a reduction in railroad rates from points of origin east of the Ohio and Mississippi to points in intermediate territory.

DETROIT.—Union carmen will vote on a new proposition by the Detroit United Railway, which grants a wage scale of 55, 58 and 60 cents an hour.

WASHINGTON.—Cancellation of the plan to permit Chinese industrial students to enter this country was announced by the Labor Department.

MILWAUKEE.—Many industries now considered seasonal could have a fairly steady output, according to Arthur Woods, president of the Society of Industrial Engineers, said before the national convention body.

DURHAM, N. H.—Students of New Hampshire College celebrated New Hampshire Day of Abandoning classes and engaging in work of material improvement.

THOMPSONVILLE, Ct.—More than fifty striking employes of the Hazard-Hartford Powder Company, who have received notices to vacate the houses owned by the company, will bring the matter before Dr. Julius Lenzen at Hartford.

WASHINGTON.—E. J. Lewis of Indianapolis and J. R. Campbell of Spokane, Wash., were nominated by President Harding to be members of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

PORTSMOUTH UNDERSEA BOATS SENT TO PACIFIC

Portsmouth, N. H., April 28.—By order of the Navy Department eight submarines, built and stationed here, will proceed in two detachments on May 7 and 14, to New London, Conn., and from there, under convoy of the U. S. S. Beaver to the Pacific coast.

ROBBED OF $200 IN HARVARD SQUARE

Robert A. Bothwell of No. 162 Boylston street, Boston, reported to the police that his pocket was picked during the rush hour at the loading platform in the Harvard square subway station. He reported that his wallet containing $200 was taken.

BRIGHTON WOMAN TRIES SUICIDE BY POISON

Mrs. Lenna E. Hancock, 22 years old, attempted to end her life by taking corrosive sublimate tablets in her home at 419 Market street, Brighton. Prompt work on the part of her husband, Horace, in notifying the police probably saved her life.

PLYMOUTH RAISES $2,000 TO AID SUFFERING IRISH

Plymouth, April 28.—At a meeting of the local committee in charge of the Irish Relief Fund drive Chairman Daniel J. Marshall announced that over $2,000 has been raised in Plymouth and about $300 in the adjoining town of Kingston.

Meyer Jonasson Co.

Tremont and Boylston Sts.

Tweed Suits

$29.75

$29.75

Fashionable and serviceable are these splendid suits.

Hand-tailored in two-tone blues, browns and greys, with mannish patch pockets and string belt—coat lining of new radium silks.

Please bear in mind that the Meyer Jonasson Suits are equal to custom made.

Misses' Sizes 14 to 18 years. Women's Sizes 36 to 44 bust measure

WORSTED JERSEY SUITS
(New Shipment Just Arrived)

$15 $19.75 $25

Women's Sizes to 44 Bust Measure
Misses' Sizes 14 to 20 Years

SERGE AND TRICOTINE SUITS
Former prices from $49.50 to $95

Now $35 $45 and $55

Note All of our most Beautiful Suits that were heretofore $110 to $165 NOW..... $89.50

(No Higher Suit Prices Now Prevail)

MEYER JONASSON CO.

Was Dying by Inches---Saved by Gland Treatment

So Says Syracuse Man Who Had Lost 70 Pounds and Was Weak, Nervous and Run-Down—Now Feels 20 Years Younger.

"For the past two years I have just been dying by inches," said Mr. Adelbert Guile, who resides at 809 South Clinton St., Syracuse, N. Y. "From 220 pounds I fell away to 150. I had doctored and tried a great number of different medicines but nothing did me the least bit of good until I got hold of Glandex Compound, the new gland tonic.

"I kept losing weight and growing weaker until finally I had to give up my job. My stomach was all out of order; I couldn't eat, and my kidneys were in a terrible condition. I suffered with a dull headache nearly all the time, and would get so dizzy that at times I would stagger. I lost all my vitality and ambition and my nerves got in a terrible condition. Lots of nights I would not get two hours sleep. I really had begun to think my time had come.

"Then a friend suggested that I try Glandex Compound. I told him I didn't think it would do me any good as nothing else had; but finally he persuaded me to try it. It was the best thing I ever did in my life! I had only taken it a few days when I saw good results. I am now on my fourth bottle and improving every day. I eat three hearty meals every day now, have gained wonderfully in weight and strength and can just feel the blood tingling in my veins. My stomach and kidneys are now in fine condition and my nerves are perfectly calm.

"My vitality has improved remarkably. I no longer have those dull headaches or dizzy spells and I sleep like a log every night. I feel twenty years younger and can say it is nothing but Glandex. I am pleased to recommend this wonderful tonic if it will help anyone suffering as I once did."

MR. ADELBERT GUILE
Who Attributes His Amazing Recovery to New Gland Tablets

Mr. Guile, who is 55 years old, is a well-known and highly respected citizen of Syracuse, having lived there for the past 25 years. He is a member of the Onondaga Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 29, and is employed as a missionary fireman by the First Trust & Deposit Co., of Syracuse.

Astonishing Results Everywhere

Mr. Guile's experience with Glandex Compound is by no means an exceptional one, for people everywhere report the same almost incredible results.

The reason for these results, it appears, is that Glandex builds up run-down glands, which have been found to be the real cause of most common ailments. Our glands furnish a secretion called hormones, which feed our muscles, brain and nerve cells. When through overwork, illness, etc., our glands become run-down, this secretion stops and the muscles and nerves suffer.

Glandex Compound builds up run-down glands by feeding them with extracts taken from the glands of healthy young sheep and cattle. So if you are weak, thin, run-down, nervous, anaemic or prematurely old you owe it to yourself to give this remarkable tonic a trial. Contains iron and other well-known health-builders to make the work of the gland extracts even more effective. Money back if you want it. Sold at all good drug stores.

GLANDEX COMPOUND
NEW GLAND TONIC FOR RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

MANY ENTER FOR BICYCLE RUN

Riders of High Wheels Have Chance to Win Prize in American's Outing

EVERYBODY INVITED TO TAKE PART IN BIG BICYCLE RUN

Entry for Boston American Free Social Bicycle Run.

Name .....

Address .....

Age .....

Another high-grade bicycle has been contributed as a prize for the Boston American social bicycle run in this city Sunday afternoon, May 15. This makes a total of five wheels, valued at $375, which will be given away to participants showing the most perfection in riding during the run.

The last donation is a snappy Walker bicycle, given by W. J. Walker of No. 183 Massachusetts avenue, Back Bay. It is a dandy wheel and will make an ideal gift to the person whose superior riding ability wins it.

INCENTIVE FOR "OLD TIMERS."

The donation of this bicycle makes it possible to add another class of competitors eligible to obtain a prize. It has been decided that one of the five prize bicycles will be awarded to the person giving the most perfect exhibition of riding on a high wheel.

Perfection in riding modern bicycles will win prizes for a boy and girl under fifteen and one of each sex over fifteen years of age. A. S. Ford, manager of the Hub Cycle Company, wholesale dealers at 15 Portland street, announced that the wheel selected by him as a donation is an "Emblem." The other firms contributing prize machines are Haverford Cycle Company, No. 874 Washington street; George N. Holden, No. 188 Massachusetts avenue, Back Bay, and General Motorcycle Sales Company, No. 792 Boylston street.

EXPERTS AS JUDGES.

Some of the best known wheelmen in the United States have been selected as judges in the various contests. Dr. W. G. Kendall of Atlantic, who was recently re-elected captain of the Boston Bicycle Club for the thirty-fourth consecutive term, has kindly consented to be one of the judges at the American run.

Another "old timer" who has agreed to act in the capacity of judge is Francis G. Gibbs of No. 39 Quincy avenue, Winthrop Highlands, whose name was one to conjure with in "the good old days."

He began riding a wheel in 1878. The first kind he rode was known as a "boneshaker," and it well deserved the name. It did to the rider what its name indicates. The frame was of solid iron, its wheels were of wood with wooden spokes, similar to those on a carriage, iron tires and iron seat covered with carpeting, completed the machine.

ENTRIES PILING IN.

Arthur P. Benson of Dedham will be a third judge. His name is well known to the riders of other days. He won second place in the first B. A. A. race back in the "old days" from the clubhouse in Boston Wellesley and back. Edward Anthony won first on a high wheel and Mr. Benson came in next on a low wheel. Mr. Benson was also a member of the Dorchester Bicycle Club team that won the cup in the 25-mile road race of the Eastern Road Club series. The team of which he was a member won three races, entitling it to the cup.

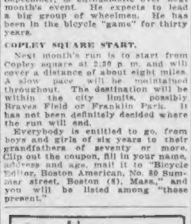
E. S. Freeman, Winthrop assessor, is another expert wheelman who will serve as a judge.

Entries for the run are piling in on the bicycle editor. They have come from all sections of Greater Boston. Every individual points to a big crowd. W. L. Potter of No. 1108 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, who piloted nearly 100 riders from his store in the American's run last September, is enthusiastic over next month's event. He expects to lead a big group of wheelmen. He has been in the bicycle "game" for thirty years.

COPLEY SQUARE START.

Next month's run is to start from Copley square at 2:30 p. m. and will cover a distance of about eight miles. A slow pace will be maintained throughout. The destination will be within the city limits, possibly Braves Field or Franklin Park. It has not been definitely decided where the run will end.

Everybody is entitled to go, from boys and girls of six years to their grandfathers of seventy or more. Clip out the coupon, fill in your name, address and age, mail it to "Bicycle Editor, Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston, (8), Mass.," and you will be listed among "those present."



CUTICURA PREVENTS FALLING HAIR

If your scalp is irritated, and your hair dry and falling out in handfuls, try this treatment: Touch spots of dandruff and itching with Cuticura Ointment and follow with hot shampoo of Cuticura Soap. Absolutely nothing better.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 19D, Malden, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

C. F. Hovey Co.

Established 1841

MERCHANDISE UP TO A STANDARD.

Tomorrow—Friday

OUR FIRST MONTHLY DEMONSTRATION DAY

50 Items at the Lowest Prices in Boston

Merchandise That Is Timely, Wanted, in Good Condition and a Real Bargain at the Price Offered

It is our intention to conduct these sales on the Last Friday of Each Month by selecting from our regular stock certain items of especial interest and offering them at very low prices, and newly purchased lots will be sold as low as mark downs.

TO KNOW THE HOVEY VALUES YOU SHOULD VISIT THE STORE

Misses' Mignonette Dresses
Ten styles, all desired models, tunics and blouse effects prominent. Also taffeta, crepe de chine and satin models, small quantity featuring eight styles ... $12.50

Corsets
In Broken Lots and Sizes, 122 Pairs
Many of pink and white coutil; low bust and elastic top. Formerly priced up to $5.00..... $2.85

Women's Silk Umbrellas
In black, navy, purple, red, green, brown and taupe. Club ends, with bakelite trimmed handles, with rings and leather straps; silk case to match, tape edged; 8 ribs, 25 inches $4.95

Petticoats
Heatherbloom
In an accordion pleated model. Colors—Russian, Kelly, Belgian, rose and purple..... $1.50

Silk Bags
Plain and Fancy
Lined with good quality silk, with pockets and mirror. Value $5.50..... $3.85

130 Sweaters
In Wanted Styles
45 Coat Sweaters, for beach wear, in wool, heavy weight. 35 Tuxedo models, mohair, medium weight. 50 odd styles, including slip-ons $5.75

100 Satin Skirts
Brocaded Baronette for Women
Three excellent models, with smart pockets. A fine assortment of sizes and colors. Navy, blue, flesh, peach and plenty of white $10.00

Silk Negligees
Crepe de Chine, Taffeta and Meteor
In long-line graceful styles and dainty colorings.
AT HALF PRICE

Imported Ribbons
Wash Satin Brocade for lingerie, bow knot design, fine quality yarn, dyed in pink, blue and white. 10 yards to the piece. Per piece,
3 in. 50c | 4½ in. 60c | 5 in. 95c | 7 in. $1.35 | 9 in. $1.65

Silkoline
Plain and fancy, the kind that formerly sold value 39c per yard. Yard wide, per yard 19c

Philippine Gowns
Envelopes and Straight Chemises
All hand work. Beautiful designs in solid embroidery, eyelet or Caledo work..... $2.50

Apron Dresses
Bungalow style in plain color percales, pink, light blue and lavender, rick-rack trimmed, with unique front, ending in a tie-back sash. Becoming to slender or medium figure. Slip-over with no buttons to pull off in laundering $1.00

Kitchenette Dress
Amoskeag Gingham
Material selected from our own stock, the model most in demand; complete sizes and colors..... $1.50

400 Girls' Dresses
Striped and figured Voile. Formerly selling for $10.00. Sizes 6 to 16 years $3.75

Women's Union Suits
Summer weight, cotton, low neck, sleeveless, cuff knee. Sizes 36 and 38 only. Were 65c 35c

Organdie Dresses
For Children 2 to 6 Years
With Val. lace trimmings and dainty ribbon tie sashes. White and colored organdies. Sizes 2-6 years $2.00

Gray Suede Pumps
½ pairs, one and two straps, with full Louis heel. Average price $8.75 $12.00 .....

Powders and Perfumes
Djer Kiss Talcum Powder, formerly selling at 25c. Now 21c
Djer Kiss Perfume, formerly selling at $1.50 per oz. Now $1.15
Djer Kiss Face Powder, formerly selling at 50c. Now 45c

Mattresses and Pillows
100 Mattresses and 200 Pillows
We will sell a combination of one pair $4.00 pillows and 1 mattress, with rolled edge, worth $13.50, all sizes for $10.95

Ladies' Handkerchiefs
All Pure Linen
Hand embroidered corner with initial. Formerly 60c.. 37½c

Men's Shirts
Fine Woven French Madras and Imported Percale
Negligee style, French cuffs. Values $1.50 and $2.50. Taken from our own regular stock. Slightly soiled $1.75

Anchor Sheeting
Full Bleached Dwight
81 inches wide, 5 to 20-yard lengths. A yard..... 50c

Luncheon Sets
Sanitas
Fast color, washable, 13 pieces. While the lot lasts 85c

Gloves
500 Pairs of Chamoisette
In the beautiful new shade of bisque and white with contrasting embroidery. Were $1.25. A pair 85c

Silk Stockings
2040 Pairs of Ingrain Allover Silk
In black only. Were $3.00. Fashioned. A pair $1.95

Linoleum
Very desirable quality and patterns. Formerly $1.15 a square yard 75c

Axminster Rugs
9x12, now $30.50. Desirable colors and patterns..... $27.50

60 Waists
Silk Broadcloth and Crepe de Chine
In solid colors and stripes, tailored styles in plain crepe. Were $7.50, $10.50 and $12.50..... $5.75

Cap Hair Nets
Made of Human Hair
Blondes, auburns, light, medium and dark brown, black and purple. Dozen 98c. 3 for 25c

Val. Lace Edges and Insertions
For trimming underwear, 12-yard pieces 49c

Voile Curtains
With tie-backs. Complete, value $2.50, per pair $1.50

Remnants of Dress Goods, Silks and Linings ⅓ Off From Regular Prices

Wash Fabric Remnants
While the lot lasts ½ their former prices

100 Misses' Dresses
Canton Crepe, Taffeta and Tricotine
Trimmed with dainty colors and embroideries, having the long waist and tunic effects..... $18.75

Boys' Two-Pant Suits
Norfolk belted models, coats sateen lined, trousers re-enforced with tape seams and lined throughout; in gray, brown and green mixtures. Sizes 8 to 18 years $13.50

Misses' Coats
And Wraps of Polo, Duvet de Laine and Velour
Values up to $39.75..... $19.50

12 Stone Marten Choker Scarfs
Good quality of skins. Value $37.50..... $27.50

Figured White Voile
Excellent quality for waists and dresses. Formerly 62c to $1.00 ..... 39c

Neckwear
An Importer's Sample Line
Fine Belgian lace, hand made. ½
AT HALF PRICE

Boys' Khaki Suits
In Norfolk Style
Well made for wear service. Reduced from $4.25..... $2.95

75 Waists
Crepe de Chine and Georgette
Slightly soiled; in good style. Formerly $5.00 to $7.50..... $3.95

Misses' Plaid Skirts
Pleated effects, good color combinations. Formerly $10.50 to $15.00 ..... $8.75

Veilings
A large selection of fine quality in brown, black and navy. Regularly 50c..... 29c

Women's Wrap Coats
OF TUSKARA DUVETYN
This material formerly sold for $49.50 a yard and last year garments of this character sold at $95.00 ..... $55.00

Misses' Jersey Suits
Tuxedo model. Smart colorings of navy and brown... $12.50

Boston Bags
Leather lined, good quality, well made. Formerly $4.75..... $3.50

Women's Suits
Finest tricotine, all silk lined, hand tailored in long-line styles. Formerly $75.00 and $95.00..... $55.00

200 Girls' Dresses
Cotton Voile and organdie of good quality, in dainty well-made models. Sizes 6 to 14 years. Formerly $10.00 and $15.00 ..... $3.75

Trimmed Hats
Straw and Taffeta
Value $5.00 ..... $1.50

50 Women's Silk Dresses
Late models, long line and tunic styles, excellent quality and finish, wanted colors. Special Price..... $22.75

MGR. BOYLE APPOINTED BISHOP OF PITTSBURGH

Rome, April 28.—The Pope has appointed Monsigner Hugh Boyle as bishop of Pittsburgh, and Monsigner Emanuel as bishop of Corpus Christi.

MRS. AURORE BARRETTE, popular New Hampshire woman, who says Tanlac brought about a wonderful change in her condition and that every suffering woman ought to know about this wonderful medicine.

"Tanlac is a grand medicine, and I think every suffering woman ought to know about it," was the statement made recently by Mrs. Aurore Barrette, at her residence, 152 Second street, Manchester, New Hampshire. Mrs. Barrette, is a well known and highly respected resident of that city.

"I have not felt at all well for the past year or more," she continued, "I haven't been sick enough to be in bed, but I was far from being a well woman. At times I thought I had kidney trouble, for I suffered almost constantly from severe pains across my back, just over the kidneys. Whenever I tried to do any housework at all that dull pain would be there, and if I attempted to stoop over it just felt as though my back would break. I would get so weak and worn out I would have to sit down and rest several times a day, and I felt tired all the time.

"This condition made me awfully nervous, so that I rarely ever slept well at night, and every new and then I would jump in my sleep, as if in a fright, and my condition was really becoming serious.

"Only two bottles of Tanlac have brought about a wonderful change in my condition. In fact, the results I have received from this medicine have really surprised me. Those terrible pains in my back which used to trouble me every day have almost disappeared, and I am going to keep on taking Tanlac until they leave me entirely. I have lots of energy now, and am not only able to do my house work, but I get through the day without feeling the least bit tired. I am no longer nervous like I was, and I sleep well at night.

"I shall always be thankful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is distributed by International Proprietaries, Inc., and sold in Boston by all Liggett's drug stores. —Adv.

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET--AH!

"Tiz" is grand for aching swollen, tender, calloused feet or corns.

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, aching, tender, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" relieves your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "Tiz." Get a whole year's foot comfort for a few cents. Think of it.—Advertisement.

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"Now I Can Walk," Says Mrs. Southcott of Medina.

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Mr. Peterson of Buffalo. "One that I would rather have than a hundred dollars.

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such relief-healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all druggists for 35 cents a large box."

Read this letter, written February 14, 1918, by Mrs. Albert Southcott, of Medina, N. Y. It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it.

I know it because I get similar letters almost every week from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles.

Is it any wonder I am happy?

Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—

"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcers. I had tried many everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and I have not been took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 9 inches by 6½ inches in all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again.

"You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

WANTED

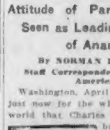
We welcome letters of inquiry from all persons interested in our plan for reducing the cost of heat, light and power. UNIVERSAL TIDE POWER CO., 49 Canal St., Boston.

FRENCH POLICY MENACES WORLD

Attitude of Paris Politicians Seen as Leading to Wave of Anarchy

By NORMAN HAPGOOD, Staff Correspondent of Boston American.

Washington, April 28.—It is lucky just now for the whole demoralized world that Charles E. Hughes has brains.



Norman Hapgood.

He also has will. He is going to need both. Almost all are not badly infected with war psychology. A man who is still thinking in war terms is more than useless at the present moment.

What is what is the matter with the French government. It is doing all it can to plunge Europe into anarchy more costly than the war itself. It is frightening the French population, rajoling it, feeding it lies. Why do the French politicians do these things? Because they are politicians and the first law of their lives is to remain in office.

There is nothing gained in frothing about the faults of the present German government. It is the people on top who are responsible for a wise solution, not those underneath.

CANNOT ESCAPE PAYING.

Suppose we grant the Germans are trying, by every device they can find, to lessen the penalties inflicted on them. There is no chance they will be able to get out of paying as much as is for the good of the world.

Without any invasion, without any technical cheating and twisting of the terms of the treaty, the Germans would still be helpless. They cannot possibly get on their feet without raw material and foreign trade, which is to say, without the co-operation of the principal countries among their former enemies.

I do not believe the story there is a secret understood between France and Great Britain by which Britain gets a free hand in Russia in return for which France gets a free hand in Germany. France did what she could to prevent the British from making the trade agreement with Russia. England acted anyway. It is not for any such reason that she allows France now to dictate the treatment of Germany.

MAY FORCE SMASH-UP.

France does it because she insists on doing it, and, of course, wants to avoid a smash-up of the Entente. If the French keep on the way they force such a smash-up sooner or later. If they occupy the Ruhr district on May 1, alone or with perfunctory co-operation of the British, they will take the first step toward an anarchy from which the Germans will be the first to suffer, but from which in the end the French will suffer more even than the Germans.

Europe will be plunged again into complete desperation, everybody will be bled almost to death, but Germany and Russia will emerge from the ruins with more strength than the smaller population of France. The only gainers will be either the Bolsheviki or the royalists.

It is indeed the royalists and the near-royalists in France who are dictating the present fatal policy. The voices that prevail are represented by the Royalist "Action de France" and the near-royalist "Echo de Paris."

PREMIER FORCED ALONG.

Briand is hurried along his deadly course because those who threaten to take the power away from him are not the more liberal elements in France, but those whose spokesmen are Poincare, Foch, Tardieu and Leon Daudet.

The matters in real dispute are trivial compared with what invasion would bring upon us all. They are mostly matters of fact and arithmetic. Impartial business men could agree on terms in a month.

No such impartiality can be permitted, because the French politicians are still rearing their people to death about the French budget, with its threat of bankruptcy, and feeding them at the same time on the idiotic hope that the German reparations can save them.

Nothing on earth can save them except higher taxes, more ruthlessly collected, and a resumption of business, which the invasion will set back for months and perhaps for years.

LABOR ALONE REASONABLE.

The only element in France that talks reason is labor, and it is impotent. The greatest of French labor unions comes out with a plea for finding the reparations in German labor applied to the devastated region, perhaps using German materials, with the hope of resulting good will.

Labor knows, as everybody at heart knows, that grabbing the small German gold reserve out of the National Bank is no solution. It would ruin German credit, which is bad enough already, and would thereby make Germany still less able to carry out the enormous undertakings forced on her. The policy of the Bloc National group of French politicians is not in truth aimed at reparations. It is aimed at fooling the French people for the first place, and finding excuses for controlling, in the second place, more coal, iron and strategic boundaries than the French were able to force out of Wilson at Paris.

It is imperialism that carries in itself the seeds of death for all, and primarily for the country that indorses it.

SOMERVILLE TEACHER MARRIES FORMER SOLON

Miss Lena Gertrude Allen, a teacher in the A. A. Berry Grammar School, Somerville, became the bride of former Representative William Phillip French, an ex-president of the Somerville Board of Aldermen. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George E. Heath, pastor of the Park Avenue M. E. Church, West Somerville. Mr. and Mrs. French will make their home at No. 75 Culpeo road, West Somerville.

Using "Movies" to Spread Gospel

Rev. Paul Smith, originator of the idea of teaching the Gospel by means of the screen, proves the advantage of this method in next Sunday's Advertiser.

Love Lorn Youth Shoots Self Before Altar

Columbus, O., April 28.—Walter E. Schmidt, aged 26, an overseas war veteran and an art student, knelt at the altar in the chapel of the Trinity Church here and shot himself over the heart with a revolver. He is dying.

Schmidt is said to have quarreled with his sweetheart and her father refused to allow him to see her. Schmidt was found with the smoking revolver in one hand and a prayer book opened at the 21th Psalm close to other hand.

ITALIANS TO DISCUSS IRISH LIBERTY QUESTION

Citizens of Italian birth and others at a May Day mass meeting next Sunday will discuss the Irish question. The meeting, which will take place at 2 o'clock, at Morgan Memorial, will be presided over by Antonio Laureano. The invited guests are Vittorio Orlandini, Hon. Edward C. H. Bagley, Hon. James A. Watson, Edward E. Sullivan, Elmer Shattuck, Arthur D. Hill, Cavaliere Dominick Leandro, John J. Murphy, Saverio Romano, Ir. Amedeo Trappolini, Frank H. Foss, Domenick Masgi, Joseph T. Zottoli, Augustus Seavor. Admission is free.

3 AUTO RING CONFESSIONS

Government Closes Case Against International Band; Millionaire Admits Guilt

Detroit, Mich., April 28.—The government rested its case against five defendants in the International auto theft conspiracy case after introducing signed confessions of three of the five indicted men.

Two, those of Joseph Galbo and Douglas Moore, admit theft of cars in Detroit and delivery to agents of defendant, James Burroughs, Bridgeport, Conn., millionaire, alleged brains of the ring.

The third, that of Burroughs, admits transportation of a stolen car from Bridgeport to New York which it is stated was sold to Sven Myquist another defendant.

Burroughs' affidavit also makes mention of Rocco Benjamin, millionaire, Winsted, Conn., automobile dealer, as receiving some of the cars.

Fall River Lamp Lighters Cut

Fall River, April 28.—The wages of the lamp lighters employed by the city have been reduced at the rate of $1 a week. They now receive $24 a week.

Thomasia, 21, Mother of 117, Is Dead

Hanson, April 28.—Thomasia, well-known Plymouth County cat, owned by W. Hallie Keene of Main street, is dead. She was in her twenty-first year, according Mr. Keene. During her stay here Mr. Keene says Thomasia brought 117 progeny into the world, and was the grandmother of most of the prominent mousers in Hanson and Bryantville.

EMPLOYES IN LAWRENCE GRANTED ADVISORY BODY

Lawrence, April 28.—An innovation in Lawrence textile circles, announced by the American Woolen Company operating four mills in the city, is the formation of an advisory board of employes of the mills. The board will be composed of employes of all nationalities, who will offer suggestions to the department of labor. The new body will be a medium of contact between the mill heads and the employes.

TAKE BEECHAM'S PILLS FOR CONSTIPATION

MARINE PARLEY IN DEADLOCK

Meet Again Friday After Benson Warns Against Refusal to Compromise

By Universal Service.

Washington, April 28.—With the solemn warning of Admiral Benson that the nation would condemn any refusal of either side to compromise the wage dispute, which threatens a seamen's strike tying up all the shipping of the American Merchant Marine, the conference of owners and organized ship workers adjourned here to meet Friday for further discussion.

To intimations of the men that they would not recede from their present position in refusing to accept fifteen per cent. wage cuts advocated by Admiral Benson and that they saw no reason for a continuance of the conference, the shipping board chairman uttered the warning that Benson's words were not present "would have to bear the responsibility for anything that might happen.

Although previously contending for a 25 per cent. wage cut, the Atlantic and Gulf owners and operators, represented by William A. Thompson, indicated that they would accede to the scale proposed by Admiral Benson.

KING EMANUEL THANKS ITALIANS OF LAWRENCE

Lawrence, April 28.—The King of Italy, through the Italian ambassador, V. Rolandi Ricci, who recently visited here, has sent the following message to the Italian colony of the city:

"Acknowledging the courteous manifestations, please express my cordial thanks to the colony and to the local American authorities joining in the kind expressions."

The message was received here on behalf of the Italians by Giuseppe Caterini, Italian consular agent of Lawrence.

THE FLAVORY

ORANGE PEKOE TEAS

Cost 30c lb. usually

OUR PRICE 50c LB.

WM. M. HORRIGAN CO.

2 Dock Square

On your way to Faneuil Hall.

LORD PIANO CO.

Only 2 Days More

Tomorrow and Saturday

The Last 2 Days of this Thrift Club Player-Piano Offer with all the privileges listed below at.. $412

Thrift

Player-Piano Club

Limited to 350 Members

By arrangement with the Story-Clark factory we are offering at special prices 350 new 88-note player-pianos. This PLAYER-PIANO THRIFT CLUB is open to any one until the CLUB MEMBERSHIP is filled, and is limited to 350 members. Remember, you do not have to pay cash. Easy terms can be arranged, as low as $3.00 per week. No red tape, and no special club dues. Call at once or fill out and mail attached coupon.

Club Terms	Club Outfit Complete	Club Terms
$3 A Week No Club Dues	$412	$3 A Week No Club Dues

Special to All Club Members

1—Cash Saving of $138
2—Special Low Terms of Only $3 a Week
3—Handsome Music Cabinet
4—Bench to Match
5—20 Latest Q. R. S. Music Rolls (your own selection)
6—Special Club Benefits in Case of Sickness, Etc.
7—No Extra Club Dues
8—No Delivery Charges
9—Exchange Privilege of Your Upright Piano
10—Written Guarantee

Beautiful Bench, Cabinet and 20 Q. R. S. Rolls (Your Own Selection)

Call Friday or Saturday to Insure Membership and Have Special Club Privileges Explained

OPEN FRIDAY EVENING UNTIL NINE P. M.

OPEN SATURDAY EVENING UNTIL TEN P. M.

Lord Piano Co.

757 Boylston Street, Boston

(Just Beyond Public Library)

Established 1875

also 34 Lawrence Street, Lawrence

Established 1875

OUT-OF-TOWN BUYERS

We deliver free of charge within 100 miles at the same price. Out-of-town buyers please write, stating deposit you wish to pay, using coupon herewith.

Lord Piano Co., Boston, Mass.

Without obligation on my part, send me further information about your Thrift Club player-piano offer.

Name .....

Address .....

R. A. 4-28

NO CLUB DUES OR DELIVERY CHARGES

There are no special club dues to be paid. We deliver player into your home free.

When in Doubt Buy of

OSGOOD

ESTABLISHED 1874 — 744-756 Washington St. Boston. — ESTABLISHED 1874

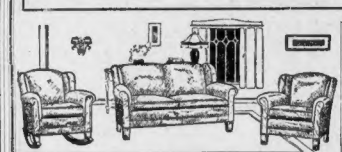
Furniture at Low Cost

Furniture of style and durability at the lowest prices in New England and on liberal terms of credit—three factors that have made Osgood's the mecca for home lovers during the past half century. Unfailing courtesy and cheerful adjustment of complaints are other features which have given the house of Osgood its present enviable reputation.

The bedroom suite shown above is one that would be hard to duplicate at the price. It is made of walnut, well constructed and finished, and is in every way a high grade suite. Special low prices this week:

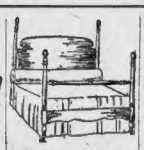
$65.00 Dressing Tables	$46.75	$52.00 Chifforobes	$33.75
$52.00 Beds	$32.75	$69.00 Dressers	$52.75

Liberal Credit Extended to All



Beautiful Living Room Suites

As illustrated, three pieces, upholstered in genuine Spanish leather or high-grade tapestry of refined coloring; excellent workmanship throughout. Will make your living room homelike and inviting. Regularly 229.00. Special low price this week 146.75



Mahogany Beds

As illustrated, sizes 4 ft., 6 in. and 3 ft. 3 in., very attractive. Regularly 54.00. Special low price this week..... 29.85

Dressers or Chiffoniers

As illustrated, walnut or mahogany finish, swell front, plate mirror. Regularly 69.75. Special low price this week. 50.95

Osgood's Convenient Weekly or Monthly Payment System has enabled hundreds of thousands to realize their dreams of a home-like home. A small payment down is all that is required to furnish your home attractively and cofortably. The balance may be paid in small weekly or monthly amounts to suit your convenience.

Refrigerators

As illustrated, "White Mountain Grand"; white enamel lining; size 47x33x20 inches, ice capacity 100 lbs. Regularly 61.00. Special low price this week... 46.75

Buffets

As illustrated, golden oak, plate mirror, well built, substantial-looking buffet. Regularly 73.00. Special low price this week.. 54.75

Pullman Runabouts

As illustrated, gray or ecru reed, repp upholstering. Regularly 39.00. Special low price this week.... 31.50

Cabinet for Victrola VI

Make your small machine into a beautiful period model similar to those selling for 250.00. The Victrola VI fits right into this handsome table cabinet, making a complete outfit as above.

Cabinet 65.00, 6.50 Down, 5.00 Month.

Victrola VI 38.00, 3.50 Down, 4.00 Month.

Complete Outfit 100.00, 10.00 Down, 6.00 Month.

Striking Bargains in Rugs

59.50 Seamless Axminster Rugs, 9x12	48.75	26.50 Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 7.6x9	21.75
52.50 Seamless Axminster Rugs, 8.3x10.6	41.75	21.50 Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 6x9	16.75
40.00 Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 9x12	32.75	21.50 Heavy Wool Fibre Rugs, 9x12	16.75
34.50 Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 8.3x10.6	28.75	20.00 Heavy Wool Fibre Rugs, 8.3x10.6	15.75
		14.00 Heavy Wool Fibre Rugs, 6x9	10.75

The C. E. Osgood Company

2 Stores { 744-756 Washington St., Boston 11; 2141-2147 Washington St., Roxbury 19

MEMBER BOSTON BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

MISS CHAMBERLAIN TO WED NORMAL W. HALL

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Chamberlain of No. 16 Palmer street, Arlington, of the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Blanche, to Norman Winslow Hall, son of Edward W. Hall, of "Morningside," Winchester. Mr. Hall is in business in Revion. No date has been set for the wedding.

FALL RIVER PATIENT ANXIOUS TO END LIFE

Fall River, April 28.—When a stranger whom he had asked to shoot him refused, Michael O'Leary of Fourth street, walked to the city dock and dove off. He was rescued and returned to a local hospital from which he had been released a few hours before.

LIQUOR RAIDERS' SHOTS SINK ROWBOAT

New York, April 28.—Riddled by a fusillade of revolver shots fired by a party of customs inspectors and liquor raiders, a rowboat supposed to have been loaded with contraband liquor and drugs was sunk off the foot of Forty-second street, Brooklyn. Shortly afterward the affray spiled a motorboat which they hailed. When the command to halt was disobeyed, the officers again began firing an dthe occupants of the boat leaped overside and disappeared. The boat was found to contain a quantity of liquor and drugs.

BUTTER Is Lower. Finest Fresh Creamery, Lb. 48c

EGGS "Pine Grove" Fresh Western 36c Doz. Fancy, Strictly Fresh "Wm. Elliot" Extra 40c Doz.

CHEESE WHITE CREAM Lb. 32c YELLOW CREAM Lb. 33c

TEAS "Golden Rose" Finest Selection, Delicious Flavor, Air-Tight Packages OOLONG, MIXED OR ENGLISH BREAKFAST..... LB. 45c ORANGE PEKOE CEYLON. Our Price, Lb. 49c

Coffee "GOLDEN ROSE" Lb. 29c Coffee "JOHN ALDEN" Lb. 39c
A Choice Old Coffee at Popular Price Perfect Blend of Finest Old Crop Coffees

Pea Beans . . Lb. 6c Small White . . . . . 5 Lbs. 25c
Catsup . . Pt. Bot. 23c Snider's Pure Tomato
Prunes . . . . Lb. 16c Large Meaty Santa Claras, 5 Lbs. 75c
Macaroni . . Pkg. 8½c "Golden Rose" . . . . 6 for 49c
Tomatoes . . . Can 8c Standard Quality . . . . 6 for 47c
Pineapple . Can 27c Sliced or Grated . . 3 Cans 80c

Shredded Wheat 12½c
"Sealect" Evap. Milk 13c
Campbell's TOMATO SOUP 10c
Fels-Naptha Soap 6½c
Gold Dust (Large 25c) (Small Pkg. 4½c)
"Sunshine" FIG BARS Lb. 21c
FLOUR "Golden Rose" Bag $1.39 "Gold Medal" Bag $1.29
Corn GOLDEN BANTAM Can 22c
Salmon PINK ALASKA Tall Can 12½c
Maple Syrup PINT BOTTLE 43c
Cocoa "Golden Rose" ½ Lb. Can, 25c 15c
Rolled Oats 5 Lbs. 20c
Sliced Bacon Lb. 33c

The GINTER Co.
Grocery Stores Everywhere Boston & Suburbs
Also Eleven Attractive Boston Restaurants

Raisin BREAD

Wholesome, Delicious, Healthful
Real "Honest-to-Goodness"
RAISIN BREAD
Just Like Mother Makes Herself
19c a Loaf
This is Sun-Maid Raisin Week at all Federal Bakeries

Federal SYSTEM OF BAKERIES
19 TREMONT ST. Opposite Kimball Bldg.
125 FEDERAL ST.
144 CANAL ST.
9 DOCK SQUARE
720 MASS. AVE., Back Bay

DEPRESSION DUE TO PROFITEERS

Crissinger Finds They Are the Chief Cause of Industrial Unrest

By International News Service.

Washington, April 28. — The war profit principle among middlemen in business is causing industry to lag, putting a clog upon the people's spending power and causing discontent among laboring masses, and the government, studying business readjustments, finds profiteering still at the root of much existent depression and inaction in business, it was asserted today by Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger.

Labor cannot justly be expected to make wage sacrifices, if profiteers among manufacturers and middlemen and distributors generally combine to keep the cost of living high, by prices admittedly unreasonable, Comptroller Crissinger said.

He declared there was a vital need for readjustment of wages, but that labor would be found unwilling to suffer wage cuts if middlemen's profits, which are eventually paid by the consumer, are kept at extortionate levels.

"There is ample proof that no proper relation exists today between production costs and consumers' costs," said Crissinger.

"Food, clothing, housing and practically everything else people have to buy are affected.

"How can we, as a nation of business men, expect wage earners to agree to wage reductions while the middleman not only passes on his losses to the consumer, but exacts an unreasonable profit on replacements?"

Buried in the Atlantic

Why was the body of Lady Furness, wife of the great ship owner, buried at sea. The facts, recently received in America, in next Sunday's Advertiser.

Harding Reviews Fleet at Hampton Roads

Norfolk, Va., April 28.—President Harding, aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower, today made an inspection of America's first line of defence in Hampton Roads.

With the President were Mrs. Harding and about fifteen guests, including Secretary of the Navy Denby.

Upon arrival in Hampton Roads this morning, the President's yacht dropped anchor off Thimble Shoals Lightship while more than fifty vessels of the Atlantic fleet, including twenty dreadnoughts and cruisers, filed in through the Virginia capes for the grand review.

The review began promptly at 9 o'clock, the big dreadnoughts headed by the flagship Pennsylvania, steaming past the Mayflower, flanked by destroyers, submarines and other craft, while a large aerial navy craft wheeled overhead.

After the review the President and Secretary Denby went aboard the dreadnought Pennsylvania for a reception to the officers of the Atlantic fleet.

MISS BROOKS BROWNE WEDS IN NEW YORK

New York, April 28.—Miss Brooks Browne, granddaughter of the late Clausen Browne, well known Boston attorney, and daughter of Mrs. William Marmaduke Brooks of Boston, is the bride of James Barnes of Princeton. The marriage ceremony was performed at the home of Mrs. Browne's sister, Mrs. Francis Ingersoll, No. 144 East Sixty-second street, this city. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will reside in Princeton.

BREAKERS HERE FOR STRIKE

Bay State Distributes Non-Union Men—To Have 1,000 by Saturday

More strike-breakers arrived in Boston today to work in the lines of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company.

The trustees declared they are prepared to operate if the strike threatened for May 1 goes into effect.

The strike-breakers were distributed among the various divisions of the system. By Saturday night it is expected that nearly 1,000 will be on hand.

Fred A. Cummings, publicity representative, said enough men had already been secured to handle the power houses, and that twice as many applications had been received as were needed.

CLARK UNIVERSITY TO LOSE 3 PROFESSORS

Worcester, April 28.—Clark University will lose three of its distinguished educators in June when Prof. William Story, Prof. Henry Taber and Prof. Joseph de Perrott, all of the mathematical department, will retire on pensions, having reached the age limit.

Vose Player Piano

This instrument, with its delightful Vose tone, makes you glad to forget all other players. It establishes a new and much higher standard of player excellence for your comparison.

—The National reputation of the Vose Company, earned and deserved by the super excellence of Vose pianos and players, is offered you for consideration in your selection of a Player. TERMS.

A complete stock of MELODEE Music Rolls at your service. The MELODEE is universally accepted as the roll of quality. Call and have it demonstrated.

Vose & Sons Piano Co.
160 BOYLSTON ST. Estab. 1851

Last Week of Morgan's Great Anniversary Sale

"The Home of Home Outfits"

WE INTEND TO MAKE THIS A RECORD BREAKING WEEK, CONSPICUOUS FOR ITS ABSOLUTE SINCERITY

Extraordinary Bargains, Unequalled Low Prices, Exceptional High Quality Merchandise and Easy Credit Terms Are the Paramount Features of This Sale

No matter what your furniture requirement may be, either a single piece or a complete suite, you will save money if you attend this sale.

3-PIECE TAPESTRY PILLOW ARM PARLOR SUITE
Spring seat, spring edge, spring seat, spring cushion, spring back, spring everything—a wonderful value, upholstered in a beautiful fold wearing tapestry, exactly as shown. Three pieces complete..... $165 2.00 Weekly

Bed Outfit Complete
$40 worth of bedding at almost half price. Metal bed, panel end, baked white enamel, oak, walnut or mahogany finish, fitted with guaranteed National fabric spring and a quality Felumoid mattress..... 24.75 1.00 Weekly

$75 BRASS BED OUTFIT COMPLETE, CUT TO 39.75 1.00 Weekly

Sliding Couch, Complete With Mattress 8.75

ABOVE IS AN ACTUAL DRAWING OF THIS WONDERFUL CHAMBER SUITE BARGAIN $149 3.50 Weekly

WILLIAM AND MARY PERIOD DINING SET
Only by seeing this wonderful set can its real value be appreciated—the very finest construction, beautifully finished Buffet, Table and chairs to match. An exceptional value at this sale price..... $139 2.50 Weekly

Three-Piece Parlor Suite
Massively constructed on mortised frame, beautiful high plate mahogany finish, extra strong all-tempered steel springs and seat and back, all spiral, covered through out..... 39.75 1.00 Weekly

3-Piece Priscilla Parlor Suite
Extra heavy, beautifully finished mahogany frame 3-compartment (extra) large roomy Chair and Rocker. Formerly sold for 125.00. Sale Price..... 89.50 1.50 Weekly

EXTRAORDINARY OFFERING PERIOD LIVING ROOM OR PARLOR SUITE
Special Bargain—Large extra heavy Cushion Seat, handsome William and Mary design, high plate mahogany finish. Reduced from $7.50 to..... 42.50 1.00 Weekly

Fine-Piece Dining Room Suites
A number of these fine solid oak, five-piece suites go on sale at a history-making price. Buffet, Extension Table and 4 side seat Chairs. Choice of any one suit price (Pay 1.00 a Week)..... 33.75

SALE SPECIAL—ADAM PERIOD DINING SUITE
Bargains like these are very seldom offered. The above suite is a beautiful American walnut design. You can get this suite with special drawer lined for silverware, large, roomy living room compartment, together with extension type Dining Table and Chairs to match. Suite complete..... $125 1.50 Weekly

Ask Our Courteous Salesmen to Show You Our

4-Room Superb Outfit $245 3.00 Weekly

4-Room Victory Outfit $169 2.00 Weekly

"The Home of Home Outfits" Offers

Superior Outfits, ranging from $129 to $2000, on convenient terms. No interest or insurance charges.

We accept Liberty Bonds at par and accrued interest (on 100 cents on the dollar basis)

YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD AT MORGANS 757-759 WASHINGTON ST.

We hold goods selected now until wanted free of charge.

We refund R. R. fare to out-of-town purchasers from any delivery anywhere

Save Coupons Redeemable for Useful Gifts

NEAR HOLLIS STREET — NO CHARGE FOR INTEREST OR INSURANCE — NEAR HOLLIS STREET

Raisin Day—April 30th

Next Saturday is Raisin Day all over the United States—the day on which millions will make and try delicious new raisin foods. Try them in your home. Begin on that day to get the benefit of the raisin's healthful food-iron which brings the pretty rose tint to the cheeks.

Stewed Raisins
Cover Sun-Maid Raisins with cold water and add a slice of lemon or orange to each half pound. Place on fire; bring to a boil and allow to simmer for one hour. Sugar may be added but is not necessary, as Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins contain 75% natural fruit sugar. Serve with or without cream.

Try Stewed Raisins on Raisin Day

—the attractive way to bring the bloom of youth to women's and children's cheeks

Stewed Sun-Maid Raisins are as luscious a dish as was ever served at breakfast. And they bring a benefit that everyone should have.

Rich in food-iron, raisins help to make red corpuscles for the blood. When cheeks are pale the blood has too little iron.

Raisins, through their iron content, tend to bring the rose tint back.

So raisins are "a beauty food," because they promote the good looks of good health. Serve stewed raisins at least twice a week.

Great sanitariums serve them to anaemic patients every day.

SUN-MAID RAISINS

Use Sun-Maid Raisins in all your cooking, for they are the finest grown. Made from tender, juicy, thin-skinned California table grapes.

Packed in an immaculate plant in California. Clean, sweet, wholesome American raisins—the kind you know are good.

Three varieties: Sun-Maid Seeded (seeds removed); Sun-Maid Seedless (grown without seeds); Sun-Maid Clusters (on the stem). All dealers. Insist upon the Sun-Maid Brand.

Send for free book, "Sun-Maid Recipes," describing scores of ways to use.

CALIFORNIA ASSOCIATED RAISIN CO.
Membership 10,000 Growers
Fresno, California

Cut This Out and Send It

California Associated Raisin Co.
Dept. N-222-B, Fresno, California

Please send me your book, "Sun-Maid Recipes," free.

Name_____

Address_____

City_____ State_____

LATEST NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MOTION PICTURE WORLD

By FRIEDA DAVIS.

THEY were going through a mob scene from "Boomerang Bill," the new Lionel Barrymore film which Cosmopolitan Productions are making. The huge ballroom of the Manhattan Casino was in half darkness and about 200 "extras" were standing about talking. Over in one corner on a platform was Tom Terriss, the director, and ten camera men with their machines. Terriss was giving the last directions before rehearsing a scene.

"Remember," he shouted across the hall, "it's supposed to be a wild cabaret scene. When I whistle the first time the orchestra will start up. You dance. At the second whistle the music will stop and the lights will go down. You all rush toward the doors in confusion. Fight each other to get out as hard as you can. The third time I whistle the lights will go on again, the music will start, and gradually you get reassured and go on dancing. Ready, shoot!"

LIONEL BARRYMORE EXPLAINS.

I WAS sitting below the platform talking with Lionel Barrymore, who was waiting for his next scenes. He takes the liveliest interest in the work and pays as much attention to the playing of others as he does his own.

"How's that look, Lionel?" Terriss boomed down to us through his megaphone. "As well as it does from up here?"

"Great!" Barrymore replied ironically.

"You see that man standing in the front of the set," he turned to me. "The one in the green suit. He's been an 'extra' ever since I've been in pictures, and that's some years. If you could really see the different groups in the films you'd find him figuring in the front row of the mob time and time again. Some of these girls, too, roam from studio to studio, never changing their manners or showing any individuality. They have done it so long that they have lost all ambition to work up to big parts. Those who do retain their ambition and study the business usually are heard from before long.

"Some have said that working on from an 'extra' job is the best way to get into the movies," she answered.

"Hah!" Barrymore snorted. "The best way to get into them is to get in on the ground floor! But if you can't do that, why, then—" and he shrugged his shoulders.

Suddenly a whistle sounded. The men and women on the floor straightened into attention, the Kliegs lights were turned on full force, and the orchestra in the background blared forth "Marie." The mob began to dance and laugh and talk animatedly.

A second time the whistle sounded. The music stopped short. The dancers looked at each other in surprise, then dove in herds for the nearest door. Some who found it impossible to make their way through those in the doorway, turned and hysterically ran around in circles. It was very realistic.

Still again the whistle sounded. This time the music started up again, and the mob turned, slowly overcame their doubts and fears and hesitatingly began dancing. Again they showed clearly the feelings and emotions of the characters they were playing. As much real acting was gone through by each one as if he or she were the only figure in the scene.

SOCIETY WOMEN "EXTRAS."

"They seem to work hard," I remarked to Barrymore.

"Yes," he grunted, "but wait until the scene stops. They lose interest right away. You never see them watching other players to see how they carry out their ideas. I don't believe they'd watch Sarah Bernhardt if she were playing in the picture.

"You see this crowd of women over on the right hand side," he went on. "They aren't regular extras. They are society women who have come down to have a fling at the movies. It's never hard to get a crowd together to play a atmosphere. There are always lots of women who are willing to do it for a lark. Some of them would make good in this business if they would only take it seriously."

(Concluded Tomorrow.)

CAMERA CLICKS

AGNES AYRES has left Los Angeles for New York to play the feminine lead with Thomas Meighan, who is to star in "Cappy Ricks," an adaption of the stories of Peter B. Kyne.

DORIS KENYON has been engaged by the Selwyn's to play the leading role in "The Love Cure," the new comedy by Edgar Selwyn in which Lee Carillo will be starred. The piece will be presented on Broadway in June.

RUDOLPH VALENTINO, who has just finished playing the role of Armand opposite Mme. Nazimova in Camille," has left Hollywood for a vacation at Palm Springs, Cal., before he starts work on Rex Ingram's new picture, which will be taken from a novel of Balzac's. Valentino plays the leading role in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," which comes to Tremont Temple on Monday.

IN her new picture, "Footlights," Elsie Ferguson plays the part climbs the ladder to success and becomes a famous Russian artist under the direction of a canny New York theatrical manager. In one of the scenes she gives an imitation of Eddie Foy.

THE RACE IS ON.

A NEW development in the Natalie Talmadge-Buster Keaton romance has come up. A New York paper announced some weeks ago that Natalie Talmadge was wavering in her affection for the "Frozen-faced comedian." The one who is in a fair way of unsettling this affection is Owen Gilman, a Chicago broker.

The same day that Buster Keaton appeared in New York to make arrangements for the marriage, Gilman showed up, too. While the race seems to be even, there are some who favor the Chicago man, for Miss Talmadge has been seen with him more often than with Keaton. She and Gilman went to Marion Davies' home for dinner the other evening and then went on to the Silks' Club dance, without the third angle of the triangle.

MODESTY NOTE.

"WHICH picture is the best, Jackie?" young Coogan was asked yesterday. "The Kid' or 'Peck's Bad Boy'?"

"It's hard to say," Jackie returned. "They're both wonderful."

While Director Robert Vignola explains to K. Lincoln the proper way to do the shooting, Seena Owen calls goes on making up as a shipwrecked mariner. This was takenwhile the company was in the Bahamas taking scenes for "The Vaan God Changed."

HEAVY FINE FOR IMITATOR OF NUXATED IRON

Imposed by United States Judge

A heavy fine for violation of the criminal law for selling and trying to "palm off" on the public, fraudulent imitations of Nuxated Iron has been imposed by a United States Judge in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Nuxated Iron is an organic iron product, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while the iron which people usually take is metallic or mineral iron and can be made much cheaper than Nuxated Iron, as mineral iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. On account of the large sale of Nuxated Iron—it being estimated that over 4,000,000 people annually are using it—imitators found in it a fertile field for their fraudulent work.

Nuxated Iron is the most concentrated form of iron known to medical science and is the basis of all the world famous iron tonics. It will often increase the health and nerve vigor of weak, rundown, nervous people in two weeks' time. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. Nuxated Iron comes in tablets only—never in liquid form.

Beware of substitution. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters "N. I." on the tablets themselves. Ask your druggist—advertisement.

The Liver Is the Road to Health

If the liver is right the whole system is better off. Carter's Little Liver Pills awaken your sluggish, clogged-up liver and relieve constipation, stomach trouble, inactive bowels, loss of appetite, sick headache and dizziness. Purely vegetable. You need them.

Small Pill—Small Dose—Small Price

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Wedding Rings

Solid 14, 18 and 22k Gold Seamless Wedding Rings Including the New Hand-Carved Rings

$5 to $15

Dr. E. B. Horn Co. Established 1870 420 WASHINGTON ST

VORENBERG'S

Two-Day "Specials"

for FRIDAY AND SATURDAY only

Suits=Coats

SUITS

Regular $22.50 Value

$14.98

Choose from twelve styles, one of which is pictured here in blue serge. Others of Jersey and novelty cloths. Your choice $14.98.

Polo Coats

Regular $16.50 Value

$10.98

In four smart models, one pictured at right. Made with inverted plait in back, harness stitching, patch pockets and belt. Sizes 16 years to size 42. Special $10.98.

$14.98 $10.98

$2.00 Waists $1.49 Friday & Saturday Only. Fine white voile—new frilled front. Sizes 36 to 44. Were $2.

$3.00 Dresses $1.98 Friday & Saturday Only. With kimona or flared or plain ginghams. Sizes 6 to 14. Were $3.00.

$1.50 Middies $1. Friday & Saturday Only. Fine linen in white, rose and cream. Sizes 6 to 14. Were $1.50.

Union Suits 59c Friday & Saturday Only. Regular and extra sizes for women; lace trim'med. Were 89c.

$1.00 Hose 79c Friday & Saturday Only. Women's shoes, black silk, black splicing. Were $1.

39c Stockings 25c Friday & Saturday Only. Children's heavy cotton, ribbed; fast black; long wearing. Were 39c.

$1.50 Gowns $1. Friday & Saturday Only. Women's sizes, good cotton with embroidered yoke. Were $1.50.

59c Brassieres 35c Friday & Saturday Only. Bandeau brassieres, in pink brocade. All sizes. Were 59c.

OPEN SATURDAY TILL 10 P. M.

THE BIG STORE—AN ENTIRE BLOCK VORENBERG'S WASHINGTON, HANOVER AND ELM STS.

MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED

Extraordinary Values in DIAMONDS

We place on sale for this week the following list of Diamonds mounted in various styles of Ladies' and Men's 14K gold, platinum and white gold settings. You have the privilege of keeping any of these 10 days for comparison and appraisal, and then returning for the full amount in cash, if desired.

⅛ carat	$68.00
¼ carat	98.00
⅜ carat	43.00
½ carat	129.00
⅝ carats	485.00
¾ carats	235.00
1 carat	139.00
1⅛ carats	389.00
1¼ carats	285.00
1⅜ carats	475.00
1½ carats	390.00
1⅝ carats	210.00
1¾ carats	600.00
1⅞ carats	269.00
⅝ carat	138.00
1 carat	295.00
1⅛ carats	417.00
1⅓ carats	217.00
2 carats	820.00
3 carats	930.00
⅛ carat	29.00
⅜ carat	147.00
⅝ carat	50.00
⅞ carat	198.00
2⅛ carats	478.00

And many others from $25.00 to $5000.00 each.

Mail Orders Filled

JASON WEILER & SONS

Manufacturing Wholesale and Retail Jewelers Since 1870

376 Washington St.

Cor. Franklin, 2nd, 3rd & 4th Floors

Open Saturday Evenings Until 9 P. M.

MEMBER OF BOSTON BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

Charge Accounts Opened on Request | Houghton & Dutton Co. | We Give and Redeem Legal Stamps

Boys' School Suits 4.98

Manufacturers' samples and odd lots, neat mixture patterns, sizes 8 to 18 years, well made coats and full lined knickers. THIRD FLOOR

Blue Denim Overalls 79c

Double and twist fabric, sizes 9 to 15 years. The regular price for overalls made from this fabric is $1.19. THIRD FLOOR

Aluminum Tea Kettles 3.89

Heavy grade, "West Bend" quality, highly polished, with wood handle, 5-quart size, BASEMENT

Library Tables 9.49

Fumed oak finish, with book rack ends and under shelf, size 26x38. FIFTH FLOOR

Golden Oak Rockers 4.98

All solid oak, with shaped saddle seat, extra high back, very strongly made. FIFTH FLOOR

Inverted Lights 59c

Consisting of brass spring clip burner, with side screw, gas regulator, double weave mantle and fancy Tungsten shade. BASEMENT

Ruffled Scrim Curtains 1.35

Serviceable quality, full narrow ruffles on edge and deep flounce on bottom; also one pair tie-backs. FOURTH FLOOR

Jelly and Marshmallow Rolls—As delicious as the best you ever tasted. Regular 15c and 18c sizes, Friday only ..... 13c, 2 for 25c Second Floor

White Voile and Lawn, Yard 17c
Very fine quality, in mill lengths, suitable for children's and misses' Dresses. Street Floor

Seamless Sheets, 1.22
Size 81x90; made from standard sheeting. Street Floor

36-Inch Percales, Yard 17c
Wide and narrow stripes, soft finish, fast colors. Street Floor

Turkish Towels, Each 44c
Extra large; size 22x44. Street Floor

Men's Socks, Pair 18c
Split foot, sizes 9½ to 11½. Regular value 25c a pair. Street Floor

Men's White Shirts, 1.39
Soft collars, button down style, all stained; sizes 14½ to 16½. Street Floor

36-Inch Longcloth, Yard 14c
In mill lengths of 2 to 6 yards each. Street Floor

54-Inch Bannockburn Suiting, Yard 1.59
Only 41 yards of this all wool henna mixture. Regular value $4.50. Street Floor

36-Inch Silk Muslin, Yard 29c
In pink only, suitable for lining, dresses or for underwear. Regular price 49c a yard. Street Floor

40-Inch Voile, Yard 28c
Mostly dark colors, in all the newest patterns. Street Floor

Table Damask, Piece 2.20
Mill lengths, size 2x2½ yards each; linen finish. In pieces 2x2 yards, each 1.75. Street Floor

Guest Towels, Each 55c
Hemstitched, some plain and others with space for monogram. Street Floor

Women's Knit Bloomers, 29c
Pink and white, made with gusset, sizes 25, 27 and 29. Street Floor

Children's Hosiery, Pair 29c
Black cotton, Richelieu ribbed, jet black dye, sizes 5½ to 9½. Street Floor

Striped Art Ticking Remnants, Yard 12½c
Fourth Floor

Durable Curtain Scrim, Yard 12½c
Double woven border, white only. Fourth Floor

Scarlet Runner Beans, Special, Lb. 29c
A rapid growing annual climber, bearing sprays of brilliant scarlet pea-shaped blossoms, vines 8 to 10 feet high. BASEMENT

Men's Khaki Shirts 1.10
Made with attached soft collar, sizes 14½ to 17, regular $1.50 value. STREET FLOOR

Aluminum Sauce Pans 59c
1½-qt. size, very heavy grade, highest quality, "Polar" brand. Only 72 of each size in the lot.
2-quart size 74c
3-quart size 84c
BASEMENT

Kitchen Tables 3.49
Strongly made, 24x42-in. top, square legs, large deep drawers; regular price $4.98. FIFTH FLOOR

Large Mixing Bowls 79c
Yellow bowls, with brown bands, 12-inch size. BASEMENT

Magazine Racks 3.98
Fumed oak finish, stands 30 inches high and is 18 inches wide. FIFTH FLOOR

Flower Bowls 79c
A miscellaneous lot, colored art pottery, for table centers, regular $1.24 value. BASEMENT

LOOK FOR THE RED SIGNS

Houghton & Dutton Company

Tremont and Beacon Streets, Boston 9, Mass. We Give and Redeem Legal Stamps

CALCIMO

For Walls and Ceilings

A Perfect Calcimine

Easily Mixed with water from the faucet. Flows Freely Under the Brush and Never Shows Laps White and 16 Delicate Colors. Sold by Reliable Dealers. Information and Color Cards Gladly Given.

CARPENTER-MORTON CO.

Store 77-79 Sudbury St., Boston

Established 1840

TUFTS PRESENTS PRESTON MURDER EVIDENCE TO GRAND JURY

EX-MAYOR ADAMS AND DOW ARE CALLED AS WITNESSES

Continued From First Page.

Great Club of Melrose. There was no intimation as to the nature of his testimony. Robinson was formerly a representative in the Legislature from Chelsea.

He was followed by Edward Sea-bury and Robert Harper of Wakefield, who have been mentioned before, and whose stories have been told through the newspapers.

Certain officials are demanding that a Melrose woman, who now looms conspicuously in the case, be shadowed and subjected to a "third degree" to ascertain her whereabouts on the night of the murder.

POND OF PARTIES

There are features which tend to implicate this woman, it is said. She has long been acquainted with the Louds and Dows. She is reported to be fond of automobile parties and cafe life. She is said to be estranged from her husband.

She has been investigated in a cursory way and developments within the last two days have brought her back into the case.

Some of the officials claim she has accounted for herself, and others say she has not. It appears that the State officials are not keen to pursue this woman suspect, but some of the local authorities are.

The young woman seen to board a trolley at Greenwood and to leave the car at Melrose Highlands the murder night has come forward and disclosed her identity to aid the police. When she read the testimony of Conductor Charles W. Batchelder in the newspapers she communicated with Chief of Police James J. Pollard of Wakefield and was erased from the case.

TUFTS EXCUSES MRS. LOUD.

Mrs. Ida Loud, wife of the accused shoe salesman, will not be a witness before the grand jury, District Attorney Tufts will spare her such an ordeal. Mrs. Loud, the most pathetic figure in the tragedy, has the sympathy of everyone. She has borne up with difficulty. Her greatest solace is her two children.

With her son, who is a senior in Melrose High School, Mrs. Loud has made three visits to East Cambridge jail to see her husband, always at night. The meetings have been dramatic. Loud's friends have not forgotten him. They have sent him fruit and dainties and cheering messages.

NEW EVIDENCE OF STRUGGLE.

It was hinted today that the State may attempt to prove that the mysterious stranger in gabardine coat and soft hat seen standing beside a telegraph pole by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Pauley of Wakefield about 3:10, a few minutes before the shooting, may have been Loud, waiting while Patrolman Preston questioned his alleged woman companion in Beebe lane, where the car must have been drawn up, because the Pauleys saw no trace of Preston or the car or woman.

If the State adopts this hypothesis it would be contradicted by the claim that Loud wore no coat on the night of the murder, a detail disclosed for the first time today. When Loud was seen by three Melrose men walking home on the night of the murder, he wore only a blue suit with patched pockets and a soft hat.

There was mud on his shoulders and blood on his head and coat. The mud on his shoulders indicated, according to the deductions of the prosecutions, that he may have scuffled with Preston, whose shirt band was found torn, another new disclosure.

The State authorities think Preston and Loud had an encounter before Preston forced his alleged two prisoners into the sedan and ordered the man to drive to the police station.

A Tortured Wife

For three years the husband refused to speak to his wife. What she endured is told in the intimate daily record in her diary. Next Sunday's Advertiser.

Grand Jurors in Murder Probe

William H. Kingsley, Acton, foreman.
Michael J. Mahoney, Cambridge, clerk.
Jonathan Baker, Waltham.
Alfred Billett, Maynard.
William J. Canning, Billerica.
Michael F. Cleary, Marlboro.
Guy E. Denison, Lexington.
Thomas Dodd, Ashfield.
Edward Emerson, Stoneham.
Jeremiah H. Flynn, Shirley.
John F. Gately, Hudson.
Ethan A. Khamm, Natick.
William H. Langell, Dracut.
Eugene Leverone, Framingham.
Ernest H. Mercier, Lowell.
Franklin E. Murphy, Malden.
Chester L. E. Perry, Sudbury.

THREATENS TO BLOW UP FALL RIVER CITY HALL

Fall River, April 28.—The following note, thought sent by a crank, has been received by Clerk Crowther:

"Beware! City Hall will be blown to atoms by my hand.
"Signed THE SINGLE."

The letter has been turned over to Chief Fuener and inspectors are working on the case.

BURNING GASOLINE DESTROYS AUTO

An automobile owned by Theodore C. Whitcomb, of No. 12 Pleasant street, Waltham, was destroyed by fire on Rutland street, Watertown, which a five-gallon can of gasoline which was being carried on the front seat of the car suddenly burst into flames. Wilfred Marchant of Newton was using the machine to convey gasoline to a smaller car attached to Gore street.

'Jiggs' Plays Poker in the Coliseum

—until Maggie, on a sight-seeing tour, comes upon the scene. Can you guess the rest? The funniest "comic" in America is as funny as ever in next Sunday's Advertiser.

STRIKE-BREAKERS AT PEABODY ATTACKED

Peabody, April 28. — Stones were thrown at several truckloads of strike-breakers as they were taken through a crowd of 2,000 strikers and strike sympathizers at the A. C. Lawrence Leather Company plant here. Ten State police officers acted as guards to the "breakers."

ROVING BOYS AND GIRL ARE RETURNED

Long Branch, N. J., April 28.—Two boys and a girl who toured four days in an automobile, sleeping in the car, and who were detained at Haddonfield, were returned here. They were Ross White, fourteen years old; Garnett Hudson, sixteen years, and Bradford Ziegler, fifteen years, all high school students.

Skin Troubles
Soothed
With Cuticura
Soap (Unscented, Talcum, Ointment, Resinol Free of Charge. Laboratories, Dept. X, Malden, Mass.

POLICE GIVEN QUIZ DAILY ON MANUAL

Captain Herbert W. Goodwin of the Field's Corner police station has instituted a five-minute quiz on the police manual. Each day a short section of the rules is assigned for study, and at roll-call questions will be asked on that particular phase of the officers' work.

GEORGE F. WASHBURN NAMED M. E. DELEGATE

Plymouth, April 28. — George F. Washburn, known in Boston and a prominent member of the Alden Kindred of America, has been appointed a delegate to the Ecumenical conference of the Methodist Church to be held next September in London.

100% Perfect
Every Packet of "SALADA"
ORANGE PEKOE TEA
is to be depended upon for quality and economy

Wonderful Bargains!

Save $100
ON A PIANO
New Upright Pianos --- New Player Pianos---Baby Grands

Contribute to the U. S. A. Relief FOR IRELAND
It is purely humanitarian, non-religious and non-political. Send contributions to JOS. H. O'NEIL, Treas., 166 Devonshire St., Boston.

PIANO SALE

Liberty Bonds Taken in Trade Full Value Allowed

I am in the Piano business to save people money—not from purely philanthropic motives but because of the Cooperative value of the "Money Saving" idea—and believing that if the idea were projected into its possibilities it would eventually establish a business relation between my customers and my business that would be 100% mutuality. Upon that money saving idea I have since built up the largest business of its kind in New England. I am conducting the Piano business with the greatest regard for the people's side of the transaction—I know that every family will appreciate any saving that I may make for it in the buying of the piano and I use my business ability and my money to make that saving as big as possible—I am in close touch with the piano situation throughout America, every piano manufacturer in the country knows that I can pay spot cash for his pianos if he makes the price low enough for me to save a good sum for my customers—and there comes a time when those manufacturers need cash and they come to me for it. I never buy anything but the best pianos and only at a price that permits me to make a substantial saving for my customers. J. P. COLLINS.

The World's Best Makes in the following list —Some Used a Little and Some Used More.

Mason & Hamlin	$160	Emerson Upright	$80
Ivers & Pond Upright	$175	88-Note Int. Player	$295
McPhail Upright	$95	Steinberg Upright	$65
Vose Upright	$115	Steinway Upright	$160
Ivers & Pond Upright	$75	Chickering Upright	$70
Doll & Sons Upright	$250	Huntington	$160
Knabe Upright	$90	Hallet & Davis	$150
H. P. Miller Upright	$120	Kranich & Bach Upright	$80
Kranich & Bach	$130	Autopiano Player	$297
Chickering Upright	$127	Small Upright	$25
Hallet & Davis Player	$460	Emerson Ang's Player	$300

DELIVERY IN NEW ENGLAND FREE | MONEY BACK After 60-Day Trial If Not as Represented | EASIEST TERMS IN BOSTON

TRADE ALLOWANCES Your Old Piano, Organ, Phonograph, Etc., Taken as Part Payment

J. P. COLLINS
100 Summer St. Corner Devonshire

Charge purchases made today and tomorrow placed on bill rendered June 1st.

Filene's—Value not due to luck
BOSTON 2, MASS.

ONE WHO STUDIES the piano learns to play—the student of mathematics becomes proficient at figures. Training counts, if you have ability at all, in that line to which you apply it. Our training has been devoted to VALUE-GIVING. It is the art to which we have set ourselves for years that we might become proficient. It is our specialty. FILENE VALUES!

Learn how to wear a SCOTTIE suit to advantage

MOTHS ARE COMING; STORE YOUR FURS
Store them in the newest, most modern, cleanest and safest cold storage in New England, located in our Cambridge building. No charge for blown-air cleaning, and in the fall, by calling at the Cambridge building, you can have your furs "while you wait."

An hour more of daylight for your week-ends
LUGGAGE SHOP

The handy Boston bag $5
Indispensable—in Boston or elsewhere—of tan grain cowhide leather on a 15-inch frame, double leather handles.

Convenient week-end cases $12.50

Heavy enamel week-end cases, with padded tops, reinforced corners, brass locks and attractive figured linings, with three pockets. $12.50.

Capacious metal-bound trunks, $15

A strong fibre-covered dress trunk, well made, with one large tray. 36-inch length, $15; 40-inch length, $17.50.

(Filene's—mail orders filled—second floor)

$15
The most versatile suit of the season—SCOTTIE
We order about 50 per cent. of our Scottie suits in navy blue, Tuxedo style.

DON'T you remember the business girl who rode on the "L" with you yesterday—how crisp and trim she looked in her SCOTTIE suit with its dainty hand-made blouse? And the young bride next door—how pretty she was with that Van Dyke organdie vest and collar freshening up her navy blue SCOTTIE suit? And little Betsy L——, home from college, so perky with that gingham vest set worn with her SCOTTIE suit?

Here are four ways of wearing a SCOTTIE suit to the best advantage

FIRST WAY—with gingham vest sets—newest—youthful—colorful! And such a wide color range to choose from! Frilled vest, collar and cuffs. $2.
Neckwear Shop, Street Floor

SECOND WAY—with lace frilled vests—so much cooler than blouses for women who wear their Scottie suit with the coat as a dress, $2.
Neckwear Shop, Street Floor

THIRD WAY—with hand-made frilled blouses. There's a chance for so much beauty in drawn work and embroidery, $5.75.
Women's Blouse Shop, Fifth Floor

FOURTH WAY—with tub silk blouses. They seem to adapt themselves especially well to sports wear. The blouse sketched has a fine striping on collar, frill and link cuffs, $10.75.
Women's Blouse Shop, Fifth Floor

Navy blue foulard pattern voile dresses $10.75
Bands of ribbon on the girdle and side tucks, lace edged net collar, cuffs and vest, silk covered buttons on the vest, and a little velvet bow are the little things that make these dresses such good value for $10.75.
Navy blue voile with white or gold floral designs. Sizes 36 to 44. $10.75.
From the Women's Inexpensive Dress Shop, $10.75
(Filene's—mail orders filled—sixth floor)

A new shipment of our own Grace corsets at $2.50
Grace corsets are Filene's own brand, and we make sure that they reach a high standard in durability and daintiness.
It is a pleasant comparison for us to contrast the high prices we were compelled to pay for them last year with the prices we can buy them for now.
The corsets in this new shipment at $2.50 include dainty materials, black boning and surgical webbing in the elastic top styles. They would probably have been nearly twice this price last year.
(Filene's—Corset Shop—third floor)

For your week-end bag
Heavy crepe de Chine nighties $5

Pink crepe de Chine with a wide tucked, hemstitched and shirred yoke. Sleeveless, with wide tucked shoulder straps that serve as sleeves. $5.
Double panel petticoats of flesh and white tub silk with hemstitched hem. $3.
Crepe de Chine step-in chemise with lace and georgette yoke. $5.
(Filene's—mail orders filled—third floor)

We are proud of the Annual Show of the Filene Cooperative Association, "Home Brew," at Tremont Theatre, this week, and invite the public to see it

Stocks Irregular in New York; Call Money Opens at 6½%; Foreign Exchange Rates Lower

COPPERS QUIET IN BOSTON

Local Market Dull and Very Narrow All the Forenoon; Curb Is Listless

Prices were lower at the opening of the Boston exchange and remained down as a rule all the morning. The local market failed to show the improvement that was felt in New York during the first hour. Trade here was confined to a few issues and fluctuations averaged small. Coppers showed very little price change and were not traded in to any extent. New England rails obtained little attention. East Mass. preferred A was the only one sale. U. S. Smelting dropped a point and Barnsdall 1¼. Cashier & Arizona advanced a point. American Telephone was one of the most active issues and improved a fraction. The market was devoid of any interesting incident.

Small losses were sustained by Massachusetts tax. New England Telephone, Eastern Manufacturing, International Cement, Greenfield Tap, Eastern Steamship and Swift & Co. Among those to make small gains were United Fruit, Cruse Mail, Davis Daly and Mexican Investment.

CURB WAS LISTLESS.

The Curb market had a listless start and was also narrow at the opening. Among early leaders were Boston Ely, Eureka and Jerome Verde. Stocks to display strength at the beginning were Cascade Chief, Crystal, Homa, Little Kingdom and United Verde Extension. Those to recede on initial sales included Jerome Verde, Alpha, Boston Ely, Eureka, Hecla, Divide, Mutual and Texana. The market was irregular during the morning, improving before mid-morning.

At the end of an hour Eureka was up 2 cents at 64 cents, Jerome Verde 2 cents at 39 cents, Homa 2 cents at 8 cents, Palisade 1 cent at 17 cents and Southwestern Miami (part paid) ¼ at 4. Among declines were Alpha 7 cents at 82 cents, Boston Ely 4 cents at 50 cents, Boston & Montana 3 cent at 64 cents and Silver Reef 3 cent at 4 cents. Hecla Divide had recovered its loss.

BOSTON FINANCIAL NOTES.

For the March quarter of this year the Philadelphia Company of Pittsburgh will after taxes but before depletion and depreciation of $68,112 equal to $1.35 a share and depreciation of $53,740 for the first quarter of 1920.

For the first 1920 quarter the Providence Gas Company reported net earnings of $466,586, an increase of $131,292 over the first quarter of 1920.

$400,586.

The Malden Electric Co. has petitioned the Department of Public Utilities for authority to issue 5,340 shares of additional stock at $125 a share. The proceeds are to be used in the floating debt and for new construction.

TEXT BOOK OF WALL STREET

A 40-page book (copyrighted) discussing clearly and unmistakably rules governing stock market transactions:

Methods of Trading.
Commission Rates.
How to Open an Account.
Augmenting One's Income.
Deposit Requirements for Carrying Stocks on Account.
Dictionary of Wall Street.
History of the New York Stock Exchange.
History of the New York Curb Market.
Foreign Exchange.
And many other subjects of interest to investors and stock traders.

Copy free upon request

McCall & Riley Co., Inc.
20 Broad Street New York

Copper Securities
(Their Future Market Course)

Unique conditions have suddenly manifested in copper operations which promise shortly to be reflected in substantial market fluctuations.

A careful analysis of the situation has been prepared which will be distributed gratis to all interested in these issues.

Send for copy today,

L. L. Winkelman & Co.
62 Broad Street, New York
Telephone Broad 8470
Branch Offices in Leading Cities
Direct Wires to Various Markets

$10 PUTS AND CALLS $20
ODD LOTS

If you think the market is going up buy stock. If down buy Puts. If in doubt buy Straddle which is both a Put and Call and place you on both sides of the market

PROFITS UNLIMITED

Write today for booklet No. 20, explains fully; also valuable rules for Traders in Stocks, Grain & Cotton.

C. Goldhurst & Company
SERVICE :: RELIABILITY
50 Broad Street New York

Cities Service Company

Henry L. Doherty & Company
60 State St. Room 324.
Telephone Main 1834
Boston (9), Mass.

THE PULLMAN COMPANY
Dividend No. 217

A quarterly dividend of two dollars per share, will be paid May 16th, 1921, to stockholders of record at close of business April 30th, 1921.

J. F. KANE, Secretary

Boston Stocks

Prices on the Boston Stock Exchange from the opening until 11:30 a. m. had the following range:

Stocks	Open	High	Low	Latest
Am Ag Chem.....	47	47	47	47
Am Pneu Serv....	3½	3½	3½	3½
Am Pneu Serv pr..	13½	13½	13½	13½
Am Sugar pr.....	102	102	102	102
Am Tel & Tel....	107½	107¾	107½	107¾
Arizona Com.....	9¼	9¼	9¼	9¼
Atlas Tack Corp..	19	19	19	19
Barnsdall Corp....	25	25	25	25
Beacon & Manor....	19	19	19	19
B M I pr Cl B....	39	39	39	39
Boston Elevated....	65	65	65	65
Boston Elev pr....	80	80	80	80
Butte & Superior..	13½	13½	13½	13½
Calumet Hec Sub..	14¾	14¾	14¾	14¾
Cal & Arizona....	82	82½	82	82
Calif Packing....	255	256	255	256
Chile Copper.....	24	24	24	24
Copper Range.....	30½	30¾	30¼	30½
Cruse Mail.....	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
East Butte.....	9¾	9¾	9¾	9¾
East Mass Co.....	16¼	16¼	16	16
East Steamship....	22¼	22¼	22¼	22¼
Elder Corp.....	11	11	11	11
Exec & Hawley....	14¼	14¼	14¼	14¼
Greenfield T & D..	30¼	30½	30¼	30¼
Hecla.....	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Int Cement Corp...	28	28	28	28
Int Cotton Mills pr	82	82	82	82
Island Oil.....	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
Kerr Lake.....	3	3	3	3
Libby-McNeil.....	10¼	10¼	10¼	10¼
Lawn's Thompson..	12½	13½	12½	13½
Mass Gas.....	81	81	80½	81
Mass Gas pf.....	93	93	93	93
Mex Invest Co....	33	33½	33	33½
Mex River Pow pf.	64¾	64¾	64¾	64¾
Nelson'k.....	90¼	90¼	90¼	90¼
National Leather..	8½	8½	8½	8½
New Haven R R....	17	17¼	17	17¼
N E Telephone....	102	103	102	103
Nipissing.....	4⅞	5	4⅞	5
North Butte.....	11¼	11¾	11¼	11¾
Ohio Body Corp....	9	9	9	9
Old Colony R & A..	62½	62¾	62½	62¾
Orpheum Circuit..	25	25	25	25
Quincy.....	39½	39½	39½	39½
Reels & Co.....	100¾	100¾	100¾	100¾
Trinity Cop Corp..	4	4	4	4
United Fruit.....	110¼	109½	109½	109½
Utah Metal & Tun..	36¼	36¼	36	36¼
U S Smelting.....	32½	32½	32½	32½
U S Smelting pf...	40¾	41	40¾	41
Utah Apex.....	2¼	2¼	2¼	2¼
Venture Oil.....	18½	18½	18½	18½
Victory Oil.....	60	60	60	60
Waldorf System....	19¼	19	19¼	19¼
Waltham Watch pr	70	70	70	70
Wolverin Mfg Co..	14	14	14	14
W S R R.....	41¾	41¾	41¾	41¾

GOVERNMENT BONDS

Liberty 3½.....	88.84	88.84	88.84	88.84
3d 4¼s 1928.....	90.14	90.50	90.14	90.50
4th 4¼s 1933.....	87.	87.	86.74	86.74
Victory Note 4¾s.	97.60	97.64	96.40	96.40

BONDS

Miss River Pow 6s	77½	77½	77½	77½
N E Tel 6s.....	83½	83½	83½	83½

Boston Curb

Opening prices on the Boston Curb today were:

	Yesterday's closing.	Today's opening.
Alpha.....	89	82
Arizona Silver.....	2	2
Boston Ely.....	54	50
Boston & Montana..	66	64
Butte Duke.....	1	1
Cascade.....	2	2
Crystal.....	3	3
Daddy.....	1	1
Eureka.....	62	64
Green Hollow.....	1	1
Homa Oil.....	6	8
Little Kingdom.....	2	2
Mutual.....	2	2
Nipissing.....	5	5
Pilgrim.....	1	1
Silver Reef.....	4	4
S W Miami p.....	3	4
Texana.....	17	17
United Verde Ext..	28	28
Verde Miner.....	1	1

Dividend Declarations

Pennsylvania Railroad reduced quarterly dividend from 1¾ per cent, to 1 per cent., payable June 15 to stock of record May 16, making total of 4 per cent. per annum against former rate of 7 per cent.

Delaware & Hudson declared quarterly 2½ per cent. dividend, payable June 30 to stock of record May 28.

Continental Paper Bag Mills Co. declared quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. on common, payable May 2 to holders of record April 25.

J. G. White Co. declared quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on preferred, payable May 1 to stock of record April 16.

Will & Baumer declared quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. on common, payable May 15 to stock of record May 2.

Granite Cotton Mills Corporation declared quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent., payable May 2 to stockholders of record April 25.

Mechanics Mills Corporation declared quarterly dividend of 2 per cent., payable May 2 to stockholders of record April 25.

Trustees of American Malt & Grain Co. declared a first liquidating dividend of $7 a share, payable May 6 to stock of record May 5.

American Tobacco declared quarterly dividend of 3 per cent. in cash on common and common B, payable May 2 to stock of record May 10.

Illinois Central declared quarterly 1¾ per cent. dividend, payable June 1 to stock of record May 6.

Gresham Co. will pay a dividend of 2 per cent. on common on May 2 to holders of record April 20.

Edmond Mills will pay dividends of 1½ per cent. on common and 3½ per cent. on preferred on May 2 to holders of record April 20.

Cleveland & Hudson Co. declared quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent., payable June 20 to holders of record May 31.

Cleveland & Pittsburg R. R. declared quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on guaranteed stock and of 1 per cent. on special guaranteed stock, payable June 1; stock of record May 10. May 10.

Corporation Earnings

For last year the Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Co. reports a deficit on $15,000,000 operations.

Net earnings for 1920 by the Wheeling Steel Corporation were $14,425,139. Its mills are now operating at less than 40 per cent. of capacity.

The Interborough Rapid Transit Co. reports a net corporate deficit of $187,744 as result of operations in 1920. The company's monthly deficit shown during the present fiscal year. The deficit for nine months, including the Manhattan guarantee, was $8,500,141 compared with $1,993,750 for the corresponding preceding period.

For 1920 the Standard Gas & Electric Co. reports net earnings of $1,704,072, equal to $2.81 on 606,000 shares of common with $1,965,114, or $3.50 on 561,000 shares in 1919.

The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada reports profits of $279,567 for quarter ended March 31, 1921, against $420,140 in 1919 and a deficit after dividends of $133,- 500, contrasted with a surplus of $314,000.

For 1920 Mexican Petroleum net profit after taxes, depletion and depreciation was $9,775,- 809, equal after preferred dividends to $20.50 a share on outstanding common, contrasted with $8,980,429, or $14.75 a share, in 1919. The American profit was $2,987,351, equal to $9.75 a share on common.

Northern Ohio Traction & Light reports for 1920 net income after charges, taxes and depreciation of $981,342, equal after preferred dividends to $6.83 a share on common.

Railroad Items

The Ann Arbor road has sought interstate Commerce Commission authority for a $2,000,- 000 6 per cent. bond issue for improvements and extensions.

The payroll of Canadian Railways increased from $45,205,561 to $51,847,860 from June 30, 1919, to December 31, 1920.

The Union Pacific system reported for January $124,351 deficit after taxes and joint facility rents, while in February there was a $340,915 balance left. February showed $2,- 467,278 as the largest balance since November when it was $3,060,000.

Delaware, Lackawanna & Western's gross increased $2,057,330 in March and it gained $919,851 in net, while for three months increase were $5,063,826 in gross and $1,583,- 432 in net.

The Kansas City Southern has been authorized to issue promissory notes for $26,000 to meet current requirements.

Norfolk & Western's March gross decreased $253,567 and its net decreased $54,578. For the first 1921 quarter gross decreased $310,264 and the net increased $78,754.

RAILS ADVANCE, MOTORS GO UP

Steels and Oils Are Heavy; Coppers Were Quiet and Specialties Ruled Strong

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor

Stocks were irregular in New York at noon, with gains in the majority. Strength of rails was the second hour feature. Motors were also up. Studebaker selling at a new high for 1921 to date. Oil and steel issues were mixed in movement. Little was done in coppers. As a rule specialties were irregular. Trading was active, first hour transactions exceeding 200,000 shares. The opening call rate was 6½ per cent. Foreign exchange rates were a little lower in most instances.

Largest gain shown by Studebaker, which was up more than three points at its highest. Reading, Rock-buck, Reading, Northern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio. Among the weaker set were Mexican Petroleum, Pan-American, Lackawanna Steel and Crucible.

IMPROVED QUICKLY.

At the opening the list had an irregular movement, with more stocks off than up, but there was quick improvement both in prices and undertone. The early recession was due to an overnight accumulation of selling orders. The reduction of the Pennsylvania road's dividend rate was used by bears as a selling pretext just as they previously had taken all possible advantage from the U. S. Steel report for the March quarter. Fears as to U. S. Steel earnings and the Pennsylvania dividend had been overhanging the market for some time. The worst is now known and it is better than many expected in both instances. Most of the trading was in rails, oils, motors and steels. Among prominent specialties were Sears Roebuck, Famous Players, American Woolen and General Asphalt. All advanced. Toward the end of an hour gains were the rule, but trading slackened on the rise.

LOWER DISCOUNT RATE.

A favorable influence was the reduction of the Bank of England discount rate from 7 to 6½ per cent. This has long been expected and the reduction is regarded as an indication of some improvement in the money situation in Europe as well as in this country. The settlement of the German reparation question is the most important of pending matters, and an agreement would be of great aid in stabilizing international trade. Domestic business is now so closely related to foreign commerce that there can be no return to normal conditions here until a change for the better abroad. The Chicago Northern coal carrying railroad bond issue for Burlington financing and liberalization of the syndicate agreement in handling it, is believed to guarantee its success.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Prices on the New York Stock Exchange from the opening until 11:18 a. m. had the following range:

Stocks	Open	High	Low	Latest
Adams Express.....	33	33	33	33
Alas Rubber.....	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
Allis-Chalmers.....	37¼	37¾	37¼	37¾
Am Beech Mag....	57½	58	57½	58
Am Can.....	35	35½	35¼	35½
Am Car & Fdy....	132⅝	132⅝	132⅝	132⅝
Am Ice.....	68¼	68¼	68¼	68¼
Am Inter Corp....	45	45	45	45
Am Locomotive....	86¼	87¼	86¼	87¼
Am Smelters Secur..	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾
Am Steel Fdrs....	64¾	65¾	64¾	65¾
Am Sugar Ref....	82¼	82¾	82¼	82¾
Am Sumatra.....	70¼	70¼	70¼	70¼
Am Tel & Tel.....	107½	107¾	107½	107¾
Am Woolen.....	77	77	77	77
Ana conda Cop....	40¾	40¾	40¾	40¾
Associated Dry G..	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝
Associated Oil....	101½	102	101½	101½
Atchison T & S F..	81	81	81	81
Atlantic Gulf W I..	40¾	40¾	40¾	40¾
Baldwin Loco.....	88¾	89	88¾	88¾
Balt & Ohio.....	38	38	38	38
Bell & Ohio pr....	68¾	68¾	68¾	68¾
Beth Steel B.....	69¾	69¾	68¾	68¾
Brooklyn Edison..	84	84	84	84
Butte Superior....	13½	13¾	13½	13¾
Cadillo Oil.....	17½	17¾	17¼	17¾
Cal & Arizona....	82½	82½	82½	82½
Calif Petro.....	45¾	45¾	45¼	45¾
Canadian Pac.....	110½	111¾	110¼	111¾
Cent Leather.....	35½	35¾	34¾	35¼
Cerro Pasco.....	44¾	45¼	44¾	45¼
Chand Motors.....	82¼	83¼	82¼	83¼
Chic & Ohio.....	60½	60¾	60¼	60¾
Chi Gt West pf...	17	17	17	17
Chi M & St Paul..	25½	25¾	25½	25¾
Chi M & St Paul pr	39¼	39¼	39¼	39¼
Chi & N W.....	62½	62¾	62¼	62¾
Chi Rock Island...	27¾	27¾	27¼	27¼
Chi Copper.....	24¼	24¼	24	24
Chino.....	24	24¼	24	24¼
Coca Cola.....	50½	50½	50½	50½
Col Gas & Elec....	61½	62	61½	62
Col Graph.....	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾
Con Can Co.....	43¼	43¼	43¼	43¼
Con Candy.....	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
Cons Prod.....	73¾	73¾	73¾	73¾
Cons Textile.....	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾
Crucible Steel....	80¼	82	80¼	82
Cuba Am Sug.....	22¼	22¼	22¼	22¼
Cuban Cane S....	18¾	18¾	18¾	18¾
Cuba Cane S pr...	89	89	89	89
Emer Mines.....	10¾	10¾	10¾	10¾
Erie 1st pr.....	19	19	19	19
Erie 1st-pr.....	62¼	62¾	62	62
Famous Players....	78½	81¾	78¾	80¾
Fisk Rubber.....	18¾	18¾	18¾	18¾
Freeport Tex Co...	15½	16½	15½	16
Gaston W & W....	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
Gen Asphalt.....	71¾	72¼	71	71
Gen Motors.....	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾
Goodrich Rubber..	27¾	27¾	27	27
Greene-Cananea....	25	25	25	25
Gt Northern pr....	70¼	70¼	70¼	70¼
Hudson Oil.....	20½	20½	20½	20½
Hupp Motors.....	14¼	14¼	14¼	14¼
Inspiration.....	43¾	44¼	43¾	44¼
Interboro Cons....	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
Int Mar Marine...	14½	14¾	14½	14¾
Int Mar Marine pf.	80¾	81¼	80¾	81¼
Int Motor.....	27	27	27	27
Int Nickel.....	16	16	15¾	15¾
Int Paper.....	59¾	60¼	58¾	59¾
Invincible Oil....	20½	20¾	20¼	20¾
Island Oil.....	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
Kelly-Springfield..	43½	43½	42¾	43½
Kennecott Cop....	20¼	20¼	20¼	20¼
Lackawanna Steel..	15¾	16	15¾	15¾
Lack Steel.....	53	53	52¾	52¾
Lehigh Valley.....	49¾	49¾	49¾	49¾
Low's Theatre....	18¾	18¾	18¾	18¾
Mex Petroleum....	130½	131¼	128¾	128¾
Mid Steel & Ord...	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾
Midvale Steel.....	29	29	29	29
Middle States Oil..	15	15½	14¾	14¾
M K T.....	21¼	21¾	21¼	21¾
Mo Pacific.....	18½	18½	18¼	18¼
N Y Air Brake.....	47½	47¾	47¼	47¾
N Y Central.....	68¾	68¾	68¾	68¾
Norfolk & Wes.....	90	90	89¾	90
No Pacific.....	72¾	73¼	72¾	73¼
Oklahoma P & R...	31¾	31¾	31¾	31¾
Pacific Oil.....	47¾	47¾	47¾	47¾
Pan Amer Petrol...	71¾	72¼	71¾	72¼
Pan Am C&P B....	65¼	65¼	65¼	65¼
Penn Seaboard....	26¾	26¾	26¾	26¾
Pennsylvania.....	33¾	34¼	33¾	34¼
Philadelphia Co...	31¾	31¾	31¾	31¾
Pierce-Arrow.....	34	34¾	34	34¾
Pierce Oil pr.....	72¾	72¾	72	72¾
Prod Creek.....	15¼	15¼	15¼	15¼
Pullman.....	106	108	105	105
Ray Consolidated..	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾
Reading.....	71¾	73¾	71¾	73¾
Rep Iron & Steel..	63½	64	63½	63½
Royal Dutch.....	66¼	67¾	66¼	66¾
Sears-Roebuck....	85½	87¼	85¼	86¾
Seneca Copper....	16¾	16¾	16¾	16¾
Sin Pe C&OCo....	28¾	29	28¾	28¾
So Pacific.....	74¼	74¾	74¼	74¾
Southern Ry.....	17¾	18¼	17¾	18¼
Studebaker.....	86½	89¼	86½	89¼
Superior Oil Corp..	8½	8½	8½	8½
Texas Co.....	41¾	42¼	41¾	42¼
Texas Pacific.....	20¾	20¾	20¾	20¾
Tex Pac C&OCo....	28½	29	28½	29
Third Ave N Y....	17	17	17	17
Tob Products.....	63¼	63¼	63¼	63¼
Trans Con Oil....	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾
Union Oil.....	21¾	22	21¾	22
Union Pacific.....	115¾	116	115¾	116
United Fruit.....	109½	111¼	109½	110
U S I Alcohol.....	68¼	68¾	68¼	68¾
U S Rubber pr.....	83	83	83	83
U S Rubber.....	74¼	75	74¼	75
U S Steel.....	83	83¼	82¾	83¼
Utah Copper.....	65¼	66	64¾	65¾
Vanadium Steel....	34¼	34¾	33¾	34¼
Wabash A.....	27¾	28¼	27¾	28¼
Westinghouse.....	48	48	47¾	48

GOVERNMENT BONDS

Liberty 3½s.....	88.40	88.40	88.30	88.30
1st 4s 1932-47....	87.10	87.60	87.10	87.10
2nd 4s 1927-42....	87.12	87.12	86.76	86.76
1st 4¼s 1932-47....	87.60	87.60	87.60	87.60
2nd 4¼s 1927-42....	86.86	86.86	86.84	86.84
3d 4¼s 1928.....	90.24	90.24	90.24	90.24
4th 4¼s 1933.....	87.04	87.74	86.94	87.14
Victory 3¾s.....	97.46	97.50	97.46	97.46
Victory 4¾s.....	97.50	97.52	97.50	97.52

New York Curb

Opening bid and asked prices on the New York Curb today were:

	Bid.	Asked.
Aztec Exp.....	1	1¼
Assn Am Oil.....	18¾	19
Boone Oil.....	1	1¼
Boston & Wyoming Oil.....	12-32	13-32
Candace Oil.....	2	2¼
Car Internat.....	2¾	3
Consolidated Copper.....	2¾	2¾
Cosden Oil.....	1¾	2
Gilliland.....	20	20¼
Glenrock.....	1	1¼
Hecla.....	1⅞	2
Indiana Pipe.....	12	13
International Pet.....	15	15¼
Island Oil.....	4¼	4¾
Merritt Oil.....	12	12¼
Midwest Ref.....	144	146
Nipissing.....	5	5¼
Prairie Oil.....	510	515
Salt Creek.....	1	1¼
Sapulpa.....	4½	5
S S New York.....	200	210
S O California.....	275	280
Texas Pac Coal.....	12¾	13
Texas Pipe.....	1¾	1¾
Tonopah Belmont.....	11-16	11-16
Victoria Oil.....

STEEL STOCKS ARE VERY WEAK

By BROADAN WALL.
Registered U. S. Patent Office.

New York, April 28.—Bullish enthusiasm in relation to the quoted market prices for stocks was chilled yesterday by an announcement of a cut from 1¾ to 1 per cent. in the quarterly dividend of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Even the heads of pools which have been marking up the price tags of their respective specialities lost heart, realizing that it would be useless to try to maintain present quotations in the face of the unfavorable news.

Weakness in the steel stocks was particularly pronounced in the afternoon and all the manipulative gains of the previous session were lost.

The general list was showing distinct signs of improvement in the last hour following early irregularity when the Pennsylvania dividend cut reached the financial district from Philadelphia. Final quotations were around the lowest for the day.

Tobacco shares were in better buying owing to the declaration of the American Tobacco dividend in cash. The company now recently been paying its dividend in scrip. A prominent tobacco man was reported to be due to arrive here from Europe today.

Town and City Loans

Brookline, Mass., will receive proposals up to noon, May 2, for $300,000 of revenue notes, dated May 4 and maturing Nov. 10, 1921.

Lynn, Mass., has sold to the Manufacturers' Bank of Lynn, at 3.14 per cent. discount, a temporary loan of $200,000, maturing Nov. 7, 1921.

Revere, Vt., will receive bids until 10 a. m., May 4, for the following 6 per cent. semi-annual bonds: $37,000 11-5-years average refunding and $34,000 11 1-2-years average bridge.

Wall Street Briefs

The steamship Lapland is bringing $1,235,- 000 in British gold to New York.

Latest silver purchases by the U. S. Treasury total $110,000 and the metal is to be coined into standard dollars.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. have placed the indicated area of cotton this season at 24,684,000 acres, against 25,654,000 acres last season.

Jones Brothers Tea Company reports March sales aggregating $1,472,001 against $1,351,861 last year, and for the first quarter they amounted to $4,256,855 compared with $4,624,112 in the like 1919 period.

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, April 28.—Wheat opened 1c to 4c lower, corn was 4c to 5c lower and oats unchanged to 1c lower. Provisions were 10c to 15c higher. Range of prices:

Wheat—May, 1.47 1.49¼ 1.46¾ 1.48¾; July, 1.41¾ 1.43¾ 1.41¼ 1.43¼; Sept., 1.41¾ 1.43¾ 1.41¼ 1.43¼; Dec., 1.41¾ 1.43¾ 1.41¼ 1.43¼.

Corn—May, 61¼ to 61¾; July, 64¾ to 65¼; September, 66. Oats—May, 50¼ to 50¾; July, 43¾ to 43¾; December, 44¾ to 45. Lard—May, 9.37; July, 9.92; September, 10.02. Ribs—May, 9.35.

Cotton Market Opening

New York, April 28.—The cotton market opened 7 to 10 points higher on the reduction of the Bank of England discount rate and the improvement in the British coal situation. Liverpool cables reported a good demand for cotton for future delivery. Within the first twenty minutes the list was steady at about 7 to 10 points net higher. Opening prices were: May, 12.18; July, 12.22; October, 13.36; December, 12.80; January, 13.00; March, 14.25.

The Rights of Stockholders

This up-to-date booklet clearly explains many of them; also those of bondholders, etc.

It also tells:

The General Rules of Trading—The Rights of Stock and Bond Holders—The Deposit Requirements for Carrying Stocks—How to Give a Broker Instructions—Broker's Commission Charges—How to Indorse a Stock Certificate — How to Group Investments.

Call, phone or write for No. AB-413

Ask for latest available news on any active security

JONES & BAKER
Specialists in New York Curb Market Securities
68 DEVONSHIRE STREET
BOSTON, 9
Telephone Fort Hill 6215
Offices in 8 Principal Cities
Direct Private Wire

Seventy-two Different Railroads Analyzed

Some railroads which were formerly considered A-1 are now rated second or third class, or are considered hazardous from an investment standpoint, while others which were formerly rated as second or third class, or of doubtful rating, are now in the A-1 group.

The question before the investing public at this time is "Which are which," and in order to help investors solve this important point at this time to come we are going to issue analyses from time to time on 72 ordinary different railroads, which will be sent free to anyone upon request, the first of the analyses ready for distribution including

Atchison
Baltimore & Ohio
Rock Island

Ask for BA-64

E. M. Fuller & Co.
Members Chicago Board of Trade New York Stock Exchange
NATIONAL UNION BANK BUILDING
209 Washington St., Boston
(HEAD OF STATE STREET)
Tel. Fort Hill 6000
Direct Private Wire to New York
New York Philadelphia Cleveland Chicago

More Copper Inquiry

The latest statement regarding the copper industry is that there is a little more domestic demand for metal, but quotation are unchanged at 12¾ to 13 cents a pound for spot and nearby delivery. In the event of a settlement of the German reparation question, big buying by Germany is anticipated. The export demand, in fact, is largely dependent upon how much money allied powers obtain and upon the ultimate arrangements.

Retailers Keep Prices Up

The Labor Bureau's latest report on retail prices shows retailers are still reluctant to give customers the benefit of price reductions, the retail decline in a year averaging but 22 per cent., whereas, wholesale reductions average 39 per cent.

More Capacity Than Oil

The cutting of kerosene prices is due to keener competition between refiners. Their productive capacity, according to February figures, exceeds the crude oil run by about 480,000 barrels a day.

New Financial Weekly

The first number of "Barron's," a new national financial weekly, will be published about May 1. It will be edited by C. W. Barron, who is known internationally in financial journalism and is the publisher of the Boston News Bureau. The new weekly will be a digest of the news, comment and opinion obtained by the several standard news institutions owned by him. They are said to be the publication origin of "fully 90 per cent. of all financial news," and include the Boston News Bureau, Wall Street Journal, Philadelphia News Bureau, Financial News Bulletin services in New York, Boston and Philadelphia and the news ticker in New York. Price of will be published by Hugh Bancroft.

Steel Earning Dividends

Although U. S. Steel profits for March were greatly reduced even on the basis of that month's showing, the corporation is well able to pay dividends. March earnings amounted to $7,741,352, or at the approximate rate of $92,000,000 a year. It requires but about $71,000,000 a year to pay U. S. Steel Corporation interest and dividends charges.

ACTRESS MAY INHERIT ESTATE OF $1,250,000

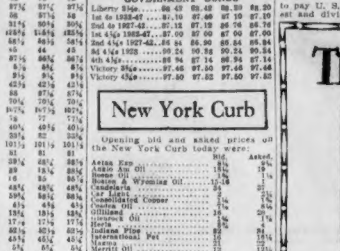
Pittsburgh, April 28.—Effie Fay, well-known actress and widow of the late Samuel A. Banner of New York and Pittsburgh who died suddenly in Buffalo, N. Y., on March 26, most probably will inherit her husband's entire estate, valued at between $1,- 000,000 and $1,250,000. He was forty-nine years old and retired from the vice presidency of a Pittsburgh steel company several years ago.

Argentina Needs Rails

It is understood in New York that the Argentine government is in this market for 10,000 tons of steel rails, and it is believed that the order will be placed soon.

THOROUGHFARE

The Celebration Sales



Celebration Sale of

Drug Store Items

Sale Closes Saturday at 5:30 P.M.

SPECIALLY purchased and specially priced for the Celebration Sale. Every year thousands of New England housewives look forward to this event, when necessary household and toilet articles take lower prices.

Of course the quantities are limited and the prices can only remain at this low level while present stocks last. It is a good plan to supply your needs for the coming months now when Celebration Sale prices bring such satisfactory savings.

For mail orders check items on this alphabetical list, giving quantities in each case.

Prices include tax where necessary

Absorbent Cotton, standard grade, one-pound rolls	37c
Ammonia, White Foam Brand, quart size	29c
Ammonia, clear, for household use, quart size	23c
Aspirin, Bayer's, bottle of one hundred	93c
Bath Soap, Venetian, large size, several odors 3 for	25c
Bay Rum, 8-ounce size	47c
Bell-ans, for indigestion, bottle of 100	55c
Blaud Iron Tablets, bottle of 100

HOME BREW LIKE REAL STUFF

Show Staged by Employes at Filene's Proves Big Success

By D. J. McHALE,
Dramatic Editor.

List of "Home Brew"

(In the order in which they first appear)

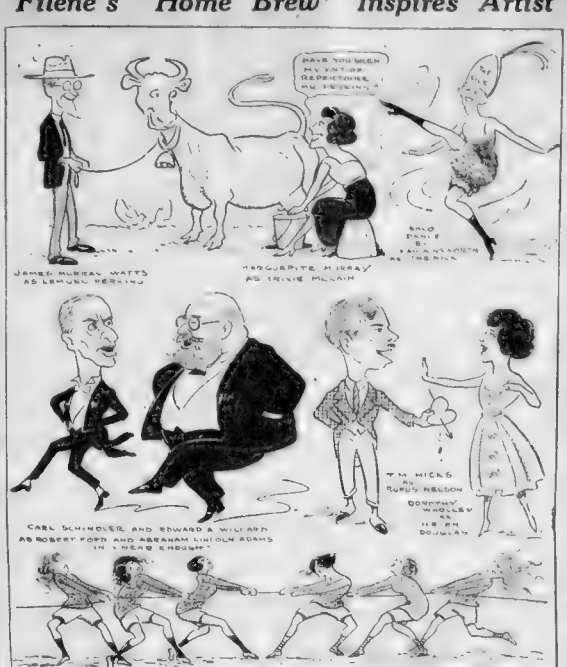
Tailor ..... Maynole Scott-Adams
Tailor ..... Amelia Bascom
Fairy ..... Mary Mayo
Ann ..... Betty Bates
Mamie ..... Inga Lawson
Small Darling ..... James Oliver Watts
The Kid ..... Leah Lawson
Boris ..... James Kelly
Dear ..... Jane Bailey
John Harper ..... Walter Thomas
Elsie Palmer ..... Ann Mayo
Hiawatha ..... Ann Mayo
Pilgrim ..... Ann Mayo
Miss Roper ..... Lois Johnson
Robert Ford ..... Lois Johnson
Joseph Newton ..... Lois Johnson
Abraham Lincoln Adams ..... Howard Ward
Mrs. Adams ..... Lois Johnson
Barbara Adams ..... Doris Mahoney
Henry Douglas ..... John Lawson
Ilean Douglas ..... Jacques Wolfe
Sophia Smith ..... Lois Bailey
Hattie Nelson ..... T. M. Hicks
Tillie Wilson ..... Marguerite Murray
Jim or Adams ..... Harold Bergman
Frank Stone ..... A. Lee Bailey
Rev. Adolphus Phelps ..... James Sawyer
and Melissa Phelps, Pilgrim Brown, 3rd, Abel Brennan, Asa Brennan, Nora Burke, Dolores Fitzsimmons, Mary Esther Gallant, Veronica Gosberg, Mary Louise Kingsbury, Irene Kaulback, Agnes Pedersen.
Mamie ..... Lois Johnson
Mrs. Adams ..... Lois Johnson
Barbara Adams ..... Doris Mahoney
Henry Douglas ..... John Lawson
Ilean Douglas ..... Jacques Wolfe
Sophia Smith ..... Lois Bailey
Hattie Nelson ..... T. M. Hicks
Tillie Wilson ..... Marguerite Murray
Jim or Adams ..... Harold Bergman
Frank Stone ..... A. Lee Bailey
Rev. Adolphus Phelps ..... James Sawyer
and Melissa Phelps, Pilgrim Brown, 3rd, Abel Brennan, Asa Brennan, Nora Burke, Dolores Fitzsimmons, Mary Esther Gallant, Veronica Gosberg, Mary Louise Kingsbury, Irene Kaulback, Agnes Pedersen.
Mamie ..... Lois Johnson
Mrs. Adams ..... Lois Johnson
Barbara Adams ..... Doris Mahoney
Henry Douglas ..... John Lawson
Ilean Douglas ..... Jacques Wolfe
Sophia Smith ..... Lois Bailey
Hattie Nelson ..... T. M. Hicks
Tillie Wilson ..... Marguerite Murray
Jim or Adams ..... Harold Bergman
Frank Stone ..... A. Lee Bailey
Rev. Adolphus Phelps ..... James Sawyer
and Melissa Phelps, Pilgrim Brown, 3rd, Abel Brennan, Asa Brennan, Nora Burke, Dolores Fitzsimmons, Mary Esther Gallant, Veronica Gosberg, Mary Louise Kingsbury, Irene Kaulback, Agnes Pedersen.

Once upon a time an amateur show was a terrible thing to the home proposition about those were the days when the girls wore long skirts, and even in an amateur show all efforts would be to display an ankle or the beginning of a calf.

Last night Lawn Home Brew, the annual production of the Filene Cooperative Association, it was written, produced, acted and staged by persons employed in the big Washington street store. The chorus were all ladies who set you all aged people to shiver and shake with their antics.

And yet they would rate a Winter Garden show for some of the costumes which were so proudly exhibited in "Home Brew." And they made pour little Ann Pendleton bare knees [illegible] who earns her living dispensing [illegible]

Filene's "Home Brew" Inspires Artist



TWO GIRLS ARE NEARS

TON OF PRUNES OFFERED TO DESTITUTE IRELAND

LAUDS MUSIC OF 'DECEPTION'

Hugo Riesenfeld Pleased With Boston Orchestra for Famous Movie

YOU CAN ALWAYS SAVE MONEY BY WEARING W. L. DOUGLAS SHOES SOLD DIRECT FROM FACTORY TO YOU AT ONE PROFIT

W. L. DOUGLAS

Retail Price Reduced $8.00 SHOES Quality of Material and Workmanship Maintained

Special Shoes $10.00 | Special Shoes $6.00
Hand Workmanship | Stylish and Durable

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

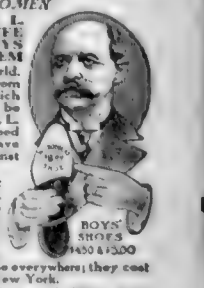
THE STAMPED PRICE IS W. L. DOUGLAS PERSONAL GUARANTEE THAT THE SHOES ARE ALWAYS WORTH THE PRICE PAID FOR THEM

They are the best known shoes in the world. Sold in 107 W. L. Douglas stores, direct from the factory to you at only one profit, which guarantees to you the best shoes that can be produced at the lowest possible cost. W. L. Douglas name and the retail price are stamped on the bottom of all shoes before they leave the factory, which is your protection against unreasonable profits.

W. L. Douglas shoes are absolutely the best shoe values for the money in the country. They are made of the best and finest leathers that money can buy. They combine quality, style, workmanship and wearing qualities equal to other makes selling at higher prices. They are the leaders in the fashion centers of America. The prices are the same everywhere; they cost no more in San Francisco than they do in New York.

W. L. Douglas shoes are made by the highest paid, skilled, shoemakers, under the direction and supervision of experienced men, all working with an honest determination to make the best shoes for the price that money can buy.

CAUTION the name and price is plainly stamped on the bottom. The value is not what it has not been changed or mutilated. W. L. Douglas Co., 17 If not to be had in your vicinity, write direct from factory. Catalog free. 240 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.



W. L. DOUGLAS STORES IN BOSTON:
*635 Washington St. (opp. Essex Street) | *381 Washington St. (opp. Franklin St.)
*130 Hanover St. (near Washington Street) | 82 Court Street (corner Howard Street)
Stores marked with a * carry complete lines of W. L. Douglas Shoes for Women.

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

READ FOR PROFIT ⟶ CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING ⟵ USE FOR RESULTS

TRAVEL GUIDE

NEW YORK $5.61
Via Rail and Boat
Lowest rate all rail train from So. Station 1:45 P.M. every evening. Providence 5:30 P.M. Daylight Trips.
COLONIAL LINE, 196 Wash. St., Boston
Phone F. H. 2788
BAY STATE LINE NEW YORK $4.50
Via Rail and Boat
OUTSIDE STATEROOMS, $1.00
Steel Steamships Georgia and Tennessee. Leave Fidelity 6 P. M. Connect Tickets and staterooms at South Station, Back Bay and Consolidated Ticket Office.

POULTRY AND RABBITS

BABY CHICKS
HATCHING EVERY DAY
Twelve Popular Breeds
11c to 35c
Come and Let Them or Mail Your Orders Today. Catalog Free.
The Smith Standard Co.
160 Friend Street. Haymarket 959

HOTELS

SO HANDY TO THE TRAINS
And right in the heart of Boston's Business is the location of the KNICKERBOCKER HOTEL
where every room has running water. And such food—um m m! A bath to every room. Rates with rates pleasantly low.
RATES—Single, $1.50; Double, $2.50
115 Court Street, right off Scollay Square
Tel. Bay 1260

SUMMER COTTAGES

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Maine.—Partly furnished 5-room cottage; fine location; few minutes to Art Colony. Write B. 118, Boston American.

BUSINESS PROPERTY

TO RENT—Building for parties taking purchase in March and wishing to start business this will be made to suit tenants. Apply Boston Building Co., 60 Boylston st.

REAL ESTATE—MISCELLANEOUS

Cleaning Contractors
We are cleaners with 18 years' experience we should be glad to give you an estimate on any kind of cleaning.
BAY STATE CLEANING CO.,
18 Beach St. Beach 4750

PAINT PRICES SMASHED
PAINT 1.60 Gal. House Paints, Varnishes & Enamels
SCREEN PAINT, $1.50 GAL.
Write for Price List and Save Money
DAVIS PAINT and VARNISH CO.
16 School St. BOSTON, MASS

DIRECT TO YOU FROM OUR FACTORY
PAINT $1.75 Inside or Outside
Color Card and Prices on Request
South End Hardware Co.
1065 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON

PAINT 1.75 GAL. Inside Varnish 1.35 GAL.
Boston Hardware Co., 88 Portland St., Boston
ONLY $2 WEEKLY
40,700 FEET of land for $225, pay for it only $2 weekly; clear title; no interest; no taxes; $10 cash starts you; 1 hour from depot; 7 miles north of Boston; 12 cents fare. Owner, 31 Milk st.

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO GET A HOME.
I WILL sell my 5-room house for $6,500 on easy terms. Will accept part in trade for lot or will build to suit purchaser. Address B. 162, Boston American.

D. MENARD, house painter, paper hanger, kalsomining, repairing. 212 Sumner st., East Boston. Tel. Eastern 1218-M.

FOR SALE—Two assembly hoists, furnished complete. Inquire 1118. (A) F. O. box 2000, Boston.

REAL ESTATE—MISCELLANEOUS

DWELLINGS FOR HOMES
INVESTMENT or SPECULATION
Closing out the balance of the new two-family dwellings built by the Corporation at Quincy, Mass. Prices are 60% less than cost.
4-5-6-room apartments. Heat, electricity, gas, screens, shades, oak floors, lawns, sidewalks, paved streets; all ready to occupy. Beautiful location on Bay.
As an investment they will pay for themselves and not cost you a cent.
These houses are going fast, come and see them.
Bring your builder or architect—ask him what he would build for the same houses for. This will convince you.
First Payment $200 to $600
Balance payable monthly. Full value for Liberty Bonds on first payment. Mortgage held by your government. No expense for transfer of title.
U. S. Housing Corp.
1 Whitney Avenue, Quincy, Mass.
Office open daily.

REAL ESTATE—CAMBRIDGE

Full SALE—Near Harvard Sq.—8-story, 6-car brick garage; 2 stores and 2 apartments; 2 lots of land; 2 buildings; 2 streets; 2 lots of land; 2 buildings; 2 streets; 2 lots of land; 2 buildings; 2 streets

RED SOX DEVELOPMENT RETARDED BY WEATHER CONDITIONS

BATTING OF PLAYERS SUFFERS

By NICK FLATLEY

April ... Sox ... Boston ... Tuesday, but ... to ...

Dempsey's Aces for Carpentier Bout

PHOTOS BY INTERNATIONAL

Dempsey is shown working out with Freddy Welsh. The champion is driving his famous left to Welsh's body.

... Dempsey ... head ... your ... for ... Carpentier ... to keep ... Dempsey ... Dempsey's ... arm ... the ... punch ...

RUTH YEARNS TO PITCH AGAIN

Batterer Believes He Could Score Victories If Sent to Mound

By BABE RUTH

...

Swatting Pinhead Like Hitting Sponge Cake

By "BUGS" BAER

...

He had a beautiful style and shed blows like a blotter sheds ink. His head was built like the palmetto defenses at Fort Moultrie. The British cannonballs sank into the soft palmetto logs and were absorbed without damage.

The ... news ran around Roughtown like a ringworm around a baby's little finger. Once again Gunk Lawler had met the foe and reversed situations from the nearest exit. He was wined and dined at the Roughtown headline and the town pump Roughtown couldn't do too little for their hero.

When ... parade ... desert ...

Amusements. Amusements. Amusements.

ST. MARK'S CATHOLIC CLUB NINE BATTLES

A ... and ... to run for the ... Monday ... one ... will take the ... to ... Cambridge ... it ... Andover ... well up ... Tech ... the ...

Andover Downs Tech '24

... Andover ... defeated ... 8 to 5, ... the prep ... Tech ...

Restaurant Seville
130 Boylston St., near Tremont
Among the ... and Smart Shops ... Delightful Service. Moderate Prices. Music of the best. Half Thousand Diners
Shoppers' Luncheon .50
Table d'Hote Dinner 1.25
Complete Restaurant and Hotel Service a la carte from eleven A. M. to 12 P. M.
The GINTER Co
Operating the Restaurants
Seville Open Sundays 130 Boylston St.
Wedgwood 531 Washington St.
Du Pont West and Tremont Sts.
De Luxe 495 Washington St.
Regina 491 Washington Street Near Winter Street
Also Six Band Box Counter Luncheons On Tremont and Washington Streets Amusements.

IMAGINATION AND REALISM
The printed page summons imagination. The cinema gives realism. Readers marvelled at Ibanez's Mastery, but thrill to his pictured story. Dynamic incident and plot sway emotions with complete power in this "ASTOUNDING WORK OF GENIUS."
SEE ADV'T TOM'W
METRO PICTURES Corp. offers
VICENTE BLASCO IBANEZ'S The FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE
A REX INGRAM Production
Adapted by JUNE MATHIS
TREMONT TEMPLE MON. NIGHT MAY 2 TWICE DAILY AFTER GRAND SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
MATS. 25¢ to $1. EVES. 50¢ to $2. NOW SELLING
NOTE: This Scale of Prices Will Always Prevail

HR
Next Tues., May 3, at 8:15 and Continuous Daily Thereafter, 12 to 11 P. M.
HUGO RIESENFELD
With ... Symphony Orchestra, Chorus and Special Effects as the COLONIAL THEATRE
The Paramount Super-Picture
DECEPTION
The colorful, alluring romance of Anne Boleyn and King Henry VIII
ROBERT T. KANE PRESENTS MARY PICKFORD
The Greatest ... Screen History
Magnificent ... Scenes and Power. Thrilling to Heart Impress.
POPULAR PRICES
AFTERNOONS, 25c, 30c, 50c
EVENINGS, 25c, 50c, 75c

SCHOOL STARS IN PENN CARNIVAL

By FRED C. LANE.

Track athletes of Medford Hi ...

$9.00

A Young Man's Shoe

The Oxford shown above will appeal to young men who are particular about their footwear. It is a fine shoe of high grade, good looking and durable, and at $9.00 one of the best values we have ever offered. This shoe comes in tan and black Russia Calf.

Another model with wider toe, in the blucher style, comes in black kid and tan and black Russia Calf.

THAYER McNEIL CO.
47 TEMPLE PLACE - 15 WEST STREET.

48 ROUNDS AT CARLYLE CLUB

With an all-star card of forty ...

Ten rounds—Lightning Dick Landman, Buffalo, vs. Dutch Regan East Boston.

Ten rounds—Al Sears, West Boston, vs. Hymie Harris, New York.

Two rounds—Bill McKinnon, Roxbury, vs. Jack Savage, Brockton.

Ten rounds—Jimmy Smith, Framingham, vs. Sammy Simmonds North Eight rounds — Young Delaney, Hyde Park, vs. Bunch of Nails, Lynn.

... bring baseball ... fifth or sixth ... or something. That is as we count ... as a revenue magnet at all stops of ... convention. Manager Duffy of the Red ... gets a ... player ... time the fans ... up ... lotes from ... getting ... the stirring.

The morning is the best time to work, especially for a baseball star. He has to play in the afternoon, as you might say.

... if the weather ... the performers get ... award ... make ... as new ... manager ... Most ... this ... was ... Cobb.

None of the ... to be ... the ... Duffy ... though you ... to get for the ...

Bullet Joe Rud ... was ... against the Mackmen. He ... a fourth quarter ... he ... a ... blue ... of ... style ... batted ... when ... was ... the ... Athletics.

Bullet Joseph was likely to be stacked up against Scott Perry, who jumped the Braves to join the Athletics. That leap is one of baseball's dark mysteries still.

Connie Mack ... a ... staggering ... as ... Athletics ... may be ... a team that carries a good punch, and waves a mean threat ... [illegible] ... average ... than that of Babe Ruth now a Yankee.

WILBUR Phone Beach 4570 Seats Also at Little Bldg Box Office Now Selling At Box Office for Season
LAST 3 DAYS
THE SHUBERTS Present
BLOSSOM TIME
A Three-Act Play with Music
"MILLE-FLEURS" TO "BLOSSOM TIME"
NEXT WEEK—SEATS NOW
The Returns Will Present
Donald Peggy Ralph
Brian-Wood-Morgan
And Entire Cast from a Year in New York in Boston's Favorite Musical Play BUDDIES
TRIUMPHANT RETURN TO THIS CITY
Evs. 50c to $2.50 (including Sat. Night) POP 25c MATS. WED. & SAT.

SHUBERT Seats Now at Little Bldg Box Office Phone Beach 4570 TEL. BEACH 4570
LAST 3 DAYS
$2 WHITE TO-DAY $2
NEXT WEEK—SEATS NOW
J. J. SHUBERT Will Present
WILLIAM FAVERSHAM
In MARK TWAIN'S
THE PRINCE AND THE PAUPER
NOTE—MR. FAVERSHAM'S Engagement ... during the Shubert Theatre ... owing to the large demand for seats ... Extra Matinee for the Decoration ... Exchanged at the Shubert Box Office

COLONIAL Evs. at 8:10 Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:10
LAST 4 TIMES LAST MAT. SAT.
A. L. ERLANGER Presents The New MUSICAL COMEDY
TWO LITTLE GIRLS IN BLUE
WITH A SUPERB COMPANY OF COMEDIANS AND DANCERS

HOLLIS Street Theatre Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15
LAST TWO WEEKS
HENRY MILLER BLANCHE BATES
In a Comedy by JAMES FORBES
THE FAMOUS MRS. FAIR

LOEW'S ORPHEUM
CONTINUOUS 9:15 A. M. to 10:30 P. M.
TODAY'S PROGRAM
Wright & Weaver, Mosconi & Antrim, Leipzig Trio, Willie De Vole & Co., Charles Deland & Co., Creatore & Antonio, DUTCH & JEAN in The Home Stretch, Latest News and Comedy.

MODERN and BEACON
FOLLOWING PROGRAM AT BOTH THEATRES
THOMAS MEIGHAN
In "THE CITY OF SILENT MEN"
ALICE LAKE
In "SECRETED EVIL"
BUSTER KEATON in "The High Sign"

ARLINGTON Tremont Street Near Boylston Place
Box Office Prices Seats at $1.50 & $2 Evenings This Week Only—Arlington Players Present
SHAUN RHUE
Prices Every Night 25c, 50c & 75c. A few at $1 Matinees Wednesday & Saturday 25c & 50c
Next Week—COLLEEN RAWN

FENWAY PARK
TODAY AT 3:15
Red Sox vs. Philadelphia
Seats at Shumway's, Phone Beach 2100

BOSTON THEATRE Continuous
WM. FARNUM in "His Greatest Sacrifice."
MAE MURRAY, Creation & Dance, Harry Langdon, Chas. Murray, Norman McCarter & Marcon, Mutual Weber & Rose Comedy.

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE Continuous from 10:30
"BABY RUTH in "PERSONAL HONOR," and ... by Barker. "THE PASSIONATE PILGRIM," Cosmopolitan Paramount picture. BUSTER KEATON in "The High Sign." 3 vaudeville acts including MIRANO BROS. Bargain night Friday. Concert Savoy at 2

LANCASTER 12 to 10:30 P. M. AT ARLAND SQUARE
Cecil B. DeMille's "Forbidden Fruit"

ST. JAMES 1:30 to 10:30 P. M.
TODAY Tonight 7:30 Featuring
DAVE MARION IN HIS VAUDEVILLE ACT

GORDON'S STRAND Washington at Boylston
WM. S. HART
In "Matter of Identity" Also "Sea of Terror" & Others
ARTHUR J. MARTEL at Organ

FRANKLIN FALLS
VIOLA DANA in OUT AMONG THE STARS
& Vaudeville Acts

GORDON'S OLYMPIA Washington at Dover
"THE WOMAN IN HIS HOUSE"
E. STUART LANE
"DEVILLE ACTS

MAJESTIC Shubert and Little Bldg Box Office Now Selling At Box Office for Season Mat. Beach 4540
EVES. at 8 NEXT MAT. SAT. at 2
JOE WEBER Presents LAST 5 DAYS
HONEY DEW
FAVORITE MUSICAL COMEDY HIT

"Love is kind to the least of men"
Eee-awa Eee-awa
D. W. GRIFFITH
Presents
"Dream Street"
A Dramatic Comedy with Thematic Musical Score
HIS FIRST SINCE "WAY DOWN EAST"
Opening Monday Night, May 2nd
Shubert MAJESTIC

B. F. KEITH'S
DOROTHY JARDON
WEST AVEY & DENNIE O'NEIL
Sydney Phillips, Richard Keen & Co.
ROMAN & MCELROY, The MURDOCK TRIO & SYMPHONIC SINGERS, THE LYRIC HOUSE
WILLIAM KENT & CO.
Sunday, 2 Concerts, at 3 and 8 P. M.

PARK ALL WEEK Continuous 10 A. M. to 10:30 P. M.
TWO BIG FIRST RUN FEATURES
"GOOD WOMEN"
A Production of Vivid Brilliance
EDITH ROBERTS
In "THE UNKNOWN WIFE"

GORDON'S OLD SOUTH MARSHALL NEILAN Presents
WESLEY Freckles BARRY
In "Bob Hampton of Placer"
EXTRA—8 Blackfeet Indians
IN PERSON—From Glacier National Park

GAYETY MATINEE EVERY DAY
DAVE MARION'S SHOW

GORDON'S CENTRAL SQUARE
"THE WOMAN IN HIS HOUSE"
WM. S. HART
In "Matter of the Moment" A. R. S. VAUDEVILLE ACTS
Other Features Reserved Seats

HOME BEAUTIFUL EXPOSITION
LAST THREE DAYS
10 A.M. to 10 P.M.
MECHANICS BUILDING
Daily Free Prizes
$300 Piano Washing Machines Vacuum Cleaners, etc.
Admission Including Tax 55c
UNDER PERSONAL DIRECTION OF CHESTER I. CAMPBELL

Evs. at 8:15 Mats. Wed. & at. Sat. 2:15
TREMONT THEATRE
TONIGHT TOMORROW SAT. EVES. POP. MATINEE SATURDAY
The E.C.A. Company THE NEW MUSICAL COMEDY HOME BREW
NEXT MONDAY—SEATS NOW
GEO. M. COHAN'S COMEDIANS
The O'Brien Girl
(MARY'S Big Musical Sister)
By the Authors of "POP"
WITH AN ALL STAR COHAN CO.

PARK SQ. MAYNARD
TODAY AT 2:30
There is a lot of rare things in the show
HONEY GIRL
MUSICAL COMEDY WINNER
Nothing rare about a chorus, but one ... is different

JAMES J. ... Presents
SUFFOLK
A Stock ... with ... Plays ... Matinees Wednesday and Saturday
Next Week—WOMEN
Mats. Wednesday, Saturday, Sunday

WALDRON'S
THE HOUSE OF BIG SHOWS
FRANK HUNTER and his Show
HOWARD BURLESQUE QUEEN BEN JONES with 20 Choice Girls and Vaudeville. All this something doing

GORDON'S CENTRAL SQUARE
WM. S. HART
In "Matter of the Moment" A. R. S. VAUDEVILLE ACTS
Other Features Reserved Seats

N. E. ATHLETES BATTLE FOR TRACK HONORS AT PENN CARNIVAL

Indoor Sports

Copyright, 1921, Star Company

By TAD

Mistake, All Right

HELEN I'M JUST A WRECK — RUNNING THIS HOUSE IS A TERRIBLE STRAIN — I'LL HAVE TO GO TO THE MOUNTAINS FOR A CHANGE — AND A REST — DEM. EVEN MY APPETITE HAS FADED AWAY
IF SOMEONE TOSSED HER A WEEK'S WASH OCCASIONALLY SHE'D NEED NO CURES
YOU SAID IT GENEVIEVE — MY OLD WOMAN SWINGS A MEAN AXE ON THE WOODPILE AN' THEN TIPS OVER A HOD OF SPUDS FER SUPPER
IF SHE NEEDS A REST — A SHORT WORDS HAR-TONIC
INDOOR SPORTS
LEARNING FOR THE FIRST TIME THAT THE LADY OF THE HOUSE WAS RUN DOWN

MY THITHTER EDNA ITH GOING TO BE MARRIED MAYBE
MUSTA WON A BET
IN HER LETTER EDNA THUNETH MAYBE IT ITH A MISTAKE TO MARRY A MAN HER INFERIOR INTELLECTUALLY A BIGGER SAP THAN YOUR SISTER?
DO YOU THINK IT WOULD BE A MISTAKE ALECK?
A MISTAKE?
NO — A MIRACLE

B. C. RELAY TEAM WILL MAKE STRONG BID FOR FAME

CHARLES E. PARKER.

The possibility of a number of new records both in relay and special events, and the assurance of thrill upon thrill in the majority of the events on the two-day program, tomorrow and Saturday, of the twenty-seventh annual Pennsylvania Relay Carnival, was expected to draw upwards of 40,000 track fans to Frank lin Field.

Star colleges and school athletes from all quarters of the continent, as well as from France and Cuba, were entered in the runs and field events to upwards of 2,000, and in their number were some who already hold world's marks and wished to improve them, while there is no doubt whose performances have so closely approached the minimum or maximum figures, in time or distance, that they believed the occasion was ripe for them to realize their greatest ambitions.

Last year the meet—at least the results achieved—bore a distinctly New England flavor and that it again would provide opportunity for local athletic fame seemed certain. The prominent New England figures last year were Gordon T. Nightingale of New Hampshire State, who won the International three-mile run; George Dandrow of M. I. T., who captured the 56-pound weight mark; Laddy Myers of Dartmouth, who was the pole vault winner; Ned Gourdin of Harvard, who took the broad jump; Earl Thomas of Dartmouth, who ran the 120-yard hurdles on grass in world's record time, and a number more who scored in various events and of this list Laddie Myers is the only one not to return, although Nightingale will represent West Virginia instead of New Hampshire state in tomorrow's meet.

The widest general interest in the meet centered in the four relay events, in which France and Cuba, as well as the United States, were to be represented. These are the mile, the two-mile, the sprint medley and the distance medley relay races, and that the existing world's record will be bettered in at least one of these events is within the bounds of reasonable expectation.

The French team was expected to make its strongest bid for honors in the mile relay, and although it was sure to face sturdy opposition from Pennsylvania, Illinois and other American institutions, the French team appeared to have an excellent chance for victory.

Ames College of Iowa, which one week ago set a new two-mile relay record, was the favorite in that event at the carnival, although Yale, Syracuse, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Penn State and several more institutions have show close to record form in the event.

B. C. Mile Relay Men Confident

Jake Driscoll, Joe Sullivan, Jim Caffrey and Walter Nolan will make up the Boston College mile relay team at the Penn Relay Carnival Saturday. Driscoll, Sullivan and Caffrey were members of the crack Maroon and Gold indoor quartet last Winter, and have had plenty of experience, while Nolan, formerly of St. John's Prep, is a newcomer at the Heights. Though but a yearling, he showed up well during the indoor season and has been travelling at a fast pace since the work on the cinder path began. The quartet is capable of making a fine showing, even against the tough opposition they will have to face at Penn.

Zbyszko in Training for Bout With Lewis

New York, April 28. — That Stanislaus Zbyszko will leave nothing undone in order to be in perfect condition for his championship match with Strangler Lewis on May 6 is attested to by the fact that he is already in New York and training for the contest. Experts who favor Zbyszko to defeat Lewis seem to be in the majority, but of course, Lewis should be the favorite from a monetary standpoint when he enters the ring.

BASEBALL SUMMARY

AMERICAN LEAGUE
STANDING OF THE CLUBS

	W.	L.	PC.		W.	L.	PC.
Wash'ton	8	4	.750	Boston	6	5	.545
Cleveland	9	4	.692	Detroit	4	6	.400
N. York	8	4	.667	Chicago	3	5	.375
St. Louis	5	6	.455	Phil'phia	3	7	.300

GAMES TODAY.

Philadelphia at Boston.
Washington at New York.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Detroit at Cleveland

RESULTS YESTERDAY

Philadphia vs. Boston (rain).
Washington 5, New York 3.
Detroit 5, Cleveland 2.
St. Louis vs. Chicago (rain).

NATIONAL LEAGUE
STANDING OF THE CLUBS

	W.	L.	PC.		W.	L.	PC.
Pitts.	10	3	.769	Boston	6	7	.462
Brooklyn	8	5	.615	Cincin'ti	6	8	.429
Chicago	6	4	.600	Phila'phia	4	7	.364
N. York	8	5	.545	St. Louis	3	8	.111

RESULTS YESTERDAY

Boston 5, Philadelphia 2.
Brooklyn 5, New York 4.
Cincinnati 7, Chicago 1.
Pittsburgh 7, St. Louis 4.

OUR WOUNDED HEROES

They Need Some Athletic Equipment
Of Course You Will Help
Ruth Is Coming to Boston
What's in a Name? O'Rourke Knows

By JACK CONWAY

Wounded war heroes at the Parker Hill Hospital, Roxbury, were obliged to use an old piece of rough wood for a bat, a tennis ball instead of a regulation horsehide, and last Winter's mittens for gloves when they desired to engage in the national pastime. We secured this information from Lieutenant Dick Sears who saw the men who took part in the Great Adventure trying to amuse themselves with their very limited "baseball paraphernalia." Thanks to Lieutenant Sears, the boys at the Parker Hill Hospital now have three real baseball bats, a few standard balls and four baseball gloves.

The United States government has made no provision for furnishing men stationed at hospitals with athletic quipment. Those persons who are supposed to care for the interests of our wounded men probably never realized that a man in poor physical condition can nevertheless play croquette, pitch ball and take part in other mild pastimes.

At each hospital there are men who, although under medical care, are strong enough to play baseball. Their more unfortunate buddies secur great pleasure in watching these men play. Thousands of Americans are getting similar joy each day watching the big league ball clubs in action.

Lieutenant Sears and Adjutant A. J. MacNeil, both of whom are connected with the Back Bay Post of the American Legion, No. 30 Huntington avenue, Boston, have volunteered to collect funds with which to purchase baseball equipment for the veterans. They have already supplied the wounded heroes at the West Roxbury Hospital with $135 worth of equipment. They need more money if they are to continue their glorious work. And we feel confident that every real sportsman will help them in their noble task.

The red-blooded men and women of Boston and New England are not going to let it be said that they would knowingly permit their war heroes to be deprived of a little happiness on account of the lack of athletic equipment.

This writer will be glad to forward any checks to those in charge of the fund. Your contribution will be acknowledged in this column.

Babe Ruth, most colorful player in baseball, will be in Boston tomorrow with the Yankees. This will be pleasant news to Harry H. Frazee, owner of the Red Sox, for whom Ruth once played ball. It will mean that more people will pay money to see the Red Sox play during the time Ruth remains here than have turned out to greet Duffy's team since they came home. A great drawing card is this mighty son of swat.

Tom O'Rourke, wise manager of boxers, believes that there is fear in the hearts of most ring men. This is probably why he has nicknamed Magnus Larsen, amateur champion, "Wolf." Picture Larsen's opponent waiting for a bout to start. If he does not possess more than the average amount of courage, he may tremble slightly when Larsen, young, powerful and confident, stands up to be introduced by the announcer as "Wolf Larsen."

While Larsen keeps winning, the nickname "Wolf" will be an asset. But when some young man possessing mere strength and courage than Larsen defeats O'Rourke's protege other boxers will take heart and battle just as furiously when opposed by the amateur star as when clashing with a sparring partner whom they know they can beat.

Mike O'Dowd, when middleweight champion, defeated more of his opponents by gritting his teeth and looking real angry, than he did by the power of his blows.

GUILFORD WILL PLAY TOLLEY

Bay State Golfer Is Drawn to Oppose British Champion in Hoylake Second Round

BY ROBERT E. HARLOW.

Concern regarding the starting of Jesse Guilford in the British amateur golf championships was dispelled at last when John H. Franey received word that Guilford's entry had been accepted and that the Woodland player had been drawn to play Cyril Tolley, the present British amateur champion, in the second round at Hoylake.

This will give Jesse an opportunity to become well known to the British golfing public early in the race, for the golfer who draws the champion does not attain much fame. The success of Tolley's game in the American championships at Ekwanok last September, Guilford will be able to give him all that makes for a fine match.

The writer believes that Guilford at his best is better than Tolley at his best, and that Guilford plays at something near his real form much more often than the Britisher, who is inclined to wildness. It would be a big thing if Jesse could drop Tolley by the wayside in his first championship match in Britain.

It is possible that Boston will have four representatives at Hoylake, as Larry Paton of Homestead is entered and may go over. There are plenty of amateurs golfing which would get him there in time. None of the Americans are paired in the first round.

The draw places Chick Evans, Francis Ouimet and Fred Wright in the lower half. Bobby Jones is in the upper half. This is quite fortunate, as Boston golfers were hoping for it would have been unfortunate if Evans, Ouimet and Jones all had been drawn in the same half.

Ouimet plays C. A. Dale of Royal Liverpool in the first round. Evans plays Stanley Crowther, and Jones meets G. A. Mitford.

Francis and Chick Ouimet, Jesse Guilford and Fred Wright were all scheduled to leave Boston today for New York. They will partake of the Caronia along with Chick Evans, Bobby Jones, Captain W. C. Fownes, J. Wood Platt and the others.

* * *

The draw places Chick Evans, Francis Ouimet and Fred Wright in the lower half. Bobby Jones is in the upper half. This is quite fortunate, as Boston golfers were hoping for it would have been unfortunate if Evans, Ouimet and Jones all had been drawn in the same half.

Ouimet plays C. A. Dale of Royal Liverpool in the first round. Evans plays Stanley Crowther, and Jones meets G. A. Mitford.

* * *

Francis and Chick Ouimet, Jesse Guilford and Fred Wright were all scheduled to leave Boston today for New York. They will partake of the Caronia along with Chick Evans, Bobby Jones, Captain W. C. Fownes, J. Wood Platt and the others.

* * *

Worcester Country Club has offered a bonus to the green keeper who does the best work this Summer. The club has three men, each of whom is in charge of six holes. Members will vote which six holes, fairways, bunkers and greens were kept in the best condition this season. Officials will have the course right for the State amateur championship in July.

* * *

Members of the Woodland Golf Club who fail to replace divot holes to be fined $1 for the first offense and suspended for the second offense. Woodland has velvet fairways, the result of years of labor and the board will see to it that players do not mar this wonderful playing surface enjoyed by careless golfers.

* * *

Massachusetts Institute of Technology has the service of G. Ballard Place, former amateur champion of Texas, for the golf team. The schedule follows: May 5, Williams at Worcester Country Club; May 13, Harvard at Briar Burn; May 14, Brown at R. I. Country; May 21, Dartmouth at Country Club of Springfield; May 28, Amherst at Home.

* * *

Officers of the New England Professional Golfers' Organization hope to have fifty starters in the first tournament of the year Monday at the Winchester Country Club. It will be 18 holes medal play.

HARVARD FRESHMEN BEAT WORCESTER ACADEMY, 7-4

The Harvard freshman nine gained a 7 to 4 verdict over Worcester Academy in a game played on Soldiers Field.

St. John's Wine

Danvers, April 28.—St. John's Prep defeated Salem High, 11 to 2, on the local diamond.

Snow Storm Put Jap's Act on the Blink

By A. MUGG.
Per Damon Runyon.

(Copyright, 1921, by the Star Company)

The other day I run into a friend of mine on Broadway by the name of Jap something or other, though what his other name is I never hear, and why they call him Jap I do not know, unless it is because they wish to call him something.

This Jap's dodge is singing and dancing, and from what Jap tells me he is as good a singer and dancer as there is in the business. He can imitate Frisco and Pat Rooney and George M. Cohan as well as anybody who is imitating them and, furthermore, he has several steps of his own.

Well, the last time I see Jap before I run into him the other day, he tells me he is going out in vaudeville. He tells me there is no use in a guy trying to break in around New York, because the managers have their favorite singers and dancers and will not give an outsider a tumble.

He offers to go on the roof for Flo Ziegfeld, but Diggle is too dumb to take him, and he is ready to go on in the Hippodrome, but Dillingham will not listen to Jap says he is going out in vaudeville just for spite. Naturally I am glad to see Jap again because I am interested in knowing how he comes out, so I say to him like this:

"Hello, I say to Jap. "Well, I say, do you know (mom dead as what?

"Well," Jap says, "I will knock them dead, all right, only I do not get a chance to run into a very tough break," he says. "In fact," he says, "it is tough a break as a guy ever gets in his life.

"I met this guy Bob O'Donnell to the other booking office, Jap says, "and one day Bob sends for me and tells me he can get me booked in Harrisburg, Pa., for a week if I wish to go so much a town.

"Well, it happens that Harrisburg, Pa., is my old home town, and I am well known in one and all there, it seems to me as if this is going to be a pushover, because if there is one place I am bound to draw it is in my old home town.

"So I tell this Bob O'Donnell that I will be very glad to take the week, although it is not for anything like the dough I am entitled to. Furthermore, I say to Bob O'Donnell like this:

"It is certainly a spot for me, I say. I am one of Harrisburg, Pa.'s favorite sons, and the theatre which gets me there is very lucky, indeed. The chances are it will be a sell out the night I open. Of course," I say, "the home people do not know yet, I am in vaudeville, but there will be much surprise and excitement when they find it out."

Well, naturally, Bob O'Donnell is greatly pleased over getting such a wonderful card in such a town, as what does he do but sit down and write the guy who runs the theatre there and tells him to come to town and what a great idea it will be to put my name in very large letters on the bill boards.

"The theatre guy is no sucker himself, and he can see the point right away, so when he gets his billing printed my name is right there at the bottom of the bill in type you can see half a mile away. I know this is so because I have one of the bills at a souvenir.

"Well," Jap says, "I go to Harrisburg, Pa., and I am much smoked up over seeing the old home-town folks again.

"In fact," he says, "I expect a committee at the depot to meet me. Especially on account of me getting so much publicity in the side—but nothing happens.

THE SHOW MAKES HIM

"I get in just before the show opens, and I hurry right to the show shop, because I am opening the bill, and when I come out to start my act I am much surprised to see nobody much in the joint outside of the usherettes.

"Furthermore," Jap says, "nobody seems to give me a tumble, although I make many a local crack between songs and dances and my act is something of a hit.

"In fact," he says, "the manager comes out this evening while I am doing my trick, and will make Bob O'Donnell very sore when he hears about it. Now," Jap says, "you know what happens? You know why I am such a flop?"

"No," I say to Jap. "What does happen?" Why are you a bust, especially in your old home town?"

"Well, sir," Jap says, "it seems it snows six feet of snow the day they open in Harrisburg, Pa., and nobody can see my name because it is covered up by the snow. Nobody knows I am coming to town.

"If they put me at the top of the bill I will be a riot," he says. "Well, there are a lot of tough breaks in the show racket."

COLLYER'S SELECTIONS

AT HAVRE DE GRACE.

1—Lost, Zenastia, Quick Run.
2—Sidna, Orma Reed, Black Top.
3—Pollyana, Sea Serpent, His Choice.
4—Redstone Gaizy, King Thrush, Tom McTaggart.
5—Some Baby, Vive McGee, Dixie Carroll.
6—Robinson, Tim H., Iron Boy.
7—Matthew, Austral, Pic.

AT LEXINGTON.

1—Ethel Gray, Jim Daisy, Inquiry.
2—Commodore McMeekin, William Orr, Hutchison.
3—Singleton, Kallipolis, Adella W. Sewell Coombs, Skinner, Black Buckle.
4—Retheration, Ian Widrig, Westaside.
7—Serbian, Golden Dawn, Inswain.

Concord Uses Brush

Concord High whitewashed LaSalle High, 8 to 0, at Concord Centre.

PERRY WINDS UP HIS TRAINING

Pittsburgh Boxer All Ready for Bout With Shevlin at Armory Tomorrow Night

Jack Perry, Pittsburgh welterweight, today completed training for his ten-round bout with Eddie Shevlin, which will be staged by the Armory A. A. at the Boston Arena tomorrow night. Perry has been in Boston for almost a week and reports he is in splendid condition for the tussle.

The Pittsburgh warrior will go after a knockout. He is one of the hardest hitting men of his weight in the world and believes his big wallop will enable him to grab the honors inside of the limit. When he met Shevlin here recently there were many fans who thought the Pittsburgh man won. Perry says he will not leave anything for the judges tomorrow night, as he will go out to score with the big wallop.

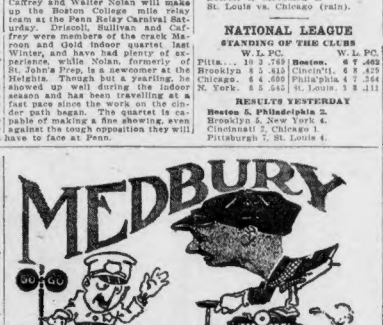
Shevlin is also fit and stated today that he will no only outbox Perry, but that he will also prove the Pittsburgh man's master at infighting and slugging.

The ten-round semi-final between Magnus (Wolf) Larsen, amateur champion, and Ted Jamieson is also expected to furnish plenty of action.

Shaver O'Brien of South Boston and Frank Tillo, North End welterweight, are also billed to travel the ten-round distance. The show will be opened by a six-round set-to.

KELLY OF GIANTS TIES RUTH AT FIVE HOME RUNS

Brooklyn, April 28.—George Kelly of the Giants made his fifth home run of the season in the third game of the present Giants-Brooklyn series, to-tie the record of Babe Ruth of the Yankees.



A prominent physician says there's a lot of truth in that old-time saying, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise," but the doc is all wrong.

It's usually in bed that people are taken sick, so the longer you stay away from the bed the healthier you'll be.

Poker games are generally held in the evening, and if you stay away from them you lose a chance of becoming wealthy.

As long as you're healthy and wealthy you don't have to be wise.

It's true that the early bird catches the worm. The bird was wise to get up, but the worm was foolish.

When you do go to sleep you want to have plenty of fresh air in the room and some men's idea of air is to leave the closet door open.

He'd have been a whole lot better off if he'd stayed in bed.

It's all right to practice getting up early in the morning, if you're studying to be a milkman.

But who wants to be a Paul Revere even if she wagon does wake the whole neighborhood up?

Throw up your windows and let the air and burglars in.

One guy got up so early every morning that he was arrested for waking the guy, who woke the milkman.

The doctor tells you to put your windows up and the burglar tells you to put your hands up.

The milkman gets up about three o'clock, but he's so sleepy that he doesn't know whether he's leaving you milk or cream.

And always remember that they're both telling it to you for your own health.

His eyes are so bleary that he leaves you one quart and thinks he's leaving two.

If nature intended men to get up so early why do we have alarm clocks?

And always remember that they're both telling it to you for your own health.

It doesn't make any difference when you go to bed as long as you get your sleep. Everybody knows that you can get tired of resting.

(Copyright, 1921, by Premier Syndicate, Inc.)

BAY STATE BOYS GOING STRONG

Four Massachusetts boys are showing up finely as members of the New Hampshire State College freshman nine, which opens its season tomorrow at Durham against Hebron Academy.

Captain of the team is "Sid" Graves, last year's Marblehead High leader, who also was a member of the Marblehead Town team. Graves is considered one of the most promising infielders sent up from the school ranks last year.

Benny Sammon of Dorchester, four-letter athlete at St. John's Prep last year, and L. Hanscomb, captain of Needham High, are battling for the shortstop berth, while the hot corner is being covered by Joe Canty, captain of the High School of Commerce team of 1919. Canty, who is a Roxbury boy, has developed rapidly this year, having played in the backfield on the football team, winning the 145-pound boxing championship of the college and has been putting the shot 42 and 43 feet. While a member of Ned Sherlocke's Commerce track team, he won the Junior and Intermediate championships.

MILTON ACADEMY'S HITS VERY TIMELY

Milton Academy hit in the pinches of its game with Browne and Nichols at Milton and won, 8 to 5.

SPECIAL BARGAIN—WILL NOT BE DUPLICATED
$105
Light Ford Delivery Body
Body, windshield, top, curtains, mudguards, tail light, number holder, tube, tax, etc., complete, ready to use. Only $145.00
"COTTON" MOTOR CO.
922 COMMONWEALTH AVE. Tel. Brookline 0616
TRAILERS SPORT BODIES

This Day in History—April 28, 1921

THIS is the anniversary of the exiling of Napoleon to Elba, in 1814. He was allowed an income of $400,000 a year. He escaped, and after Waterloo was sent to St. Helena, where he died.

Magazine Page

Largest Evening Circulation in New England

Champion Bird Swallower

THE cassowary has a reputation as a champion swallower. Owing to its habit of swallowing stones and other hard substances to assist its digestion, some wonderful stories have been told of its powers of gluttony.

THE WILD GOOSE

A Grippin; Story of Conflicting Passions

—BY— GOUVERNEUR MORRIS

Noted Author Weaves Thrilling Tale Full of Dramatic Episodes

This dramatic story has been made into a stirring motion picture by Cosmopolitan Productions under the masterly direction of Albert Capellani.

By Gouverneur Morris
Author of "His Daughter," "When My Ship Comes In," "The Seven Darlings," "The Penalty" and Other Stories

Synopsis Up to Date

Francis Manners, an architect and artist, is doing some special work in California while his beautiful wife, Diana, and their small girl, Tam, are in the East. He gets a letter from Diana and wonders what she is doing in town, as they had agreed to keep Tam in the country during his absence. He decides to go back, meets an old hunter on the train who relates the legend of the wild goose, which, after losing its mate, never mates again. Manners looks forward to surprising Diana and Tam. On arriving in New York he telephones to their place in the suburbs, only to find Diana is in town. Tam delightedly answers the phone.

CHAPTER III.—Continued

THE keen appetite with which he had entered the club had left him. He did not feel like speaking to any one, but for once he seemed to know half the men in the dining room, and as he had been away so long many of them came to his table to welcome him back, so that he was half an hour over a meal that shouldn't have wasted ten minutes.

Not Her Fault

It was half past two when he put down his traveling bag in the tiny entrance hall of Diana's apartment and looked at his watch. He would have to wait for at least half an hour before he saw her. And if not interminable, it seemed an important period of time. His spent most of it on his feet, and a quarter hour (double the length of the half) as well.

It wasn't in any way Diana's fault. He would have been the first to admit that. And if he did not exactly blame her, at least he felt irritated with her, not steadily, but by his sudden starts. Sometimes, at the sight of something which reminded him of her loveliness and charm—the mirror on her dressing table, for instance—an ineffable tenderness came over him, and he drew long, slow breaths.

There were new books on the drawing room table, and he paused, in his caged prowlings, to examine the titles. "Twinkletoes," "The Idiot," "The Secret That Were Hanged." And when he had looked at the fly-leaves of these books Manners knew that someone whom Diana liked had given them to her, because she had taken the trouble to write her name in them. Would she never come?

The first thing that he had noticed on entering the drawing room was the photograph of himself in a narrow silver-gilt frame that previously Diana had always kept on her dressing table.

"First she turns me out of her room," he had thought, "and now she turns my picture out."

And She Arrives

But he had gone at once to see if she had not substituted another photograph of him which he knew she liked better. She had not. And he had felt childishly hurt.

He looked at the photograph again, went close to it and spoke to it. "What's the matter, with her, anyway?" he asked. The photograph very naturally did not answer. It did not even seem to have heard the question which had been addressed to it. "You've been here all the time," said Manners, "and I've been away. You could tell me an awful lot if you only would. But you won't. I suppose it's because we have nothing in common except that we look alike."

He heard the hall door open, and a moment later Diana's voice, "Whose bag? Who, for heaven's sake . . . Frank!"

Somehow he had already gathered that Diana was not alone. And that knowledge damped the ardor of the embrace with which he must otherwise have greeted her.

"Why, Frank!" she said. "How you frightened me!"

They had not really kissed. Their cheeks had touched for a moment, and now she had backed away from him, and, although she didn't look in the least frightened, she did look a little bewildered and troubled. Then she remembered her companion.

"Ogden," she called, "come and meet my husband . . . of all the surprises!"

A moment later she had introduced to her husband a man named Fenn.

It is doubtful if at that moment he made upon Manners a single distinct impression of any kind. If he seemed appealing to Manners he seemed shy, gentle, embarrassed and very much in the way. Ordinarily Manners would have exerted himself to be amusing and polite. But he was really very tired, the waiting had put his nerve on edge and the manner of his meeting with the woman whom he loved with all his tender heart had been very disappointing—that and the photograph and everything took from him his usual power of free and easy speech. Diana came to the rescue.

"I don't know what's happened," she said, "or why you are here. But of course you want to go to the country at once to see Tam, and I suppose of course that you want me to go with you."

"Of course," he said, and turned to Fenn. "I'm awfully sorry to be in the way, but I am and it can't be helped."

Mr. Fenn said something about "only going to the movies," and relapsed at once into a gênile and embarrassed silence. It was obvious that he wanted to get away and that he did not know how. Manners helped him. He thrust out his hand:

"I'm awfully sorry," he said. "It's horrid of me. But I haven't seen my wife and baby for months and months. And I know you'll understand. Awfully glad to have met you."

Mr. Fenn turned somewhat awkwardly toward the door. Diana smiled brightly at him and said: "Sorry, Ogden; 'nother time!"

She seemed to be no more interested in his departure than if he had been the paperhanger, and she turned to her husband, still smiling. But the smile drooped a little at the corners, and Manners was shocked to observe that Diana really looked as if she might be thirty. His irritation and his disappointment faded before a feeling of pity and compassion. His Diana was tired, and she wasn't looking well, and she wasn't happy, and he couldn't make her happy. He had never seen her look so badly. Even her color was not good.

"You've been overdoing, dear," he said. Usually she would have derided the imputation or shrugged it aside. But she didn't this time. She said: "Shouldn't wonder!" And she added: "How you did frighten me!"

Almost immediately she left him to pack the little bag which served her as a sort of link between what she kept in town and what she left in the country, and Manners, having lit a cigaret, resumed his caged prowling. In the telling American of it he felt "all in," "sunk." Diana had not been pleasantly surprised. During his absence he had gained his ground with her. She had been sadder at parting than she was glad at meeting. He wished to ask her at once what was the matter. But he knew that Hilda was with her and that he must wait.

At the station only a few months before she had looked like a young girl. And today she looked her age, which was thirty. And of course she knew it. Compassion possessed him and hurt him. He longed to take her in his arms and hold her tight—tight.

He went softly to her bedroom door. But she had not finished packing and Hilda was with her.

"Most finished?" he asked.

"Almost," she said. "We'll have to get some things at the Parlor Market. Do you mind? You see, we weren't either of us expected tonight."

Manners returned to the drawing room; but this time he had not long to wait. He would not let Hilda help him with the bags, and Diana went ahead to open the doors. He took it for granted that Diana had ordered a taxi. What an able little person she was. There was nothing that she couldn't get done! If only she wouldn't scatter her energy so! How wonderful if she had put it all into building up a home; all her energy, all her ability, all her charm and loveliness!

They were no sooner in the taxi than he took her hand in his, and he held it all the way to the Parlor Market, and thereafter to the Pennsylvania station. "I'm tired and fussed," he explained, 'and it goes right through me and soothes me. If you only knew how I love you!"

A Realization

He felt a faint pressure from her fingers, and she said very quietly and gravely:

"I do know, Frank."

In the old wonderful days she would have looked at him with those wonderful blue eyes of hers, eyes that were sometimes gay and imploring at the same moment, and she might have answered:

"If you only knew how I love you!"

"Diana, dear," he said, "there's something on your mind, something that's troubling you."

But she said there was nothing. And he believed her. Having her say definitely that there was nothing was a real relief to him. She qualified her denial.

"It's been a little hard about money," she said. "That Chicago person has never sent the check for his wife's portrait."

"Why, you poor child!" exclaimed Manners, "I supposed of course that you had that."

"I knew how much you had to worry you," said Diana. "And so I just did the best I could without it. But I never knew anything about money before. And you can be sure of one thing. I'm not going to be extravagant any more."

It was the first time that she had ever made a positive promise of reform about anything. Her usual formula was: "Why, I suppose I'll have to try; but I don't suppose I can."

Manners returned to the drawing room; but this time he had not long to wait. He would not let Hilda help him with the bags, and Diana went ahead to open the doors. He took it for granted that Diana had ordered a taxi. What an able little person she was. There was nothing that she couldn't get done! If only she wouldn't scatter her energy so! How wonderful if she had put it all into building up a home; all her energy, all her ability, all her charm and loveliness!

They were no sooner in the taxi than he took her hand in his, and he held it all the way to the Parlor Market, and thereafter to the Pennsylvania station. "I'm tired and fussed," he explained, 'and it goes right through me and soothes me. If you only knew how I love you!"

A Realization

He felt a faint pressure from her fingers, and she said very quietly and gravely:

"I do know, Frank."

In the old wonderful days she would have looked at him with those wonderful blue eyes of hers, eyes that were sometimes gay and imploring at the same moment, and she might have answered:

"If you only knew how I love you!"

"Diana, dear," he said, "there's something on your mind, something that's troubling you."

But she said there was nothing. And he believed her. Having her say definitely that there was nothing was a real relief to him. She qualified her denial.

"It's been a little hard about money," she said. "That Chicago person has never sent the check for his wife's portrait."

"Why, you poor child!" exclaimed Manners, "I supposed of course that you had that."

"I knew how much you had to worry you," said Diana. "And so I just did the best I could without it. But I never knew anything about money before. And you can be sure Manners realizes that Diana's former love for him is dead.

Husband's Battle to Keep Love of Fascinating But Fickle Wife of one thing. I'm not going to be extravagant any more."

It was the first time that she had ever made a positive promise of reform about anything. Her usual formula was: "Why, I suppose I'll have to try; but I don't suppose I can."

Manners returned to the drawing room; but this time he had not long to wait. He would not let Hilda help him with the bags, and Diana went ahead to open the doors. He took it for granted that Diana had ordered a taxi. What an able little person she was. There was nothing that she couldn't get done! If only she wouldn't scatter her energy so! How wonderful if she had put it all into building up a home; all her energy, all her ability, all her charm and loveliness!

They were no sooner in the taxi than he took her hand in his, and he held it all the way to the Parlor Market, and thereafter to the Pennsylvania station. "I'm tired and fussed," he explained, 'and it goes right through me and soothes me. If you only knew how I love you!"

A Realization

He felt a faint pressure from her fingers, and she said very quietly and gravely:

"I do know, Frank."

In the old wonderful days she would have looked at him with those wonderful blue eyes of hers, eyes that were sometimes gay and imploring at the same moment, and she might have answered:

"If you only knew how I love you!"

"Diana, dear," he said, "there's something on your mind, something that's troubling you."

But she said there was nothing. And he believed her. Having her say definitely that there was nothing was a real relief to him. She qualified her denial.

"It's been a little hard about money," she said. "That Chicago person has never sent the check for his wife's portrait."

"Why, you poor child!" exclaimed Manners, "I supposed of course that you had that."

"I knew how much you had to worry you," said Diana. "And so I just did the best I could without it. But I never knew anything about money before. And you can be sure

Don't Laugh at this. It's True!

No! The lady is not stirring the soup. She is boiling her mop to make it sweet and sanitary. It is one of those mops tied to a handle—invented by someone in the lumber bizniz. A new mop of this kind always means a new handle. Yes, you always pay for the handle.

You can tell the lady hasn't heard of the MASCO Mop—yet. Otherwise she wouldn't be bothered with this "deck mop."

When she buys a MASCO she will buy only the mop head. She will think someone has slipped her a horse shoe—for luck.

The MASCO is made of a new quality of extra, double absorbent cotton yarn. It laps up water like Rover after he has been chasing cats. It wrings out as easily as it soaks up.

Once over with a MASCO equals twice over with any other mop. Only half the usual work—see?

Unlike the "deck mop" the MASCO is easy to boil clean. Moreover, it dries dry all the way through.

All stores where mops are sold carry the MASCO. If you don't see it ask for it—by name. Each MASCO is done up in a separate trade marked wrapper. This is for your protection—so you can identify it and always get MASCO quality.

There are big MASCO Mops—for janitor's use.

For the 8 oz. you will be asked 45c. 60c for the 12 oz. and 75c for the 16 oz.

MASSASOIT MANUFACTURING CO.
Fall River, Mass. Established 1832
Boston Office, 131 State St.

MASCO MOPS

FOR LOVE

PART IV—Continued

"ANYWAY, you must arrange about that. I should like to know you were here together—you two . . . " He met his mother's eyes pleadingly. "Now you know it all," he added.

Mrs. Winterdick nursed; she put her hands on his shoulders and looked into his face with loving anxiety.

"Do I, Phil?" she asked. "Are you sure—quite sure . . . ?"

He stammered out that there was nothing more to tell her, that if there had been . . . He broke off.

"What do you mean?" he asked.

There was a little silence, then she said very gently:

"You didn't love Eva when you married her, Phil?"

"No—I . . . " Their eyes met, and suddenly Philip broke out in an anguish. "She doesn't care for me—I'd give any mortal thing . . . I'd give anything in the world . . . but it's no good . . . no good . . . "

He pulled himself together almost at once, and tried to laugh.

"Well, that's the worst," he said with an effort. "It's a just punishment, anyway. She can't stand me—shows her good taste, I suppose."

He fumbled for his cigarettes and lit one; he was horribly ashamed of his momentary breakdown; he could not look at his mother.

"So it's all settled—eh?" he said presently. "I go to South Africa and Eva comes here—if you'll have her . . . and Mother . . . "

"Yes, Phil."

"You won't . . . you're not blaming her? You wouldn't if you knew everything."

Mrs. Winterdick raised her sad eyes.

"I never have blamed her, Phil," she said gently.

Like a Dream

The days following her husband's departure from the apartment seemed to Eva when she looked back on them, like some feverish dream.

She dreaded the nights. She would would never go to bed till long after midnight.

"I'm not tired," she would declare even when she was dropping with fatigue. "I couldn't sleep a wink if I went to bed."

She invited people to the place night after night. Kitty had heaps of friends, and she liked to have them entertained for her.

Calligan alone understood her in these days; knew that she had been caught up in a sort of dance of death; knew that beneath her laughter and merriment her heart was breaking and his own heart seemed breaking for her.

One night when Calligan and Eva were having dinner at a restaurant a man at the next table looked across at them and nodded to Calligan.

"Who is he? Eva asked. Her head was splitting. She was feeling worn out. Only that night, as she dressed to come out, she had realized how white and haggard she was looking.

"It's a man named Faulkner," Calligan said reluctantly. "He is a friend of Philip's."

"Faulkner!" She echoed the name breathlessly. "That's the man who is sending him to South Africa . . . " Her eyes blazed with excitement. "Bring him over here—I should like to know him. Please bring him over here!"

Calligan obeyed reluctantly. He knew what she wanted with Faulkner, and his heart ached for her.

"I know your husband very well," Faulkner said as he was introduced. He is a handsome, middle-aged man with kind eyes; "but I don't think I have ever had the pleasure of meeting you since your wedding. Do you remember me?"

"I saw Philip this morning," he went on; "but, of course, you know, he said he had been staying down in the country. He ran up to settle a few business matters with me."

"Yes—oh, yes!" Calligan, looking at Eva, marvelled at the composure of her voice. His own blood felt on fire for her. Philip had been to New York, and he had not been to the apartments. It was monstrous—preposterous!

In Two Weeks

"And when is it settled that he leaves?" She was asking casually; one would have thought it a matter of complete indifference to her.

Faulkner knocked the ash from his cigar into a tray.

"He sails on the twenty-second," he said innocently. "That is—let me see—two weeks from today."

It seemed to Eva that for a moment the whole world stood still.

"I am glad it's all settled," she said bravely." "Philip has wanted something to occupy his time for ever so long, and he was always keen on going abroad, wasn't he, Mr. Calligan?"

"Yes—yes, I believe he was."

Calligan changed the subject skillfully. They talked on ordinary matters till Faulkner rose.

"You must come and see us," Eva told him, as they shook hands. "I can't promise that Philip will be there, but I shall be delighted to see you."

It was only when Faulkner had gone that she turned to Calligan with sudden weakness.

"Oh, do you think that we might go home?"

"We will go at once."

He found a taxicab and put her into it.

"Would you rather go alone?" he asked. He was dreading being left with her, but Eva insisted.

"Come with me—of course! Why not?"

There was a little excited note in her voice. She talked away the whole time, covering Calligan's silence. She never spoke of her husband, and it was only just as they were nearing the apartments that Calligan said desperately:

"What are we going to do? What can we do?"

She willfully misunderstood him.

"What are we going to do? Why, go home and have a smoke and some coffee, of course! What else can we do?"

He took her hand in a hard grip.

"Don't play with me, Eva. Don't pretend that you don't understand . . . somehow I can't stand it tonight. You know what I mean. Philip is going away in two weeks, and if you expect me to stand by and let him go without an effort to prevent it I tell you that I can't, I tell you it's a physical impossibility."

She looked away from him out into the dark street; then she said, in a voice so hard and strange that he hardly recognized it.

Copyright, 1921

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

An Absorbing Romance By Ruby M. Ayres

Elderly People Need This In Medicine Chest

To relieve chronic constipation, always keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin handy.

NEARLY all people as they advance in age suffer from chronic constipation. Many, however, are indifferent to the laxative they use, on the theory that "they are all alike." That is a great mistake.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for example, is a mild, gentle liquid laxative, and it does not lose its effect with repeated use. It so trains the bowel muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

A sixty-cent bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last many months. The prescription was written thirty years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, a well-known family doctor, who is himself now in his 82nd year and can appreciate, what chronic constipation must mean to elderly people; how it brings on headaches, colds, loss of appetite and sleep, heaviness and a general dull feeling.

Every home that has an elderly man or woman should be provided with a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year. It is a truly wonderful constipation remedy.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

Stingiest Person

One dollar will be paid for each letter printed.

The stingiest man I ever knew was a friend of my uncle's, who owned a big cigar factory. One day at my uncle's house he drew two cigars from his pocket and offered one to my uncle, saying, "Since you're a friend of mine I'll sell you this cigar at half price."

F. C.

"Stingiest Person" appears every week day in the Boston American and every Sunday in the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

What Baby Said

One dollar will be paid for each letter printed.

My little boy said: "Mamma, aunty's baby has two little teeth in her laugh."

Mrs. D. Feeley, 14 Harlem street, Worcester.

"What Baby Said" appears every week day in the Boston American and every Sunday in the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Goat Getters

One dollar will be paid for each letter printed.

Saturday I worked from 8 o'clock in the morning till 5 in the evening washing the kitchen floor, washing windows, washing walls, cleaning woodwork, polishing faucets, etc. In the evening I asked my husband how it looked, and he said: "What did you do to it?"

MRS. P. H. WARD.
719A Tremont street, Boston.

"Goat Getters" appear every week day in the Boston American and every Sunday in the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

HER OWN WAY

By Virginia Terhune Van de Water

CHAPTER VI.

Copyright, 1921, Star Company

HELEN remembered that Hiram Beth had written that the place in which she lived was "delightfully central."

"Here we are, ma'am!" the driver announced.

"How much do I owe you?" Helen asked, timidly.

The man consulted his taximeter, a clock-faced affair that the girl had noticed, but the use of which she did not understand. She felt very green and inexperienced as he named the price.

"How shall I get my trunk in?" she queried, her sense of ignorance increasing.

"How many flights up?" the man asked.

"I do not know," Helen confessed. "But there is the bell by that card."

"It's on the third floor," the driver informed her, glancing at the name indicated. "Well, here she comes! It's Apartment 7, I see."

When he reached the third floor he put the trunk down and stood up straight, puffing and blowing.

"It's some climb all right!" he exclaimed. "Shall I carry this in for you, miss?"

"Oh, no, you need not bother to do that!" Helen hastened to assure him. For she wanted to get rid of him.

Helen fitted the smaller of her two keys into the Yale lock on the door marked "7." A moment later she found herself in a narrow hall.

Then, before entering the rooms in front of her, she pulled her trunk into the apartment and closed the door behind her.

She tried to smile at herself and her recent experiences, but a sob rose in her throat.

Impulsively she stepped through the door facing her and pressed the button of the electric light. A chandelier over a centre table sprang into life, and she saw that she was in a small dining room.

On the table was a note addressed to her in Elizabeth Mayo's handwriting.

"Welcome to our city, dear!" Helen read. "It's too bad that just now I am on a case that keeps me all day. But I come off every evening about 5 o'clock. Expect me then. In the meanwhile make yourself comfortable.

"You will find something to eat in the icebox in the kitchen, for I am sure you will not want to go to a restaurant all by yourself. So I get a few things from a delicatessen and left them all ready for you. Have a cup of tea or coffee, whichever you prefer.

"Your bed is the one nearest the door in the little room opposite the kitchen. Close quarters, but you and I will not mind. I have left clothes hooks vacant in the closet and two empty drawers in the bureau. Unpack, if you want to, and behave as if you were at home. For that is what you are, dear Helen. At home in New York—the dandiest of all cities!"

Helen went into the bedroom and removed her wraps. Then she turned on the light in the kitchen and looked into the icebox.

Here she found some cold ham and stuffed tomato salad. But at sight of the food she closed the refrigerator door hastily.

She was too homesick to try to eat just yet.

To Be Continued.

An Absorbing Romance By Ruby M. Ayres

"Who is he? Eva asked. Her head was splitting. She was feeling worn out. Only that night, as she dressed to come out, she had realized how white and haggard she was looking.

"It's a man named Faulkner," Calligan said reluctantly. "He is a friend of Philip's."

"Faulkner!" She echoed the name breathlessly. "That's the man who is sending him to South Africa . . . " Her eyes blazed with excitement. "Bring him over here—I should like to know him. Please bring him over here!"

Calligan obeyed reluctantly. He knew what she wanted with Faulkner, and his heart ached for her.

"I know your husband very well," Faulkner said as he was introduced. He is a handsome, middle-aged man with kind eyes; "but I don't think I have ever had the pleasure of meeting you since your wedding. Do you remember me?"

"I saw Philip this morning," he went on; "but, of course, you know, he said he had been staying down in the country. He ran up to settle a few business matters with me."

"Yes—oh, yes!" Calligan, looking at Eva, marvelled at the composure of her voice. His own blood felt on fire for her. Philip had been to New York, and he had not been to the apartments. It was monstrous—preposterous!

In Two Weeks

"And when is it settled that he leaves?" She was asking casually; one would have thought it a matter of complete indifference to her.

Faulkner knocked the ash from his cigar into a tray.

"He sails on the twenty-second," he said innocently. "That is—let me see—two weeks from today."

It seemed to Eva that for a moment the whole world stood still.

"I am glad it's all settled," she said bravely." "Philip has wanted something to occupy his time for ever so long, and he was always keen on going abroad, wasn't he, Mr. Calligan?"

"Yes—yes, I believe he was."

Calligan changed the subject skillfully. They talked on ordinary matters till Faulkner rose.

"You must come and see us," Eva told him, as they shook hands. "I can't promise that Philip will be there, but I shall be delighted to see you."

It was only when Faulkner had gone that she turned to Calligan with sudden weakness.

"Oh, do you think that we might go home?"

"We will go at once."

He found a taxicab and put her into it.

"Would you rather go alone?" he asked. He was dreading being left with her, but Eva insisted.

"Come with me—of course! Why not?"

There was a little excited note in her voice. She talked away the whole time, covering Calligan's silence. She never spoke of her husband, and it was only just as they were nearing the apartments that Calligan said desperately:

"What are we going to do? What can we do?"

She willfully misunderstood him.

"What are we going to do? Why, go home and have a smoke and some coffee, of course! What else can we do?"

He took her hand in a hard grip.

"Don't play with me, Eva. Don't pretend that you don't understand . . . somehow I can't stand it tonight. You know what I mean. Philip is going away in two weeks, and if you expect me to stand by and let him go without an effort to prevent it I tell you that I can't, I tell you it's a physical impossibility."

She looked away from him out into the dark street; then she said, in a voice so hard and strange that he hardly recognized it.

Copyright, 1921

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

BOSTON COOK AMERICAN BOOK

Slopover Cake

Put in sieve 1½ cups flour, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cream tartar, ½ teaspoon soda and pinch of salt. Into a cup break 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons melted butter, fill cup with milk, flavor to suit, and mix with above. Frosting: One cup powdered sugar, cream enough to spread, flavor with vanilla.

GEORGIA CAPPERS, Windsorville, Mo.

Doughnuts

Two eggs, beaten well, 1 cup of sugar added gradually, then beat quite a few minutes, 1 tablespoon of melted butter, 1 cup of milk, ½ teaspoonful of soda, 1 teaspoonful of cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon of baking powder, a little nutmeg and salt, and enough bread flour to handle easily.

MRS. W. H. FULLAM, North Brookfield.

One dollar will be paid for each recipe printed. Cut them out from day to day and you will have a really practical cook book.

Greens, blues, yellows, pinks—Tintex comes in the radiant colors of Spring. Organdies, georgettes, silks, all can be tinted as they are rinsed, into any one of fifteen lovely Tintex colors. Tintex is the powder that saves you all the dollars you would have to spend for new finery. It "dolls" up all your unbecoming discolored or faded things into fascinating fresh ones—without any trouble, too.

Ask your Dealer to show you the Tintex Color Card.

Tintex may be obtained at all drug and department stores at 15c a package. 25 fashionable colors.

Tintex
Tints as you Rinse

THE THIMBLE THEATRE

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

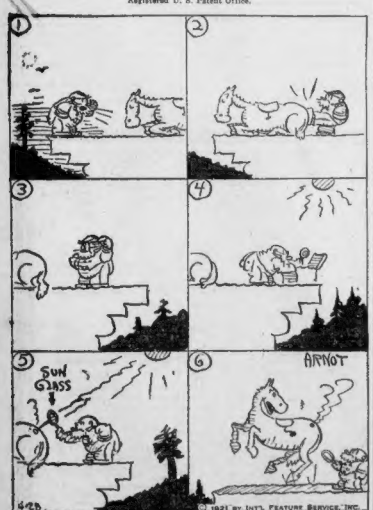
Now Showing—"Aroma."
To-morrow—"Sympathy."

THEN THE FUN BEGAN

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

THE GENERALL

Registered U. S. Patent Office.



Kabibble Kabaret

Copyright, 1921, International Feature Service, Inc.—Registered U. S. Patent Office.

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE IS MARRIAGE LIKE THE POST SAYS "ONE SWEET SONG"?
HAZEL RICKETTS

YES—A SOPRANO SOLO!

BRINGING UP FATHER

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

DAILY IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN AND IN COLORS IN THE BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

By Geo. McManus

MAGGIE-DO YOU REMEMBER THE DAYS WHEN I WUZ COURTIN' YOU? I'D CALL ON YOU EVERY NIGHT-
AN I'D GO OUT AN' BUY YOU LOLLY POPS AN I'D MEET YOUR FATHER AN WE'D SIT UP UNTIL FOUR IN THE MORNIN'-
I DIDN'T GIT HOME UNTIL FIVE IN THE MORNIN'-THOSE WERE THE DAYS-
!
LISTEN-YOU'RE NOT GOING OUT OF THIS HOUSE TONIGHT-© 1921 BY INT'L FEATURE SERVICE, INC.
4-28

POLLY AND HER PALS — Oh, Well, That Squares It

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

SAKES ALIVE! ASHUR
HOW COME?
LOOK WOT UNK DONE!
HOW COME YOU TO BUST A CHAIR OVER ASHUR'S HEAD, PAW PERKINS?
CROSS ME HEART, MAW, IT WAS A ACCIDENT!
Y'MEAN TO SET THERE AN' TELL ME YOU DIDN'T MEAN TO HIT HIM?
SUTTINLY I MEANT TO HIT HIM!
BUT I DIDN'T MEAN TO BUST THE CHAIR, CONFOUND IT!
CLIFF STERRETT 4-28

JERRY ON THE JOB — Making It Unanimous

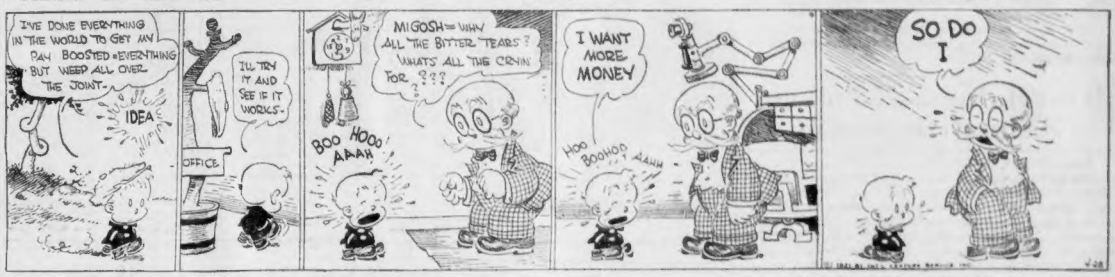
Registered U. S. Patent Office.



I'VE DONE EVERYTHING IN THE WORLD TO GET AN RAW BOOSTED EVERYTHING BUT WEEP ALL OVER THE JOINT-IDEA
I'LL TRY IT AND SEE IF IT WORKS-
OFFICE
MIGOSH WHAT'S ALL THE BITTER TEARS? WHAT'S ALL THE CRYIN FOR ???
BOO HOO! AAAA
I WANT MORE MONEY
HOO BOOHOO AAHH
SO DO I

ABIE THE AGENT — The Kind They Put Up in a Month

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

NOO, THIS IS THE KIND OF AN APARTMENT HOUSE WHAT I LIKE TO LIVE IN—I CAN SEE ITS RUN RIGHT! I'LL POSITIVELY RENT A FLAT HERE!
ALL PAYMENTS MUST BE DELIVERED IN DEAR
I'M GLED I MOVED IN HERE—ITS A PLEASURE TO SIT DOWN BY BREAKFAST! IT LOOKS LIKE ITS VERY GOOD GEBUILDED HERE—IT LOOKS LIKE A VERY GOOD CONSTRUCTED BUILDING!
NOO—WHAT'S THIS ALL FROM A SUDDEN? OY, THIS I GOT TO INVESTIGATE AT ONCE—WHAY'S ALL OF A SUDDEN SHAKING?
HEY, SHUT OFF THAT FLIVVER—YOURE IN A MODERN APARTMENT HOUSE—NOT A GARAGE!
TRADESMENS ENTRANCE
BUTTER & EGGS

KRAZY KAT — Doing Things Properly

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

US BOYS — Skinny's Too Blamed Literal

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Astoria April 17th '21
Dear Mr Mc Namara, what has become of Emily Morton? I wish you would bring her back into your gang if she is still living in your naighborhood. Yours truly, Benjamin Young.
G'WAN, READ THAT ANSWER FROM EMILY MORTON, OR I'LL TELL MY UNCLE WHICH IS A COP! G'WAN, READ IT OUT LOUD!
GEE WHIZZ, IT ONLY SAYS SHE WOULD COME AROUND, BUT-BUT WHAT?- G'WAN, READ IT, OR I'LL IT SAYS, I WOULD LOVE TO COME BACK AGAIN, BUT-I HAVEN'T A THING TO WEAR!!
TOM MCNAMARA

THIS IS A COPY OF THE LETTER WE TRIED SO UNSUCCESSFULLY TO HAVE SKINNY READ TO YOU FOLKS YESTERDAY.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE

BOSTON AMERICAN

Largest Evening Circulation in New England

APRIL 28, 1921
BOSTON

Battle Is on Against Charges of Electric Lighting Co.

Mayor Peters' Substantial Reinforcements Welcomed in Boston American's Contest for Lower Rates

Mayor Peters will ask the Council of the city of Boston to appropriate $50,000 to defray the expenses of the fight begun by the Boston American and our associate petitioners and now to be joined by the corporation counsel, to reduce the charges for electricity made by the Edison Illuminating Company to the people of Boston.

It is good news, indeed, that there is a prospect of such substantial reinforcements for the Boston American's contest for lower electricity charges, in the sum of $50,000 for sinews of war and in the person of Mr. Arthur D. Hill, the city's able corporation counsel. This is most gratifying, and as his term of office draws to a close, the Mayor's decision to go into the fight with all the city's resources is a fine climax of his administration.

The City Council also ought to feel gratified that what they have advocated so vigorously is about to come to pass. Indeed the attitude of the City Council has been perfect in its good intentions from the very beginning of this contest, when, at the request of Mr. MacFarland, counsel for the American, it appropriated the original $10,000 for the contest. This was utterly inadequate for a prolonged struggle such as the Edison company will probably try to make. But it was a beginning and was all that was then requested.

The Boston American's petition for the reduction of the price of electricity was filed before we entered the war. The company asked to have the case postponed till after the war. This we opposed, because we did not know how long the war would drag out. The war is not yet technically over, but the important thing in the situation is over, namely the period of rising prices which would have made any decision concerning the rates unsatisfactory and temporary. Now, however, that prices are falling to "normalcy" we have reached a condition of stability upon which a decision as to charges satisfactory and more or less permanent can be predicated.

In the meantime the Edison company's answer to the Boston American interrogatories are almost completed; thus the decks are cleared for action.

Wastefulness of Private Railroad Ownership

Some weeks ago the Hearst newspapers called public attention to evidence which had been submitted by President Johnson of the Machinist Union, one of the really great men of the labor leaders of America, to the Interstate Commerce Commission tending to prove that the railroads were having their locomotives and cars repaired in shops outside the railroad shops at enormous losses. We said at the time that if the practice were not stopped it would ultimately involve a loss of a thousand million dollars to the railroads, should Mr. Johnson's charge prove true.

The Interstate Commerce Commission summoned the railroad presidents before it at a hearing. At that hearing P. G. Blecke, an official examiner of accounts of the Interstate Commerce Commission, testified that on only 200 locomotives which the Pennsylvania Railroad had given to the Baldwin Locomotive Works a loss was involved of about $17,000 apiece. The railroad employes, he said, did these repairs for an average cost of $6,638, while the Baldwin Locomotive Company charged on the average of $23,047 each.

Mr. Harvey Boltwood, a mechanical engineer of the Department of Railroad Equipment of the United States Railroad Administration, testified that locomotives needing slight repairs were listed as needing heavy repairs. Isn't this a fine spectacle of graft?

On these few locomotives alone under consideration the loss to the Pennsylvania Railroad amounts to nearly $3,400,000. The scheme was general throughout the big railroads and involved hundreds of thousands of freight and passenger cars as well as locomotives.

In the meantime this railroad and other railroads have been laying off thousands of their shop employes, the very men who did these repairs for a quarter less than it cost the railroads to have them done in outside plants; and they are being laid off upon the pretense of economy. The country is also being flooded through the control of newspapers and every available agency of propaganda with the claim that the railroads are going bankrupt unless they can reduce wages, which are now too high. They are probably going bankrupt, but it is this kind of graft and waste which will bankrupt them and not high wages.

Now as always they are trying to make the workingmen the goats.

How long will the country be patient with private management after this year's experience? If private management can't behave itself even during its first year of trial under a law which gave them everything they wanted, and after its half century of failure, culminating in an almost catastrophic failure during the war, when shall we end private management and return to public operation?

A High-Minded Leader

No one who knows Representative Shattuck of Boston will be surprised that he has been freed from all suspicion of impropriety in his relations to the passage of the Elevated Railway bill by which the State took over possession of the Boston Elevated.

Mr. Shattuck is one of the best men in the public life of Massachusetts. He is a high-minded, clear-thinking, forward-looking gentleman in the best sense of the word. He is the kind of a man who makes the best kind of a leader for the dispossessed. His progressiveness is a matter of conviction and not of environment or interest. He comes from the midst or at least from the vicinity of what we call our privileged class, but on the question of granting or defending privilege he has a record not exceeded by any member of the Legislature from wherever he hails.

While on this tack may he go far.

Quick Shift

Follow the Red and Green Light

By T. E. Powers

YOU'RE BREAKING THE LAW - SELLING BOOZE!
I'LL CLOSE UP
OSCAR DOLAN'S CAFE
BEER & WINES
KEEP AN EYE ON HIM - IF HE OPENS UP AGAIN PINCH HIM
PRETTY TOUGH! ANOTHER WEEK OPEN AN I'D OWN THE BLOCK
HELLO DICK! ARE YOU IN RIGHT?
MORNING OFFICER
OSCAR DOLAN - DRUGGIST
BOOKS STOVES GUM
A DOCTOR ALWAYS PRESENT
PRESCRIPTIONS PUT UP WHILE YOU WAIT
CLING $
CLING $
T. E. POWERS

More Truth Than Poetry

The Shellrimmer's Relapse

By S. E. KISER

THEY paired me off with Miss Shell Rims,
A girl who wasn't half bad-looking;
I found that she had certain whims
Concerning marriage, dress and cooking;
I mumbled, trying to appear
More worldly-wise than one-and-twenty,
Until she stripped my mental gear
By dragging in the cognoscenti.

Her hair was bobbed; she smoked, but not
To an extent that was excessive;
Her voice was rather deep, I thought;
She seemed defiantly progressive.
I dropped a word in here and there,
Pretending I was understanding,
But I was drifting far from where
There seemed a chance to make a landing.

"The imagists," she was inclined
To think, "were rather overstraining;
Of course," she added, "one may find
That they are helpful mental training.
Why search for living springs afar,
With gushing fountains here a-plenty?
But Amy Lowell's caviar
To all except the cognoscenti."

"I'm out of air," I said, at last,
A victim of sheer desperation;
"It's too shellrimmy and too fast—
This cognoscenti conversation."
"My gosh!" she cried, "can this be true?"
Off came her shellrims, with a snicker;
We found a corner made for two
And let the cognoscenti flicker.

SOME PEOPLE BELIEVE ANYTHING—ON A BOTTLE

They say that it is dangerous to believe in the label on the whiskey bottle; but that isn't the most dangerous thing about it.

CREDIT WHERE IT IS DUE

Hoover denies that he is going to get any "Dollar-a-Year" men to help him. Hoover must have a spot in his heart for this country, after all.

The Old Timers' Club

Do You Remember Way Back When—

The Eastern, Lowell and Fitchburg depots stood in a row on Causeway street and unsuspecting visitors from the rural districts paid back fares to be carried from one to the other, getting, of course, a little extra ride around the block?—VICTIM.

When the song, "In the Good Old Days of Adam and Eve" was popular?—NOAH'S PA.

The open-air theatre in the Summer time, at Forest Hills, was a favorite resort with a great many people? An English dramatic company, headed by Alma Stuart Stanley, gave performances. — FIRST NIGHTER.

Elbah Morse of Canton was in the Governor's Council and reviewed a parade from the steps of the State House in a high gray hat with a diamond in his bread shirt front that out-blazed Rising Sun stove polish of which he was head?—OLD BOY.

Join the Old Timers' Club. Initiation — One remembrance in the Boston American or the Boston Sunday Advertiser. Send them to the Old Timers' Editor.

Why?

Pet Peeves of Patient People

What got your goat today? You'll feel better if you tell the Pet Peeve Editor of the Boston American about it.

WHY doesn't the Elevated put a clock in both the Broadway and the Andrew square tunnel stations? —NUFFED.

WHY do they call the 101st Regiment, Boston Own, when the title really belongs to the 301st Regiment of the 76th Division? —DRAFTEE.

WHY is it that "century plants" always try to win pretty young girls?—MISS TERIOUS.

WHY is it that a man declares he favors the modestly garbed maiden, and when he meets one, does not even notice her?—B. WILDERED.

WHY do some people call the Swedes squareheads? — WOBURN SQUAREHEAD.

—WHY also appears every Sunday in the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Ye TOWNE GOSSIP

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By K. C. B.

SOMEWHERE IN THE WEST.

FREDDY WELSH,
EX-LIGHTWEIGHT champion,
THE WELSH Health
Farm,
SUMMIT, N. J.
MY DEAR Freddie,
SIX YEARS ago,
ONE AFTERNOON,
IN SAN Francisco,
YOU CALLED me up,
FROM YOUR hotel,
TO SAY to me,
YOU WERE going away,
AND YOU had a carriage,
A BABY carriage,
AND WANTED to know
IF I might find
SOME WORTHY baby,
TO GIVE it to.
AND I said I would,
AND I went around,
TO YOUR hotel,
AND GOT the thing,
AND WHEELED it home,
AND MET everybody,
I HAD ever known,
AND, ANYWAY,
I FOUND a home,
WHERE THEY needed it,
AND THE mother came,
AND WHEELED
It off,
AND WAS very glad,
AND SO was I,
AND FORGOT about it,
UNTIL TODAY,
WHEN A gentleman called,
AT MY hotel,
AND HE was the father,
OF THE worthy baby,
TO WHOM was given,
YOUR BABY carriage,
AND THE kid's a boy,
AND HE'S seven years old,
AND THE father says,
HE'S THE scrappiest
kid,
ON HIS whole street,
AND HE thinks it's the carriage,
THAT MADE him that way,
AND WE laughed
about it,
AND HE made me promise,
I'D WRITE to you,
BECAUSE HE thinks,
YOU'D LIKE to know,
THAT THE boy who rode,
IN THE carriage you gave,
IS REALLY and truly,
A VERY good boy,
AND NOT too scrappy,
AND FULL of love,
A PART of which,
HE SENDS to you,
THROUGH ME.

I THANK you.

HARD WORK REQUIRED FOR BIG REWARDS

By Beatrice Fairfax

A FEW nights ago I attended a banquet in honor of a pioneer in his particular field.

This man who was acclaimed by every speaker and honored by every guest, has starved and struggled and climbed. He has known disappointment and failure. He has worked and worked again with hunger and failure and dust grinning at his elbow and scoffers jeering at his back.

They say he has succeeded because he has a genius for work.

I say he has succeeded because he has a genius for smiling in the face of defeat.

"Nobody earns an easy living," smiles a tragic failure in a great but little known book.

Work Is Hard

Work isn't easy. It's hard to go on striving and striving in any case. But it's twice as hard to go on working when there are no results to justify that work in the eyes of the world, or to encourage the worker himself to go on spending himself and his strength.

At this banquet were six or seven unaffected, charming girls, who sat at the long "guest table." They were known everywhere the screen can carry evidence of their grace and art. At eleven the banquting and speechmaking were over and the dancing began. And then every one of those pretty girls went home.

Snobbish? No. Bored? Never! Just compelled to get to bed early because work begins at nine in the morning.

One beautiful young creature who has earned her ermine coat and her pearl-shaped diamond ring said to me:

"I have to get up at seven mornings now. Shower, exercise, breakfast, a little time to get into my street clothes, and then off I hop to the studio. I can't ever stay up after midnight. I'd be tired and look tired, and then what would become of my work?"

Early to Bed

You see, these stars you envy have to get to bed early and live on non-fattening foods, and work nine or ten hours a day and subject themselves to all sorts of discipline. Beauty isn't enough. Add brains, and even that won't total up to a success. There must be work and the ability to deny self and accept discipline and follow rules and conquer failure.

The professions which bring big rewards require hard work and constant effort and great sacrifice.

"Nobody earns an easy living." "Cinch jobs" are paid in accordance. Big jobs are earned in terms of heart blood and held on a basis of constant sacrifice.

Letters to the Editor

Needs of Our Ex-Soldiers

Editor Boston American:

One hundred and thirty-eight years ago Washington wrote of the Revolutionary Army:

"Some men (and leading ones, too) in this army are beginning to entertain suspicions that Congress, or some members of it, regardless of the past sufferings and present distress, maugre the justice which is due to them, and the returns which a grateful people should make to men who certainly have contributed, more than any other class, to the establishment of independency."

This national reproach, which is not without interest and significance today, in view of the seeming indifference of our country to the needs and sufferings of our wounded and disabled soldiers, was occasioned by a letter of Alexander Hamilton, who wrote to his excellency as "a soldier who feels what is due to an army which has suffered everything, and done much for the safety of America."

"I sincerely wish," Hamilton says further, ingratitude was not so natural in the human heart as it is. I sincerely wish there were no seeds of it in those who direct the councils of the United States. But while I urge the army to moderation, and advise your excellency to take the direction of their discontents, and endeavor to confine them within the bounds of duty, I cannot, as an honest man, conceal from you that I am afraid their distrusts have too much foundation. Republican jealousy has in it a principle of hostility to an army, whatever be their merits, whatever be their claims to the gratitude of the community, is acknowledged their services with unwillingness, and rewards them with reluctance."

Must our great and prosperous country accept this indictment of ingratitude, or shall we, as Washington advises, consult the wishes of our ex-soldiers, which are moderate in the mode, and perfectly compatible with the honor, dignity and justice, which is due from the country?

G. M. CAREY.

GAMBLERS' MONEY IS SPENT ON SCIENCE

THE uses to which men put money when they get it are as varied as human desires or ambitions. When the name of the Prince of Monaco is mentioned everyone thinks only of the gambling palace which he owns on the Mediterranean Sea. That most famous gambling resort in the world, where millions are wasted annually by profligate or idle or curious travelers from all countries, has made the Prince fabulously rich.

But how does His Serene Highness Albert I., Prince of Monaco, spend his profits, derived from the vice of gambling? Does he spend it in gambling, or for wine, women and song? Not at all. He despises gambling and gamblers. Science is the only thing that interests him.

Mysterious Depths

The life swimming in the deep sea, the mysterious and unaccountable ocean currents that affect all mariners, have been his life study. He has built and equipped, wholly at his own expense, three steamships, each one larger than the other, each with new, especially designed, expensive equipment, to explore the depth of the seas.

He has himself spent weeks and months in divers' suits, with intense physical suffering at times, enduring unusual hardships, even risking his life, to make discoveries valuable to science and to mariners.

One of the "deeps," or great depressions, in the Atlantic Ocean is called "Monaco Deep," given in honor of the Prince.

Receives Honor

He has now come to the United States to receive one of the highest scientific distinctions in the world, the Agassiz Medal, decreed by the great American naturalist, to be given only in recognition of the highest scientific achievement.

The use made by the owner of the Monte Carlo "gambling hell" of his wealth, his unremitting quest for pure scientific discovery, shows how infinitely varied are the passions, the weaknesses, the ambitions of men—as sharp in contrast as the seething passions and excitement of the salle de jeu at Monte Carlo with the motionless silence of the depths of the ocean.

Huge Ape Acts as Burglar

All was silence.

Within the little bedroom the couple slept. Outside the open window the branches of a tall tree close by swayed gently in the night wind, and the moonlight filtered in with benign and gentle rays.

Then suddenly a great hairy arm reached in. Gently and with practiced touch it pushed the window to its widest extent. A great ugly, demoniac face peered in, then huge shoulders lifted, and a creature bigger, more terrible than a man, as hideous as a nightmare, followed and stole cunningly into the room.

Young Mrs. Grossman sat up suddenly. She thought it was all a dream. Then she screamed—the creature was there; it moved; and she was awake! Her husband started up, automatically seizing his revolver, and he fired point-blank at the animal. With a scream of pain it disappeared through the open window.

Then it invaded the house below. Finally it took five policemen to capture it. It was a huge ape, which a former owner had evidently trained to open a cunningly as a "second-story man."

You've read Edgar Allan Poe's celebrated "Murders of the Rue Morgue." Here is a tale even stranger—though without the tragedy in which Poe's story terminated, or, rather, with which it began. Only this story is—true. A thrilling feature of next Sunday's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

The famous novelist, Elinor Glyn, writes brilliantly of "The Way to Happiness" next Sunday. She knows the secret—she tells the way!

"New Summer Walking Suits," designed by the master hand of "Lucile," are not only strikingly attractive, but are very practical. In next Sunday's Advertiser.

How the International Church Film Corporation is using motion pictures to spread the gospel is an interesting and instructive article which will make good Sunday reading.

Peggy Hopkins' latest matrimonial adventures—or mis-adventures—inspire a clever writer to wonder if in real life she is but playing the part which was her most famous stellar vehicle—"It Pays to Flirt." But does it—even in Peggy's own case? Read what the writer of next Sunday's article says.

Not to forget to mention the comics, which are better than ever, and many other features, including Audrey Munson's recital of life as an artist's model.